(2) Where the amount of any deposit to be made under this Scheme contains a part of a rupee, then, if such part is fifty naye paise or more, it shall be increased to one complete rupee and if such part is less than fifty naye paise, it shall be ignored.

4. Manner of deposit.—(1) Every person to whom this Scheme applies shall make an application in Form A, or as near thereto as may be, to a deposit office through his employer for opening an account under this Scheme in his name:

Provided that where an employee is a minor, the employer shall make an application for opening an account in the name of the employee under this Scheme.

(2) The amount to be deposited under sub-paragraph (1) shall be deducted from the salary payable to the depositor by the employer.

(3) The employer shall forward to the deposit office the application, along with the amount of the deposit and a statement in Form F, in duplicate or, where required, in triplicate, of all the deductions made by him.

(4) On receipt of an application under sub-paragraph (3) together with the amount of deposit, the deposit office shall open an account in the name of the depositor and issue a pass book in his name wherein all amounts deposited shall be entered over the signature of the officer in charge with the date stamp. The pass book shall be sent to the employer.

(5) All subsequent deposits shall be accompanied by the pass book and a statement in Form F together with the amount of deposit.

(6) The deductions made by the employer from the salary of a depositor shall be remitted to the deposit office not later than fourteen days from the date on which the deduction is made:

Provided that if the salary is paid more than once in a month, the period of fourteen days shall be reckoned from the date on which the salary is last paid in that month:

Provided further that the deductions made in the month of March shall be deposited with the deposit office before the end of that month.

(7) The employer shall remit all the amounts deducted by him to the deposit office not more than once in a month except that in the month of March two remittances may be made and the provisions of sub-paragraph (5) shall apply accordingly.

(8) Every deposit shall be made in cash, or by crossed cheque drawn in favour of the deposit office on a bank at the place where the deposit office is situated, into the office at which the account stands:

Provided that where the deposit is made into a post office such deposit may be made by cheques only at places where clearing house facilities are available.

(9) The Officer in charge of the deposit office shall return to the employer one copy of the statement in Form F duly signed with the date stamp and retain with him the other copy or copies, as the case may be.

5. Transfer of accounts.—Where any employee is transferred from one office to another, the account of that employee under this Scheme may be transferred if the account was opened with—

(i) the post office, to another post office,

(ii) the office of the Reserve Bank of India, to another office of that Bank,

(iii) any branch or office of the State Bank of India or its subsidiary bank, to any of its other branches or offices, situated in the place in which the office to which the employee is transferred is located.

6. Custody of pass books.—(1) The pass book shall be kept in the custody of the employer but shall be available for inspection by the employee at all reasonable times.

(2) The employer shall hand over the pass book to the employee on his retirement or on the termination of his employment and in the event of the death of the employee, to the nominee or the heir of the deceased employee after obtaining a receipt for it.

7. Issue of duplicate pass book.—In the event of loss or destruction of the pass book, a duplicate thereof shall be issued by the deposit office, on application made to it together with a fee of Re. 1 by the employer.

8. Interest.—The deposit made under this Scheme shall bear simple interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum to be calculated from the first day of the month immediately following the month in which the deposit is made to the last day of the month immediately preceding the month in which it is repaid (both days inclusive) and the amount of such interest shall be free of any tax under the Income-tax Act, 1961.

9. Repayments.—(1) Subject to the provisions contained in sub-paragraph (2), any deposit made under this Scheme during any year shall be repayable with interest thereon at the office at which the account stands after the expiry of five years from the end of the year in which the deposit was made:

Provided that where the amount repayable stands in the name of a person who is a minor, the repayment may be made only to his parent or guardian:

Provided further that on his attaining majority under the Indian Majority Act, 1875 (9 of 1875), repayment shall be made to him on his being identified to the satisfaction of the officer in charge of the deposit office.

(2) The depositor or, in the event of his death, his nominee or heir may apply to the deposit office for earlier repayment of the amount standing to the credit of the depositor. The Officer in charge of the deposit office shall, after verifying the account of the depositor forward the application to the authority empowered by the Central Government in this behalf. On receipt of the application, the authority shall, by order in writing, authorise the deposit office to repay the deposit together with interest thereon, if the authority is satisfied that genuine hardship would be caused unless such earlier repayment is made.

(3) The repayment of a deposit shall be made only on the production of the pass book accompanied by an application in Form C, or as near thereto as may be.

10. Nomination.—(1) A depositor who is an individual may nominate in Form D or as near thereto as may be one or more persons who shall be entitled to receive the amount at the credit of his account together with interest thereon, in the event of his death before the amount has become payable or, having become payable, has not been paid.

(2) Where the deposit together with the interest thereon is payable to two or more nominees and either or any of them is dead, the amount shall be paid to the surviving nominee or nominees.

(3) A nomination made by a depositor may be cancelled or varied by a fresh nomination in Form E, or as near thereto as may be, by giving notice in writing to the deposit office in which the account stands.

(4) Every nomination and every cancellation or variation thereof shall be registered in the deposit office and shall be effective from the date of such registration, the particulars of which shall be entered in the pass book.

(5) If the nominee is a minor, the depositor may appoint any person to receive the amount due under the account, in the event of his death during the minority of the nominee.

(6) No nomination shall be made in respect of an account opened and held on behalf of a minor during the period of his minority.

11. Protection against attachment.—The amount standing to the credit of any depositor shall not be liable to attachment under any decree or order of any court in respect of any debt or liability incurred by the depositor.

12. Scheme not to apply in certain cases.—(1) If in any year in which this Scheme is in force, a person referred to in sub-paragraph (3) of paragraph 1, pays in the aggregate a sum which is not less than eleven per cent. of the annual income from salary—

(i) to effect or to keep in force any insurance on the life of such person or on the life of the wife or husband of such person; or

(ii) as a contribution to any provision fund to which the Provident Funds Act, 1925 (19 of 1925), applies or to any "recognised provident fund" as defined in clause (38) of section 2 of the Income-tax Act, 1961; or

(iii) in a ten-year account or a fifteen-year account under the Post Office Savings Bank (cumulative Time Deposit) Rules, 1959, as amended from time to time; he shall not be liable to make any deposit under paragraph 3 for that year.

(2) Every such person shall give a declaration in writing to his employer before the payment of his salary for the first time in the month of April that he would pay, during the course of the year, the sum referred to and in one or more investments specified in sub-paragraph (1). If the amount proposed to be paid by the depositor works out to not less than eleven per cent. of his annual income from salary, the employer shall not make any deduction from the salary of that person for the purposes of this Scheme:

Provided that for the year 1963-64 such a declaration shall be made by every such person before the payment of his salary in the month of July 1963.

(3) The employer shall verify, during the course of the year but not later than the date on which the salary is paid in the last month of the year, whether the employee has paid the amounts according to his declaration. Where the amounts so paid fall short of eleven per cent. of his annual income from salary for that year, the employer shall deduct the full amount of the deposit referred to in sub paragraph (1) of paragraph 3, from the salary payable to him in the last month of that year.

13. Production of documents by employers.—The employer shall whenever required to do so produce to such authority or authorities as may be specified by the Central Government in this behalf all documents relating to the deductions made for the purposes of the deposits under this Scheme from the salary of such of his employees as are liable to make such deposits and to the remittance thereof to the deposit office in accordance with paragraph 4.

Note explaining the Compulsory Deposit Schemes relating to Income-tax payers and employees in receipt of annual salaries of Rs. 1,500 or above but who are not subject to income-tax received with the Government of India, Ministry of Finance (Department of Economic affairs) O.M. No. F3(b)-NS/63, dated 30th May 1963.

The deposits under the two Schemes will be accepted at all Head Post Offices and Departmental Sub Post Offices and all offices of the Reserve Bank of India and branches of the State Bank of India and its subsidiary banks other than those which are specifically excluded for this purpose. The depositors will be issued a separate pass book in each case and the amount in deposit, together with simple interest at 4 per cent. per annum, will be repaid five years after the end of the year in which the moneys were deposited. The interest will be free of income-tax. The Schemes provide for the declaration of nominees to whom payments will be made in the event of the death of the depositors without the production of succession certificates or other legal proof of title. The deposits are exempt from attachment under any decree or order of any Court in respect of any debt or liability incurred by the depositors.

2. The other salient features of the two Schemes are:

(A) Scheme for income-tax payers

(1) The Scheme does not impose any obligation on the employer to make any deductions on account of compulsory deposits from the monthly salary paid by him to his employees who are subject to income-tax. The assessees themselves will be responsible for depositing the amounts under the Scheme at the deposit offices of their choice any time during the course of the financial year but not more than once a month. The deposit offices will issue separate receipts for each deposit made with them and also show the deposit in the pass book. The depositors will be expected to make over these receipts to the Income-tax Department as proof of having made the compulsory deposit for claiming deduction from additional surcharge payable by them.

(2) It will thus follow that in so far as Government servants or employees of public sector undertakings who are liable for the payment of income-tax are concerned, no deduction will be made at source and the transactions connected with the compulsory deposits will not in any way enter the pay bills of the persons concerned.

(B) Scheme for employees

(1) This Scheme applies to employees of—

(a) Central and State Governments;

(b) Local Authorities;

(c) Companies, including foreign Companies and Government Companies;

(d) Corporations, including co-operative societies; and

(e) individuals, associations of persons or bodies of individuals liable to payment of income-tax and entitled to deduct the salary paid to their employees for purposes of computing their income;

whose annual income from salaries is Rs. 1,500 or above but who are not subject to income-tax.

(2) The Scheme imposes an obligation on the employer to make deductions of compulsory deposits at source at the time of payment of salary to their employees in all such cases. An exemption has, however, been allowed in the case of employees who will be contributing during the year a sum not less than eleven per cent. of their income from salaries in the form of life insurance premia, contribution to Provident Fund and deposits in the 10 and 15-year Cumulative Time Deposits with the Post Offices. In their case, no recovery of compulsory deposit will be enforced.

(3) The Head of Office shall obtain a declaration in writing from each of his employees who is otherwise liable for the payment of compulsory deposit, before the payment of his salary for the first time in the month of April of the amounts he would contribute as life insurance premia, Provident Fund subscription and deposits in the 10 and 15-year Cumulative Time Deposit accounts. For the year 1963-64, these declarations have to be made before the payment of salary in the month of July 1963. If the amount proposed to be paid by each such employee is not less than eleven per cent. of his annual income from salary for that year, no deduction for compulsory deposit shall be required to be made in respect of such employee for that year.

The Head of Office shall verify during the course of the year but not later than the date on which salary is paid in the last month of the year, whether the employee has paid the amounts according to his declaration. Where the amount so paid falls short of eleven per cent. of his annual income from salary for that year, the Head of Office shall deduct the full amount of the deposit payable for the year from the salary payable to the employee in the last month of that year.

(4) In all cases where the deposits have to be made, the Head of Office shall obtain an application from each of his employees, who is required under the Scheme to make a compulsory deposit, for opening an account with the deposit office, before drawing his salary for the month of June payable in July 1963 or, in the case of a person who is transferred to his Office or who is a fresh recruit and who has not already made any compulsory deposit, before the payment of his first month's salary.

(5) The amount of deposit shall be 3 per cent. of the annual income from salaries. In the case of the current financial year, however, as the scheme is being introduced with effect from 1st July, 1963, the total amount of compulsory deposits payable for the year will be limited to 2¼ per cent. of the annual income from salaries.

(6) The total amount payable for the year should be rounded to the nearest rupee and recovered in equal monthly instalments, provided the monthly recoveries also are made in whole rupees, the final adjustment being made in the deduction to be made from the salary for the month of February payable in March.

(7) As defined in section 3(e) of the Act, for purposes of this Scheme, the expression 'salary' has the same meaning as in section 17 of the Income-tax Act but does not include any gratuity or annuity or pension.

(8) Except in cases where it may otherwise be specifically authorised, the deductions on account of compulsory deposits shall not be shown in the pay bills but only in the acquittance rolls or office copies of the pay bills, where the latter are used for obtaining the quittance for the disbursement of the salaries. The deductions so made shall be listed out in a statement in Form F enclosed with the Scheme in duplicate or triplicate as may be required by the deposit office. The Head of Office shall arrange to deposit the deductions made by him on account of compulsory deposits with the deposit office within a period of 14 days of the disbursement of the salaries duly supported by the application forms in the case of first deposits and pass books for subsequent deposits and the schedule of deductions, one copy of which will be returned by the deposit office duly receipted.

(9) To avoid loss of interest to the depositor, all deductions made within a month should as far as possible be deposited with the deposit office within the same month. In the month of March, however, the Scheme requires the deposits to be made in that very month and not in the subsequent month, as otherwise repayment of deduction in the month of March would be postponed by another year.

(10) In cases where amounts for the disbursements of salaries are drawn on cheques issued by the Head of Office or by the Treasury Officer, as the case may be, the remittance of compulsory deposits into the deposit office may be made by cheques. For this purpose, the Treasury Officer can be asked to issue separate cheques representing the amount of the compulsory deposit deducted at source. In such cases also, the deductions will not be reflected in the pay bills except that the total amount of the pay bill will be drawn against two cheques.

(11) The pass books obtained from the deposit office shall be retained in the custody of the Head of Office who shall verify that the recoveries made every month have been duly entered in the pass books. The pass books will also be open for inspection by the employees, for which suitable facilities may be provided.

(12) On the termination of employment, the pass book shall be handed over to the employee against receipt. Thereafter the Head of Office will in no way be concerned with all subsequent transactions including the repayment of the deposits, which will have to be claimed directly from the deposit office by the depositor himself.

In the case of transfer of an employee to another Office, the Head of Office shall arrange for the transfer of the pass book along with the transfer documents of the employee to the office to which he is transferred. An acknowledgement may be obtained from the new Office and placed on record.

(13) The Head of Office shall also arrange to make available the pass book to the depositor to enable him to claim any repayment of the deposit from the deposit office, to which he may be entitled under the Scheme.

(14) The Head of Office shall be personally responsible for the deductions on account of compulsory deposits and for their prompt remittance to the deposit office and for the correctness of the amounts deposited. The records relating to these transactions will have to be made available to audit as and when required.

(15) In the case of employees who draw their own salary bills, the deposit will have to be made by the employees themselves every month in the deposit offices. The pass books issued by the deposit office will be retained by such employees but will be required to be produced for inspection of the Head of Office, who shall be responsible to verify that the deposits were being made regularly and correctly. For this purpose the Head of Office shall maintain a register in the form as in the annexure to this note.

3. The above instructions shall apply mutatis mutandis to all public sector enterprises under the control of the administrative Ministries.

Appeal from Original Decree (Election Appeal) No. 448 of 1962

Appeal against the decree of Shri S. K. Chakravartty, District Judge, Member, Election Tribunal of zillah Bankura, in Election Petition Suit No. 2 of 1962 (Election Petition No. 36 of 1962), dated the 30th of July 1962.

Adwaita Mondal, one of the Respondents, Appellant versus
Nakul Chandra Sahis, petitioner who appeared and ors., Respondents

For Appellant: Mr. Alak Gupta,
Mr. Deva Prosad Chowdhury.

For Respondent: Mr. A. C. Mitter.
Mr. Birendra Nath Banerjee.

P. N. Mookerjee, J.:

This is an election appeal under section 116A of the Representation of the People Act, 1951. The appellant was the successful candidate from the Jaipur Legislative Assembly constituency of West Bengal in the district of Purulia at the last General Election. The Election was held on February 21, 1962. There were several candidates, amongst whom, the appellant secured the highest number of votes, namely, 7,853, and was declared elected. The respondent No. 1 came second with 5,324 votes. The result of the Election was announced on February 26, 1962.

On April 7, 1962, the respondent No. 1, made this present application to have the appellant's above election declared void and to have a further declaration that he, the respondent No. 1, had been duly elected. The appellant's election was challenged on the ground that, on the date of the impugned election, he was not qualified and/or was disqualified to be chosen to fill the seat in question [vide section 100(1)(a) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951]. The challenge succeeded before the Election Tribunal. The appellant's election was declared void. The respondent No. 1—petitioner's further claim, however, to have himself declared duly elected, failed.

The appellant has now come up to this Court to have a reversal of the Tribunal's decision, declaring his election void. There is no cross-objection so that the respondent No. 1's further claim to get himself declared duly elected does no longer arise and we have not been addressed on that. The appeal has been argued only on the question whether the appellant's election was rightly declared void by the Election Tribunal but, on that point, the arguments have been full and at great length.

To appreciate the controversy between the parties, it is necessary to state certain facts.

The appellant belongs to the "Sunri (Excluding Saha)" Caste. Under the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, as amended by the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Lists (Modification)

Order, 1956, in relation to the State of West Bengal, "Sunri (Excluding Saha)" is a Scheduled Caste throughout the said State except in the district of Purulia and in the territories, transferred from the Purnea district of Bihar, or to be more precise, "Sunri (excluding Saha)" is a Scheduled Caste, so far as regards members thereof, resident throughout the State except the district of Purulia and the above transferred territories of Purnea district.

The appellant was recorded as an elector in the electoral roll of the Bundwan Legislative Assembly Constituency in the district of Purulia but, later on, on his own application, he was recorded as an elector in the electoral roll of the Ranibandh Legislative Assembly Constituency in the district of Bankura. His name in the Bundwan Electoral Roll, however, continued.

Presumably, on the strength of the entry of his name in the Ranibandh Electoral Roll, the appellant stood for the election, now in question, claiming to belong to the Scheduled Caste as a member of the "Sunri (excluding Saha)" Caste, resident in the district of Bankura, in Haludkanali in the said district, to be more exact. He filed his nomination paper on January 17, 1962, and it was accepted on scrutiny on January 22 following.

The appellant's election, as we have seen above, was challenged under section 100(1)(a) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, on the ground that, on the date of the election, he was not qualified and/or was disqualified to be chosen to fill the seat in question. To elaborate this, we may now turn to the details of the respondent No. 1's specific allegations or objections on that point. These are:

(1) that he (the appellant) was registered as an elector in two constituencies, Bundwan and Ranibandh, which is against law, and as such is a disqualification;

(2) that he was not "resident",—not to speak of "ordinarily resident",—in the district of Bankura but was "resident" and "ordinarily resident" in the district of Purulia and, accordingly, he was not entitled to be recorded or registered as an elector in the Ranibandh constituency in Bankura but was entitled to be and was duly recorded in the Bundwan constituency in Purulia. As such, he (appellant) could not claim to be a member of the Scheduled Caste with right to contest the reserved seat in question; and

(3) that, even if he was "resident" and "ordinarily resident" in Bankura and so entitled to be and was duly recorded in the Ranibandh Electoral Roll, he, however much he might claim to be a member of the Scheduled Caste, so far as that constituency is concerned, could not claim to be a scheduled caste for any constituency in Purulia district and contest the reserved seat in the Jaipur constituency in that district, as he would not be a member of the Scheduled Caste in relation to that constituency, which is in the district of Purulia, where the "Sunri (excluding Saha) Caste" would not be a Scheduled Caste.

Of the above, the first and the third objections were rejected by the Election Tribunal but the second succeeded before it. On this last question, the tribunal held that the appellant was not "ordinarily resident" in the district of Bankura but was "ordinarily resident" in the district of Purulia and, as such he was not entitled to be registered or recorded as an elector in the electoral roll of the Ranibandh assembly constituency under section 19 of the Representation of the People Act, 1950, and the entry of his name therein was illegal and could not confer on him any right or privilege. The Tribunal also expressed the view that there could be no doubt of the fact that the Election Tribunal had authority to question the validity of the inclusion of the name of the appellant in the electoral roll for the Ranibandh Legislative Assembly constituency.

In the above view, the Tribunal felt that the appellant could not claim to be a member of a Scheduled Caste as a Sunri, resident in Purulia, would not come within that class under the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, read with the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Lists (Modification) Order, 1956, and, accordingly, he was not eligible to stand for the impugned election, not being qualified, under section 5 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, to be chosen to fill the seat in question, which was a reserved seat for the Scheduled Caste.

In support of the appeal, Mr. Alak Gupta has placed before us several contentions, namely,—

(1) That the Tribunal below was wrong in holding that the appellant was not "resident" and/or "ordinarily resident" in Bankura district but was "resident" and/or "ordinarily resident" in the Purulia district.

(2) That the said Tribunal was also wrong in holding that it had jurisdiction to go into the question whether the appellant's name had been validly recorded in the electoral roll of the Ranibandh Legislative Assembly constituency and for determining, for that purpose, the question of his "residence" and "ordinarily residence" (vide section 19 of the Representation of the People Act, 1950).

(3) That the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, and its subsequent amendment by the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Lists (Modification) Order, 1956, were ultra vires in so far as they excluded, or, sought to exclude, "Sunri (excluding Saha)" from the category of Scheduled Castes in the district of Purulia.

The learned Standing Counsel, appearing on behalf of the contesting respondent No. 1, refuted Mr. Gupta's contentions and further contended that the Tribunal below ought to have found in favour of his client (respondent No. 1) on the other two points also, namely, that the appellant was not qualified and/or was disqualified to stand for the election in question by reason of his name having been entered in the electoral rolls of two Legislative Assembly constituencies, Bundwan and Ranibandh, in clear violation of section 17 of the Representation of the People Act, 1950, and on the ground of his not belonging to the Scheduled Caste for the further reason that, when, admittedly, he was ordinarily resident in Purulia district, when the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, and its 1956 modification came into force and, as such, was not a Scheduled Caste member, he could not, by moving into the Bankura territory, acquire such status.

On the above contentions, the principal point, which will arise for consideration will be the question of "residence" or "ordinarily residence" of the appellant at the relevant time, as involved in the first two grounds of the appellant, as, in our opinion, the other points, raised by the parties, do not have any substance. Our reasons for the above view we shall presently indicate.

On the question of ultra vires, the appellant has several formidable difficulties. This point was not raised before the Election Tribunal. It depends on proof of facts, which, so far as Article 14 of the Constitution is concerned, underlie the test of "reasonable classification" under the said Article. The onus is on the appellant and there are not even sufficient allegations to the effect that such facts did not exist or that the above test was not or could not be satisfied on facts. The further argument that the exclusion of the Purulia "Sunris" was in excess of the President's power under Article 341(1) is also untenable, as the power to classify in relation to States, obviously, includes such power in relation to parts of it, having regard, particularly, to the reference to 'localities' in the said Article. We do not also think that the appellant's other argument on this point that, in view of Article 341(2), the 1956 modification order, ushered in under a notification (notified order) simpliciter, would be bad, can be accepted, as the said notification was really part of the law, having been made under the authority of Parliament, as envisaged in section 14 of the Bihar and West Ben-Bengal Transfer of Territories Act and section 41 of the States Reorganisation Act, the said two sections, in their relevant parts, running as follows:

Section 14 of the Bihar and West Bengal Transfer of Territories Act.

> "Modification of the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes Orders: As soon as may be after the commencement of this Act, the President may, by notified order, make such modifications in the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950..... as he thinks fit, having regard to the transfer of territories effected by section 3."

Section 41 of the States Reorganisation Act

> "As soon as may be after the commencement of this Act, the President shall, by order make such modifications in the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, as he thinks fit having regard to the territorial changes and formation of new States under the provisions of Part II."

On the respondent's contention, based on section 17 of the 1950 Act, it is enough to say that that section is not concerned with the qualification or disqualification, contemplated under the relevant section 100(1)(a) of the 1951 Act, under which the instant election petition was made and which speaks of qualification or disqualification to be chosen to fill the seat in question under the Constitution or this (that is, the 1951) Act. This is apart from the reason, given by the Tribunal, that the appellant did all that he could do in the matter and the defect or irregularity or illegality, if any, was there in spite of him, due to remise on the part of the relevant authorities and, for this, he (the appellant) could not suffer. The respondent's other argument that status, once acquired, cannot be shed or changed by altering residence is also unsound, as the Constitution and the relevant laws do not forbid it.

The points thus that really require consideration are—

(a) whether the appellant's election can be set aside on the ground that he was not validly entered in the electoral roll of the Ranibandh constituency, assuming that he was not "ordinarily resident" within the same; and

(b) whether the appellant was "resident" and/or "ordinarily resident" in Bankura.

The first is, primarily, a question of law and the second, largely, a question of fact.

On the first point, it is necessary to consider some of the provisions of the law of election and, to that consideration, we shall immediately proceed.

The challenge to the appellant's election is under section 100(1)(a) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951, which runs as follows:

> "that on the date of his election a returned candidate was not qualified, or was disqualified, to be chosen to fill the seat under the Constitution of the Act []."

In the instant case, as we shall presently see, the question of constitutional qualification (vide Article 173) is not germane. We have, therefore, to confine ourselves to the Act of 1951. Under that Act, the qualification section is section 5, of which clause (a) alone is relevant for our present purpose. That clause lays down:

> "A person shall not be qualified to be chosen to fill a seat in the Legislative Assembly of a State unless—
> (a) in the case of a seat reserved for the Scheduled Castes or for the Scheduled Tribes of that State, he is a member of any of those castes or of those tribes, as the case may be, and is an elector for any Assembly constituency in that State."

It thus requires two qualifications:

(i) that the candidate concerned must be an 'elector' for an Assembly Constituency in the State, and

(ii) that he must be a member of a Scheduled Caste.

'Elector' is defined in section 2(e) of the above Act as follows:

> " 'elector' in relation to a constituency means a person whose name is entered in the electoral roll of that constituency for the time being in force and who is not subject to any of the disqualifications mentioned in section 16 of the Representation of the People Act, 1950 (43 of 1950);"

On the admitted fact that the appellant's name is borne on the roll of the Ranibandh Assembly Constituency, he would, obviously, be an elector for that Constituency. The first of the above two requisite qualifications would thus be satisfied by him.

On the second requisite, his residence, which may not, necessarily, be his "ordinary residence", would be important, as the question whether a particular person belongs to the Scheduled Caste or not would depend inter alia on his residence. [Vide the word

"resident" in paragraph 2 of the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950.] This question of residence—and of "ordinary residence" also, is the specific subject-matter of the other point (b), enumerated above, and we shall take it up along with the same. We would deal here with the contesting respondent's contention that, under section 100(1)(a) of the Act of 1951, also comes for consideration the 1950 Act, to wit, the qualifications, required thereunder for an elector. We are unable to accept this contention. The section refers to the Constitution and "this Act", that is, the Act of 1951. The relevant section (section 5) of this latter Act does not attract the 1950 Act except to the extent that the definition of "elector" in section 2(e) refers to it, namely, section 16. Nor does the relevant Article (Article 173) of the Constitution attract the same, as the particular clause concerned, namely, clause (c) of the said Article, refers to "such other qualifications as may be prescribed in that behalf by or under any law made by Parliament." The words "in that behalf" are significant as, obviously, they, in the context of the opening lines of the Article, refer to and mean "qualifications to be chosen to fill the seat in question", which can appropriately refer to the 1951 Act (vide section 5) and cannot refer to the 1950 Act, to wit, sections 17 and 19 thereof, relied on by the contesting respondent, on their very terms, as the same refer to and deal with registration in electoral rolls and conditions therefor. Objections, therefore, under the said provisions of this 1950 Act or non-compliance therewith will not be material for purposes of the above section 100(1)(a) of the 1951 Act and no such objection can be entertained in this proceeding [vide, in this connection, Ramdayal Ayodhyaprosad Gupta v. K. R. Pati and others, (1959) 20 E.L.R. 13, at pp. 33 and 35]. It is, therefore, unnecessary for us to consider whether the appellant was "ordinarily resident" at Haludkanali in Bankura to qualify him for enrolment as a voter of the Ranibandh Constituency. In that view, we do not feel called upon to examine section 36(7) of the 1951 Act or the decisions of the Supreme Court, cited before us on the point, namely, Durga Sankar Mehta v. Raghuraj Singh and other, A.I.R. 1954 S.C. 520, Brijendralal Gupta and another v. Jawalaprasad and other, A.I.R. 1960 S.C. 1049—22 E.L.R. 366, Jvoti Pershad and others v. Administrator to the Union Territory of Delhi and others, A.I.R. 1961 S.C. 1602. The ground, then, upon which the Tribunal below upset the appellant's election, cannot be sustained and the appellant cannot be unseated upon the view that he had not the requisite qualification of "ordinary residence" to have his name validly entered in the electoral roll of the Ranibandh Constituency. Indeed, the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to go into the said question and to question the validity of the said enrolment on the ground of the appellant's not "ordinarily residing" within the appropriate jurisdiction.

This brings us to the remaining point, namely (b), in the case which, as we have said above, is, largely or primarily, a question of fact. The point is about residence, which may or may not be "ordinary residence" but certainly not temporary in the sense of just a halting place, though not, necessarily, his sole or permanent residence. It may be a moot point for consideration here, whether if, as we have held above, the validity of the appellant's enrolment as a voter or elector of the Ranibandh Constituency cannot be questioned in this proceeding on the ground of his (appellant's) not having the requisite qualification of "ordinary residence" within that Constituency, it can still be held that he was not "ordinarily resident" within that area at least at the time when the said enrolment was made. But, for purposes of this case, we would not take the said matter as concluded and we will proceed to consider the question of the Appellant's "residence" and "ordinary residence" on the materials before us. On this question of residence, both parties have adduced evidence and the contesting respondent has also applied for reception of a list of Members of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, published by the West Bengal Assembly Secretariat (Secretary to the West Bengal Legislative Assembly) and corrected up to June 1, 1962, as additional evidence in this Court. Apart from the fact that this application for additional evidence does not contain all necessary allegations, which would justify reception of the additional evidence in question at this appellate stage, as, for example, that it was not available and could not be produced, when the case was pending before the Election Tribunal [vide in this connection Kachireddi Nagireddi v. Sakireddi China Narayanareddi and others, 31, C.W.N. 246 (P.C.)] and apart also from the fact that the rest of requirement of the Court, as laid down in Parsotim Thakur v. Lal Mohar Thakur, 35 C.W.N. 786 (P.C.) L.R. 58 I.A. 254, and Arjan Singh v. Kartar Singh and others, A.I.R. 1951 S.C. 193, is also not satisfied, we do not feel that this evidence as we read it (vide our analysis herein below), is so material—or, as the Privy Council puts it in Persotim's case, supra, has such "a direct and important bearing on a main issue in the case" (vide L.R. 58 I.A. 254 at p. 258),—as to permit its reception at this stage. It is to be remembered further that additional evidence should be admitted only sparingly and the Court's discretion in that behalf should be sparingly exercised. [Vide Parsotim and others v. Lal Mohar and others, L.R. 58 I.A. 84 at p. 88]. [See, also, on this question of additional evidence, Sir Md. Akbar Khan v. Mt Motai & Ors., 52 C.W.N. 132 (P.C.), Chaturbhuj Singh and others v. Govind Prasad Singh, 50 C.W.N. 2 (P.C.) p. 4 and State of U.P. v. Manbodhan Lal Srivastava, A.I.R. 1957 S.C. 912 at p. 915.] We would, accordingly, reject the contesting respondent's above application. We may just add further that the said additional evidence, which purports to give the appellant's permanent residence, presumably, for purposes of communication to him, would not necessarily be his sole and/or "ordinary residence" or residence for purposes of the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950. This, indeed, is clear from the other entries in the aforesaid list, which show, in certain cases, the party office as the permanent address of the particular candidate.

As to the other evidence on the above point of residence as they stand on the record, none of the contesting respondent's witnesses seems to be very competent or reliable and their evidence is not sufficient or convincing enough to prove the said respondent's case on the point.

Thus P.W. 1, the petitioner (respondent No. 1) himself, although he says, at one place, that the appellant has been residing at Sirisgora in Purulia, also says that he does not know if Adwaita (appellant) resides at mauza Haludkanali of Bankura. He also admits that he has never been to the house of Adwaita at Sirisgora and did not raise any objection to the appellant's nomination paper on the ground of his (appellant's) not being a resident of Haludkanali, although, it is quite apparent from his evidence, that that fact, if true, must have been known to him at the time.

P.W. 2 Lalit Kumar Haldar admits, even in his examination-in-chief, that he does not know if Adwaita (appallent) lives at Haludkanali, although, in his cross-examination, he tries to deny—and deny categorically—that Adwaita had been living at Haludkanali since the middle of 1956. On his own admission, he had never been to Haludkanali and he even tries to feign ignorance of the fact that the appellant was a member of the Lok Sevak Sangha. He seeks to hide,—though unsuccessfully—his connection with the rival party, namely, the Congress. Indeed, his cross-examination shows that he is not very straightforward in his deposition.

As to P.W. 3, Ajit Kumar Mondal, it is enough to say that his cross-examination sufficiently shows that he is not a candid or truthful or reliable witness. It is sufficiently clear also that he had long-standing enmity with the appellant.

The evidence of P.W. 4, O.C. of the Bundwan police-station is, to say the least, not satisfactory or sufficient to prove the appellant's residence at Sirisgora. Although, in his examination-in-chief, he tries to assert that Adwaita (appellant) lives at Sirisgora, he is shaken sufficiently by his cross-examination and he ultimately stands more or less a formal witness. We have also grave doubts as to whether the G.D. entries, referred to in the deposition of this witness (P.W. 4), upon the record as it stands, would be evidence—at all or of any weight,—against the appellant.

P.W. 5 Amarendra Nath Mandal does not impress us as a witness of truth. In his examination-in-chief, he tries to make out that Gobardhan Mondal is a distant uncle of the appellant Adwaita but, in cross-examination, he is forced to admit that Gobardhan is the first cousin of Adwaita's father. He is an active member of the Congress and has connections, not well-disposed towards the appellant. He admits, further, that he was the Secretary of the Ranibandh Union Board and that "a copy of the voters' list of Ranibandh Constituency was received at our Union Board office and duly published." Yet admittedly, no objection was taken against the entry of the appellant's name therein.

P.W. 6 Gour Hari Mondal makes a significant admission that, at times, Adwaita comes at Haludkanali and stays with his uncle Gobardhan, which may very well mean that Adwaita was residing at Haludkanali, though not permanently.

P.W. 7 Abadhouta Mondal also makes a similar admission and further admits that the ancestral house of Gobardhan, who has a common ancestor (paternal grandfather) with Adwaita's father, is at Haludkanali.

These are all the witnesses, examined by the contesting respondent, on whom, as the Tribunal below has rightly observed lies heavily the onus to show that the inclusion of the appellant's name in the electoral roll for the Ranibandh Constituency was wrong or, in other words, that he was not a resident or an ordinary resident of Haludkanali. To say the least, the above witnesses do not sufficiently discharge that onus, and the documentary evidence also, adduced by the said respondent, which we shall discuss hereinafter, after laying down the appropriate context or its understanding, does not, as we shall presently see, materially aid him and alter the position.

On the other hand, we see no reason to disbelieve the appellant's witnesses, particularly his witness No. 3 Dr. Abadhouta Mallik, a registered medical practitioner, and appellant's witness No. 2, Gobardhan Mondal, and the documentary evidence, adduced on his behalf, (vide, in particular, Exts. B & C). Ext. B cannot be put aside on the ground, as done by the learned Tribunal below, that it does not show the residence of the person concerned, for it clearly shows such residence. Nor can Ext. C be rejected as untrustworthy. The respondent's suggestion that it might have been a letter, meant and addressed to the appellant's name-sake in Haludkanali, cannot be accepted, as the said person is a brother of P.W. 7 and so the suggestion, if true, could easily have been better substantiated by the contesting respondent.

While on the above, it is important to note that, according to the appellant, his request for entering his name in the Ranibandh electoral roll was made to Probodh Mondal, who was the Secretary of the local Mandal Congress Committee (vide P.W. 6). This he said in his examination-in-chief. There was no cross-examination on the point. The relative application (Ext. D) specifically stated that he (appellant) was, at the time, ordinarily resident at Haludkanali, while mentioning also that he might have been entered in the electoral roll of the Bundwan Legislative Assembly Constituency in Purulia as resident of Sirisgora, but no objection was taken and his name was entered in the Ranibandh electoral roll. No objection also appears to have been taken when he was nominated for the present impugned election, although, in the relevant nomination paper (Ext. 10) too; he was described as ordinarily resident at Haludkanali. It is not the respondent's case that the alleged falsity of the above statement or description was not known to him at the time, and the records would not justify such assumption. The mere fact, again, that the appellant's wife was entered as a voter of the Bundwan Electoral roll as resident of Sirisgora, would not necessarily contradict the appellant's evidence that she, with some of her children, lives at Gunpura at his father-in-law's place, particularly when the appellant's ancestral house is at Sirisgora. If, as we think, this latter fact can explain the entry of the appellant's name in the said electoral roll, it can also explain his wife's.

We will turn now to the documentary evidence, adduced by the contesting respondent No. 1. Of the said evidence, the important items (Exts. 1, 4 series, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 11) have been referred to and/or relied upon by the learned Tribunal below but it seems to us that, even apart from the explanation, given by the appellant in respect of the same, it is reasonably clear that they do not necessarily show that the appellant's "residence" or "ordinary residence" was at Sirisgora and not at Haludkanali.

It is part of the appellant's case that his ancestral house was at Sirisgora and four of his sons lived with their uncle (appellant's brother, who is separate from their father) at the latter's residence, which also was at Sirisgora, for their studies. His case, however, is that, so far as he is concerned, he lives and carries on business at Haludkanali. If, as we have said above, the appellant's evidence, sufficiently proves this part of his case, the above exhibits would not necessarily contradict or disprove the same and there is no inherent inconsistency between the two. The only result would be that the appellant would be a "resident" of both the places, Sirisgora and Haludkanali, and an "ordinary resident" of either place, sufficiently within the meaning of the relevant statute (the 1950 Act). "Ordinary residence" does not connote or require permanent and/or sole residence and the relevant test will be amply satisfied in the present case by both Sirisgora and Haludkanali, so far as the appellant is concerned. In any event the requirement of residence for purposes of section 5(a) of the 1951 statute, read with the Constitution (Scheduled Castes) Order, 1950, would be amply satisfied by the appellant's residence at Haludkanali (Ranibandh) in the instant case.

In the above view, we would hold that the onus, which, even according to the Tribunal below, lay upon the contesting respondent to prove that the appellant was not "resident" or "ordinarily resident" of Haludkanali at the relevant time, has not been discharged but, on the other hand, the appellant has succeeded in proving such residence and this point of residence must, therefore, be answered against the contesting respondent and in favour of the appellant.

We would, accordingly, allow this appeal, set aside the order of the Tribunal below, declaring the impugned election void, and dismiss the contesting respondent No. 1's election petition. In the circumstances of this case, however, there will be no order for costs, either in this court or in the Tribunal below, or, in other words, the parties will bear their own costs throughout.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No. 2047-I.R.|IR|11L-57(A)|62.—21st May 1963. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 3855-I.R.|IR|11L-57(A)|62 dated the 31st August 1962, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Titaghur Paper Mills Co. Ltd. (No. 2 Mill), P.O. Kankinarah, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Bengal Kagajkal Mazdur Union, 10 Bustee Lane, P.O. Kankinarah, district 24-Parganas, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Ram Chandra Paul, a workman, of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had dismissed the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed by Shri Ram Chandra Paul, an employee of Messrs. Titaghur Paper Mills Ltd, No. 2 Mill, Kankinarah, against the aforesaid Company in connection with the case referred under G.O. No. 3855-I.R., dated 31st August 1962, before the Tribunal. (Case No. 102 of 1962 under section 33A.)

Present:

Shri N. B. CHOUDHURY, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri R. Goswami, Assistant Legal Adviser of Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

For the applicant: Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by one Ram Chandra Paul complaining that his employer—the Opposite Party—has contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Act during the pendency of an industrial dispute before this Tribunal, and dismissed him wrongly and illegally. The applicant's case may be stated in short as follows:

The applicant was working as a Clerk under the Opposite Party Company and rendered honest and faithful service since 1945. On 20th August 1962 a charge-sheet was issued against him on the allegation of his passing a fictitious bill. It is submitted that the charge was wholly baseless and false. The applicant submitted a reply to the charge denying the allegation. The management thereafter started an enquiry on the 29th August 1962 and severely interrogated him. It is urged that this enquiry, if concluded, would reveal the innocence of this applicant. So all on a sudden the Company dropped the proceeding altogether and issued a fresh charge-sheet against him on 2nd October 1962 on a false charge of gross negligence of duty. The applicant submitted a fresh explanation denying the charge. Yet the management started a fresh enquiry and subjected this applicant to further harassing interrogation on a number of dates. The so-called enquiry was however sham and mere eyewash and the applicant was not afforded any opportunity to defend himself. The applicant could not examine any witness also in defence. The applicant was however dismissed from service by the Company by its letter, dated 18th October 1962, without any sufficient reason. It is contended that the real conspirators, if any, were in the head office of the Company and this applicant has been made a scpaegoat and thus illegally dismissed by way of victimisation alone.

The Opposite Party Company files its written statement and its case may briefly be stated as follows:

The applicant Shri Ram Chandra Paul was a Bill Clerk in No. 2 Mill, Kakinarah, of this Company. It was detected at the head office that bill No. 237|61-62 of 29th June 1962 for Rs 7,457.12 nP. was a duplicate bill of two previous bills which had already been paid by the Company. At a preliminary enquiry held at the head office in this connection it was clear that Shri Paul did not connect the said bill with the Goods Receipt Notes at the mill though it was his normal duty under the ordinary established procedure. Thus his gross negligence of duty was the real reason for double payment over this duplicate bill. If he would connect the duplicate bill with the G.R.N. (Goods Receipt Notes) he could easily detect that the bill was already paid for. There was a fair and proper enquiry against Shri Paul in this respect and he was afforded all opportunities for defending himself. The enquiry officer found him guilty and the management accepted the findings and dismissed him for valid reasons. Thus it is urged the applicant is not entitled to any relief under section 33A.

The points for consideration in this case are:

(1) Whether there has been a contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act as alleged by the applicant;

(2) Whether there was a fair and impartial enquiry against Shri Paul;

(3) Whether the charge levelled against him has been established beyond reasonable doubt;

(4) Whether this Tribunal has any sufficient reason for interfering with the management decision in respect of Shri Paul.

Decisions

I take up all the four points together for the sake of brevity and convenience of discussion only. There is no doubt that Shri Paul was an employee of the Company in its Kakinarah Mill. It is also admitted that he was working in the mill premises in its Bill Section. Shri Paul has been dismissed from service on 18th October 1962. It is also not in dispute that an industrial dispute between the Company and its workmen was pending before this Tribunal at the time Shri Paul was dismissed. Shri Paul was evidently dismissed on the alleged ground that he was found guilty of gross negligence in performance of his duty and this alleged misconduct was surely not connected with the dispute that was pending before this Tribunal at the relevant time. So there is no escape from the conclusion that the management or the Company was bound to seek approval of the dismissal of Shri Paul before this Tribunal. The fact remains that the Company never sought approval of this Tribunal for dismissing Shri Paul. So I can at once hold that in fact there has been contravention of section 32 of the Act in this respect. But it is the accepted principle of law by now that Shri Paul is not entitled to any relief before this Tribunal simply because the Company has contravened the provisions of section 33 in not seeking approval of the punishment inflicted on him. If the charge levelled against Shri Paul has really been established before the domestic Tribunal or if the evidences adduced before this Tribunal are sufficient to establish the charges against him, this Tribunal will have no jurisdiction to interfere with the management decision in spite of technical contravention if any of the provision of section 33 of the Act. In that view of the matter it is incumbent on this Tribunal to look into the merit of the charge levelled against Shri Paul.

Both the parties have adduced oral and documentary evidence before this Tribunal in respect of the charge or charges levelled against Shri Paul. From Ext. B read with the oral evidences of the parties it will be clear that Shri Paul was at first charged with conspiracy to commit a mischief and a charge-sheet was issued against him on 20th August 1962. Shri Paul submitted his reply also to this charge-sheet on 21st August 1962 (vide Ext. 2). In that charge-sheet Shri Bijoy Kumar Dey Sarkar and Shri Golok Behari Chatterjee, two employees of the Head Office of the Company, were mentioned as co-conspirators with Shri Paul. After this charge-sheet a departmental enquiry was also started against Shri Paul and the statements of the said two co-conspirators as well as Shri Paul were recorded on different dates. For some reason or other the management later decided to drop these proceedings and withdraw the charge-sheet already issued against Shri Paul. On 2nd October 1962 the management, however, issued a fresh charge-sheet against Shri Paul (vide Ext. A1) for gross negligence in performance of his duty. Shri Paul was afforded an opportunity to submit a reply to this charge-sheet also and Ext. A, dated 3rd October 1962, is a copy of the reply submitted by Shri Paul. The management was not evidently satisfied with this reply of Shri Paul and there was some sort of enquiry in respect of this charge-sheet also. On 16th October 1962 Shri Paul was examined afresh in respect of the second charge-sheet issued against him. No further evidence was adduced by either party in this respect and the enquiry officer Shri O. P. Bhatnagar submitted a report finding Shri Paul guilty of the charge levelled against him on 2nd October 1962. The management accepted the finding and passed an order of dismissal. The question therefore arises whether this order of dismissal passed by the management against Shri Paul can be supported.

It is no doubt an accepted principle of law that an employer has every right to take disciplinary action against his employee for bona fide reasons, but this right to take disciplinary action is no longer unrestricted and the present state of law is that Industrial Tribunal has jurisdiction to interfere with the management decision under certain circumstances. The grounds on which an Industrial Tribunal can interfere have been elaborately discussed and laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Indian Iron & Steel Co. versus their workmen (A.I.R. 1958 S.C. 130) and many other subsequent decisions. I need not discuss in details what are the grounds on which the Tribunal or the Labour Court can interfere. Want of good faith, victimisation or unfair labour practice, basic error of violation of rules of natural justice and perversity of findings are broadly the reasons on which the Tribunal can actually interfere. In all these types of grounds the requirement of bona fides is essential. Termination of service in colourable exercise of power or as a result of victimisation should be prevented. Arbitrary conduct or unnecessary harphness on the part of the employer judged by the normal standard of reasonable man may also be considered a cogent evidence of victimisation or unfair labour practice. Judging by all these standards the Tribunal has to see if the punishment of dismissal inflicted on Shri Paul can be sustained. First objection that is raised against the management decision is that the departmental enquiry itself was invalid or void. It is urged that the original charge-sheet was issued against Shri Paul on 20th August 1962. It is also a fact that a charge-sheet was again issued against him on 2nd October 1962. The learned Advocate for Shri Paul urges before me that in view of the decision in Punjab National Bank case reported in 1959, II, L.L.J 666 the management had no right to punish Shri Paul by adding a second charge subsequently. In other words, the contention is that the punishment on the ground of second charge-sheet was itself illegal. But to me it appears that the decision in Punjab National Bank case in this respect does not apply to the present case as the facts and circumstances are quite different. In the Punjab National Bank case a charge-sheet was issued against certain persons and an enquiry was started on the basis of that charge-sheet. In course of enquiry some other charges were made out against the dilinquents and punishment was inflicted on account of these added charges though these added charges never found place or mention in the original charge-sheet issued. But in the present case there was no doubt a charge-sheet on 220th August 1962 but the charge-sheet was ultimately superseded and the charge-sheet itself was withdrawn. On 2nd October 1962 the Company issued a fresh charge-sheet and this was a new charge-sheet for all legal purposes. The charge-sheeted person Shri Paul was afforded all opportunities to defend himself against this new charge-sheet. Actually he submitted a reply also. So the second charge- on the basis of second charge-sheet cannot be said to be an addition to the original charge-sheet issued against Shri Paul. The Company has every right to withdraw a certain charge-sheet and issue a fresh charge-sheet on a different ground subsequently. So I think the issue of second charge-sheet against Shri Paul is not sufficient to defeat the departmental enquiry or its findings.

The next contention of the workman is that the departmental enquiry made by Shri Bhatnagar is neither proper nor legal. The departmental enquiry has been challenged on various grounds. Shri Paul in his deposition states that the departmental enquiry was actually conducted by different enquiry officers on different dates and this is neither legal nor fair. But Shri Bhatnagar in his deposition swears that the enquiry against Shri Paul was made by him alone and nobody else. In fact the departmental proceedings (Ext. E series) show that the entire proceedings were recorded by Shri Bhatnagar alone and nobody else. In fact except on the last date, proceedings and statements recorded on earlier dates were signed by Shri Paul himself. So I see no substance in the contention that the enquiry against Shri Paul was made by different enquiring officers. In this connection my attention is drawn by the workmen to certain notices issued against Shri Paul on behalf of the management. Exhibit 1 series show that Shri Paul was required to attend before different persons on different dates in different places. But I am afraid all these notices do not actually relate to a single departmental proceeding or enquiry. It may be proceedings were started against some other persons also and Shri Paul's statement as a witness was required in those proceedings as well. So I am not at all satisfied that the enquiry against Shri Paul was made by more than one person as alleged. So the enquiry cannot really be set aside or cannot be said to be illegal on this ground. The next contention on behalf of the workman is that the larned enquiring officer did not treat the second charge-sheet as a separate proceeding and he actually utilised all the statements recorded in connection with the earlier and the first charge-sheet as evidences in connection with the second charge-sheet. I think there is sufficient force in this contention. After the issue of second charge-sheet Shri Bhatnagar at best recorded some further statement of Shri Paul on 16th October 1962 but no other witness was examined. Still the statement of Shri Golak Behari Chatterjee and Shri Bijoy Kumar Dey Sarkar recorded earlier in connection with the first charge-sheet since withdrawn were taken advantage of and treated as evidence in connection with the second charge-sheet. I think this is neither fair nor proper. The two witnesses mentioned above could not be cross-examined by Shri Paul in connection with the second charge-sheet. So their statements should not have gone in evidence in connection with the second charge-sheet. Nevertheless the fact remains that the finding against Shri Paul was based on the statement of these two witnesses also. So my considered opinion is that no fair and proper enquiry was held in connection with the second charge-sheet and it is difficult for me to rely on such a finding. So question arises whether the order of dismissal can be at once set aside in view of the fact that there has been no proper enquiry into the charge levelled against Shri Paul. In this connection I may refer to a decision reported in A.I.R. 1960,

S.C. 160 wherein the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held:

> "If no enquiry has in fact been held by the employer the issue about the merits of the impugned order of dismissal is at large before the Tribunal and on the evidence adduced before it the Tribunal has to decide for itself whether the misconduct alleged is proved and if yes what would be proper order to make."

In view of the said principles laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court I think it is incumbent on this Tribunal to consider the evidences if any adduced before this Tribunal in connection with the charge levelled against the applicant workman.

There are both oral and documentary evidences before this Tribunal in this connection. For proper appreciation of the evidences in this connection I must state certain facts and circumstances. The applicant workman used to work as a Bill Clerk in the factory premises of the Company. The ordinary rule is that when certain goods are delivered by any party to the Company the goods are received by the Stores Department. The person delivering the goods submits delivery chalans in triplicate before the Stores Department and the officer concerned of the Stores Department endorses receipt of the goods in all the three chalans, makes over one copy thereof to the party delivering the goods, one copy is retained in the Stores Department and another copy is sent to the Head Office. When the party delivering the goods submits bill for the price of the goods delivered, the bill is accompanied by a copy of duly receipted chalan previously obtained by it. These bills are usually submitted at the Head Office of the Company. It may be mentioned here and now that after the goods are delivered to the Stores Department, Goods Delivery Sheet or Goods Delivery Notes (G.R.S. or G.R.N.) are prepared by the department concerned. After the bill is received by the Head Office, the bill is sent to the mill premises for verification thereof with reference to G.R.S. or G R.N retained in the mill premises. After checking the bill and verifying the same with reference to G.R.S. and G.R.N the bills are passed for payment by the Bill Clerk concerned and he makes a note thereof in the G.R.S. or G.R.N also to avoid passing of a duplicate bill, if any, in future over the same delivery of goods. Shri Paul was one of the bill clerks who was concerned with such verification and passing of bills at the mill premises. The present difficulty arises in connection with one of the bills. It is admitted that Reliance Products Private Limited delivered certain goods to the Company and obtained two duly receipted chalans thereof (vide Ext. G series) against two deliveries of goods. This Company subsequently submitted two bills and those two bills were duly passed and paid for also by the Company [vide Exts. C(1) and C(2)]. Necessary endorsement in connection with these two payments was duly made by the applicant Shri Paul himself on the connected G.R.S (vide Ext. D series). Peculiarly enough the Company Reliance Products Private Limited submitted a fresh bill for the same goods which were supplied by delivery chalans Exts. G series and which were already paid for by Exts. C(1) and C(2). The second bill (vide Ext. C) was as usual forwarded by the office to the mill premises for verification thereof with reference to the connected G.R.S. Admittedly this second or duplicate bill was dealt with by Shri Paul himself. It is more than clear that Shri Paul failed to verify this bill with reference to the connected G.R.S and nevertheless passed the duplicate bill for payment and eventually a double payment was made in respect of goods already paid for. Hence the Company charged that Shri Paul was grossly negligent in passing the duplicate bill (Ext. C) without verifying the same with reference to the connected G.R.S. It may or may not be that Shri Paul did this mischievous job in conspiracy with some head office employees as well, but the fact nevertheless remains that Shri Paul had no reason whatsoever to pass the duplicate bill without properly verifying the same with reference to the connected G.R.S. So I am afraid it is difficult for Shri Paul to escape from the finding that he was at least grossly negligent in this respect; because in passing such bill his primary and main duty was to verify and correct such bill with the connected G.R.S and make notes in that connection on the G.R.S. In his examination-in-chief also Shri Paul admits that it was his duty to verify the bill with the G.R.S and receipted delivery chalan before passing the bill for payment. So it was not simply a question of bona fide mistake or not doing a thing on account of pressure of work. If there was pressure of work he could at best say that more time was required for the purpose but he had absolutely no right to pass the bill for payment without verification thereof with reference to G.R.S. The payment is actually made by Head Office and the bill is sent to the bill section of the mill premises only for the purpose of the verification. So I am afraid the absence of verification was due to gross negligence, if not mala fides and deliberate action Shri Paul submitted two explanations in connection with the two charge-sheets issued against him. All that he tries to say in this connexion is that there was scope for bona fide mistake through oversight under heavy pressure of work. He tries to allege that he had no suspicion about the genuineness of the bill as the bill was accompanied by two delivery chalans. I need not enter into the question as to how the two chalans could be annexed to the fake duplicate bill. May be these chalans themselves were obtained by the Company concerned in collusion with some Head Office employees. Howsoever those chalans might be obtained, it was incumbent on the bill passing clerk Shri Paul to verify the bill with reference to G.R.S and I am quite sure Shri Paul had no sufficient or lawful excuse for not doing the same. It may be incidentally pointed out that presumably the two other employees of the Head Office who were connected with this nafarious act escaped dismissal by voluntary resignation or abandonment of the services of the Company. Be that as it may I think the materials before this Tribunal are sufficient to prove that Shri Paul was guilty of gross negligence as mentioned in the second charge-sheet. The offence, I think, is very serious and it is difficult for me to say that dismissal is too severe a punishment for such an offence. So after carefully considering all the facts and circumstances I find that Shri Paul is really guilty of the charge levelled against him by the Company and he deserved the punishment of dismissal. Question therefore arises whether Shri Paul is entitled to any other relief in view of Campany's non-compliance with the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, as stated above.

It is well known that for inflicting punishment of dismissal on a delinquent workman during the pendency of an industrial dispute before a Tribunal, the employer Company has to fulfil two different conditions. The two conditions are that the workman concerned shall have to be paid wages for one month and that the employer shall have to seek approval of the action taken before the Industrial Tribunal concerned. I have already pointed out that the Company has failed to seek approval of the Tribunal concerned and as such there has been contravention of section 33 to that extent. But this violation has been treated rather as technical, because it is more or less a question of procedure as to how the disciplinary action has to be enforced. But the other condition creates a sort of substantive right in favour of the delinquent workman, because by that provision the law entitles the workman concerned to receive one month's wages before he is actually dismissed. In this particular case there is not at all any dispute that no such wages were paid to Shri Paul before he was actually dismissed. It is nobody's case that any offer even was made to him of this statutory amount before the order of dismissal. The Company lately produces a postal receipt to show that on 23rd October 1962 the management remitted a sum of Rs. 408.44 nP. by money order to Shri Paul but he did not accept the amount remitted. Thus it is clear that this amount was remitted five days after the final order of dismissal and the amount must have reached the workman a few days after 23rd October 1962. Be that as it may, it is further clear that in the amount remitted to Shri Paul one month's wages provided for in section 33(2)(b)(proviso) of the Act was not actually remitted. By that money order the management remitted some arrears of dues only and not any sum on account of section 33. So the Company is guilty of violation of provisions of section 33 in this respect also. So there is no escape from the conclusion that the order of dismissal passed by the management was to that extent illegal or inoperative. But I have already shown that the Company had sufficient reason for taking disciplinary action against Shri Paul because he was guilty of a major misdemeanour. So in view of these circumstances I think Shri Paul is not entitled to an order of reinstatement in spite of the fact that there was contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act. But nevertheless I think Shri Paul should not be deprived of his substantive right created by section 33 of the Act. Accordingly I direct that the order of dismissal passed by the management should stand but the Company must pay three months' wages as compensation to Shri Paul. This compensation must be paid within one month of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

This is my award.

This reference was made by the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of some industrial disputes existing between Messrs. India Marine Service Private Ltd., P-41 Hide Road, Calcutta-27 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by India Marine Service Sramik Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Both parties, in pursuance of notice issued by this Tribunal, entered appearances and filed their written statements stating their respective cases.

The Union's case in the written statement is that following a charter of demands submitted by the Union there was an agreement arrived at between the Company and the Union on 8th April 1962. By that agreement the Company conceeded increment of wages and other benefits. But immediately following the agreement the Company without any sufficient reason terminated the services of 24 workmen by way of retrenchment, with effect from 13th April 1960 and at the same time laid off another batch of 34 workmen, with effect from 14th April 1960. In effecting the retrenchment and lay off the Company did not follow the industrial rule of "last come first go" and also they did not follow the provisions of section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act, in the matter of re-employment of retrenched workmen in preference to strangers. So, according to the Union the retrenchment and the lay off are illegal and mala fide and as such the workers are entitled to reinstatement with full compensation.

The Company in their written statement has admitted retrenchment of 24 workmen with effect from 13th April 1960 and lay off of 34 workmen with effect from 14th April 1960. But they denied the allegations of mala fides in effecting the retrenchment and lay off. The Company's case is that in view of "the persistent paucity of work and depressing future of the business" they had to terminate the services of a good number of workmen but as soon as the situation improved, the lay off workmen were allowed to join following an agreement between the parties on 17th September 1960. Further case of the Company is that the workmen submitted a charter of demands in early December 1959 claiming several benefits including increment of wages. Negotiations went on over the demands of the Union and ultimately there was a bipartite agreement arrived at on 8th April 1960 by which several benefits were granted to the workmen including increment of wages. But on account of keen competition in the particular field of business, the Company found it difficult to keep employed all the workmen they had in their factory. So, they had no other alternative but to terminate the services of a good number of workmen by stages. Even after the month of April 1960 they had to retrench some more workmen in July 1960 and again some in August 1960. All these the Company had to do on account of the bad condition of the business. Therefore, there was justification for the retrenchment and lay off in question.

Decision

Issue No. 1

The dispute under reference relates to 24 retrenched workmen and 34 laid off workers of the Company. The question of lay off comes under a different issue. So I leave it out of consideration under this issue.

Admittedly the Company retrenched 24 workmen with effect from the close of the 13th day of April 1960 by general notice (Ext. A) which is dated 13th April 1960 and also by letters to individual workers Ext. A/1 which is dated 11th April 1960. By this notice the retrenched workmen were asked to collect their legal dues from the cash office of the Company on 13th April 1960 between 3 p.m. and 4-30 p.m., and according to D. W. 1 Shri Abani Mohan Chatterji, the Works Manager of the Company, all the retrenched workmen were paid the compensation and other legal dues save and except a solitary one whose name is S. R. Bit. This evidence of his has not been challenged by the Union or he has not been cross-examined on this point. The workman Shri S. R. Bit does not give any evidence. There are as many as 24 retrenched workmen involved in the dispute but none of them excepting the Secretary of the Union who is said to be an ex-employee of the Company has deposed before this Tribunal. Three witnesses have been examined on the side of the Union. They are the Secretary and Assistant Secretary of the Union and another serving staff. P. W. 1 Jogeshchandra Chakravarti is a clerk in service of the Company. P.W. 2 Ajit Chaudhury is the Secretary of the Union and is an ex-employee of the Company and P.W. 3 Benoy Kumar Roy is the Assistant Secretary of the Union. Of these three witnesses of the Union there is only one workman who is involved in the present dispute. He is P. W. 2 Ajit Chaudhury, the Secretary of the Union. He was serving as a Miller and it is admitted by him that after his retrenchment there was no other Miller working in the factory of the Company. The Milling Section was completely closed down. P. W. 3 who is the Assistant Secretary of the Union also admits this fact and further says that the Company has got no milling machine at present. It was disposed of. Therefore, there would have been no justification for his retention by the Company. His retrenchment was rightly made. No other retrenched workman came forward to question the Company's ground of justification for the retrenchment. The documents Ext. A, A/1 will show that the decision of retrenchment was taken by the Company "in view of the persistent paucity of work and a very depressing future of the business." It is, of course, admitted that the Company agreed to increment of wages even in the year 1960. This agreement was arrived at just a few days before the retrenchment. Exhibit 2 is the relevant document which is dated 8th of April 1962. Admittedly the workmen submitted their grievances to the Company in December 1959. They submitted their charter of demands through the Union. After protracted negotiations the parties came to an agreement, the terms whereof were embodied in the document Ext. 2 on 8th April 1960. One of the terms of the agreement was increment of wages for all categories of workmen with effect from 1st January 1960 (vide Ext. 2). So, there seems some inconsistency in the Company's conduct in allowing increments to workmen of all categories with effect from 1st January 1960 and at the same time effecting retrenchment and lay off of a good number of workmen with effect from 13th April 1960 on the ground of "persistent paucity of work and a very depressing future of the business." But this inconsistency can possibly be explained by the fact that the Company had to yield to the pressure of the Union regarding various demands of the workmen. Admittedly the Union of workmen submitted a charter of demands in December 1959 and the agreement itself Ext. 2 shows that protracted negotiations followed the charter of demands and ultimately the Company had to agree to the terms embodied in this document Ext. 2 on 8th April 1960. Besides the increment of wages the Company had to concede a few other demands of the workmen favourably to the workmen. The increment of wages that was agreed upon was to take effect from 1st January 1960 and it was meant for all categories of workmen. Previously, of course, the Company used to grant increment of wages in two batches - one batch of workmen used to get from January and the other batch of workmen from July. Admittedly there was no fixity of the rates of increment. Company admits in paragraph 1 of the written statement that there was no grade or scale of wages fixed for the workmen. Therefore, the workmen were entirely dependant on the discretion of the Company in the matter of increment of wages, if any. There was no certainty of payment of increment of wages or the amount thereof. It is for the first time in the year 1960 the Company had to yield to the demands of the workmen to grant increments to all categories of workmen with effect from 1st January 1960. Besides the increment of wages from the very beginning of the year the Company had to agree to a few more benefits and amenities being granted to the workmen (vide Ext. 2). All these go to show that the Company had to agree to the terms of the agreement under some pressure of the Union of the workmen. Be that as it may, the Company almost immediately after the agreement (Ext. 2, dated 8th April 1960) issued an order of retrenchment in respect of 24 workmen on 11th April 1960 (vide Ext. A/1) which is followed by a general notice of retrenchment on 13th April 1960 (vide Ext. A). The stated ground for retrenchment was, as I have already pointed out, "persistent paucity of work and very depressing future of the business." The Company has stated in paragraph 3 of its written statement that "the principal ship owners on whom the Company was solely dependent suddenly changed their policy in regard to their repairing work." The evidence of the Works Manager D. W. 1 Shri Abani Mohan Chatterji is that several big shipping concerns who were their regular customers diverted their repairing works to other repairing concerns like Messrs. Seven Seas, Messrs. Garden Reach Workshops, etc. So, the Company suddenly had to face keen competition in the matter of securing repair works. It appears that the Company initially met with a setback in the year 1960 which is reflected in the diminished volume of the business and comparatively low income derived during the year in qustion as deposed by the Works Manager, and it is also supported by the documents Exts C, C/1 which do show considerable idle hours in the Company's factory during the year 1960. Workmen of all shades and categories had to go idle for want of sufficient work in the factory. So, there was consequential reduced earnings. The Company, therefore, had justification for the retrenchment on account of paucity of works in the early part of the year 1960. However, the Company could ultimately recover from the setback or reverse experienced at the early part of the year 1960. This is evident from the fact of reemployment of all the 34 laid off workmen (vide agreement Ext. B, dated 17th September 1960).

Now, it is well settled that the management has the right to retrench the workmen provided retrenchment is justified [vide 1960(I) L.L.J.504]. The Hon'ble Supreme Court also held in that case that in effecting retrenchment the management normally has to adopt and give effect to the industrial rule of retrenchment. For valid and sufficient reasons, it may depart from the said rule.

In an earlier decision reported in 1952 L.A.C.33 it was held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal that it is prima facie the right of the management of a concern to make retrenchment of workmen subject to the conditions that it acts bona fide and is not actuated by extraneous considerations or improper motives. In another case reported in 1958-59 F.L.J. Vol. VIII page 606 it was held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal "that the management would be the best judge to determine the number of workmen who becomes surplus on the ground of nationalisation, economy or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained, provided of course the management acts in a bona fide manner * *".

In the instant case I have already found justification for the management to make the retrenchment. The management in effecting the retrenchment substantially followed the industrial rule of "last come first go" provided in section 25G of the Industrial Disputes Act, excepting in the case of Carpenters—Basudeb Chawla and Md. Khalil and of two Clerks—Jiten Ganguli and D. P. Chatterji. The Works Manager's evidence on this point is that the Company had in their employ three Carpenters only and of them Arjun Singh is by far best in all respects, specially in skill and efficiency although he is junior to the other two who were retrenched. This is also evident from the fact of his drawing higher wages than the other two seniors in service. Khalil was drawing Rs. 3.89 nP. per day, Basudev Rs. 97.50 nP. per month, whereas Arjun was getting at that time daily wage of Rs. 4.39 nP. None of the two carpenters has come forward to dispute this fact. So, there was valid and sufficient reasons for the Company to depart from the industrial rule.

The Works Manager's evidence regarding the two Clerks is that D. P. Chatterji who was senior to Tapan Guha Thakurta by a couple of months was retrenched because of his inefficiency in the work of accountancy and costing in which he remained employed so long. He is not even a Matriculate, whereas Tapan Guha Thakurta was a B. Com. at the relevant time and he has since acquired the next higher degree. Similarly another Clerk Jiten Ganguli was senior to Tapan Guha Thakurta by three months, was retrenched in preference to Tapan Guha Thakurta because of his inefficiency. He is also a non-Matric. Therefore, Tapan Guha Thakurta who was junior by about a couple of months or so was retained because of his better qualification and efficiency in the job in which they were employed and as such I find that the Company's departure from the industrial rule in these three cases was on valid and satisfactory ground.

Union has urged that the Company later on recruited some workmen without taking the retrenched persons. This allegation has not been substantiated by satisfactory evidence. The Union's allegation on this point is that the Company employed contractors' men instead of appointing the retrenched or laid off workmen. This allegation was made in the Union's letters [Exts. 1(d), 1(e) and 1(g)]. But this is not correct. Admittedly all the laid off workmen have been given employment by agreement, dated 17th September 1960 (vide Ext. B), and prior to that agreement Ext. B the laid off wormekn were being offered employment by the Company [vide Ext. 1(f)]. On one occasion the Company, of course, employed 10 Carpenters to work on the afloat on a ship and those Carpenters were supplied by a Contractor, but that was purely temporary work for two days only (vide Ext. D/1). Some Laskars were also supplied by a Contractor but there was no retrenched or laid off workmen of that category. Therefore, no importance can be attached to the purely temporary employment for very short period in an emergent nature of work on a ship. P. W. 2 Ajit Chaudhury, the Secretary of the Union and P. W. 3 Binoy Kumar Roy, Assistant Secretary, have stated in their evidence that some senior workmen were retrenched, whereas some juniors were retained in employment. But there is no satisfactory evidence to prove this allegation. There is no convincing evidence to prove seniority of the retrenched workmen in the particular category they remained employed at the relevant time. Workers employed to work in the afloat cannot be considered toegther with the workers employed in the workshop in view of the varied nature of the work, the different rates of wages, and other different conditions of employment. There is no evidence to establish identity of the two categories of employees. The Secretary of the Union (P. W. 2) attempted to show in his evidence that some senior workmen were retrenched by the Company. He mentioned certain dates of appointment but it is very difficult to give credence to his oral testimony. He does not know or remember the date of his own joining service of the Company. On the side of the Union some reliance was placed on a chart Ext. 3 to show dates of appointment of different workmen but hardly any reliance can be placed on this document without evidence of the concerned workmen because there is no authentic basis for the entries therein. P. W. 3 Benoy Kumar Roy, the Assistant Secretary of the Union, had to admit that he cannot vouch for correctness of the entries relating to the dates of appointment of the workers appearing therein.

Therefore, in consideration of the entire facts and circumstances discussed above I am led to the conclusion that the retrenchment of 24 workmen as per list 'A' appended to the order of reference was justified and as such they are not entitled to any relief.

Issue No. 2

Admittedly the Company laid off 34 workmen with effect from 14th April 1960 as per List 'B' appended to the order of reference by notice, dated 13th April 1960 (Ext. A/2). At the time of hearing of the case this issue has not been pressed by the parties and specially by the Union in view of the admitted agreement already arrived at between the parties before the commencement of hearing of this case.

The document Ext. B contains the terms of settlement. This document is dated 17th September 1960. One of the terms of settlement was that the laid off workmen will be allowed to resume their duties gradually and all of them be allowed to start work by the 7th October 1960. This term of settlement was complied with and as such there was no necessity to consider this issue.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 6886-I.R./IR/9L-65/61, dated the 17th November 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Buxa Dooars Tea Company Ltd., P.O. Kalchini, Jalpaiguri, and their workmen represented by Tea Garden Indian Employees' Association, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the claim of Shri R. C. Chakraborty for promotion to the post of Head Factory Babu is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

The reference was received from the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Buxa Dooars Tea Co. Ltd., P.O. Kalchini, Jalpaiguri (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Tea Garden Indian Employees' Association (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Both parties, in pursuance of notices issued from this Tribunal, entered appearances and filed written statements disclosing their respective cases.

The Union's case in the written statement is that the abovenamed Company is the proprietor of a group of tea estates in Dooars area known as Buxa Group of gardens, of which Chinchula Tea Estate is one. Shri R. C. Chakravarty served as Second Factory Supervisor for about 29 years up to February 1960 in that garden with uniformly good record of service. Shri Chakravarty also officiated as Head Factory Supervisor at the said tea estate on several occasions and he was very soon expecting his promotion to the post of Head Factory Supervisor on the retirement of the then incumbent. But at about the beginning of February 1960, the Company suddenly transferred him to Raimatong Tea Estate to work there as Second Factory Supervisor and the then Second Factory Supervisor of that garden who was junior to Shri Chakravarty was transferred to Chinchula Tea Estate for being promoted to the post of Head Factory Supervisor. Thereupon Shri R. C. Chakravarty immediately submitted representation to the Superintendent of the gardens but to no result. The matter was taken up by the Labour Directorate for the purpose of conciliation but without any success. Hence the reference for declaring Shri R. C. Chakravarty as fit for promotion to the post of a Head Factory Supervisor and for other incidential reliefs.

The Company in its written statement has contended that Shri R. C. Chakravarty was not promoted to the next higher post of Head Factory Supervisor because of his inefficiency and incompetency. He was found unfit for promotion to the next higher post as he was reported against by the Managers under whom he served. Shri Chakravarty was found lacking in drive, sense of responsibility and ability to handle subordinate employees and labour. Therefore, he was found unfit for promotion. Length of service is not the sole criterion for promotion. The Company has denied other allegations of the Union.

At the hearing the Union examined the concerned workman only and adduced no other evidence, whereas the Company examined two witnesses and tendered into evidence several documents.

Decision

Admittedly there are three tea gardens known as Chinchula Tea Estate, Kalchini Tea Estate and Raimatong Tea Estate under Messrs. Buxa Dooars Tea Co. Ltd. Each garden is in charge of the Manager, and above the Managers there is a Superintendent of the gardens who is the overall in-charge of the three gardens. The Superintendent generally makes the appointments with the approval of the Managing Agent—Messrs. Shaw Wallace Co. Ltd. The two witnesses examined on the side of the Company are P.W. 1 Mr. J. G. Day, the Superintendent of the gardens and P.W. 2 Mr. C. G. Booker, the Manager of Chinchula Tea Estate. It is admitted that Shri Ramesh Chandra Chakravarty served for about 29 years as Second Factory Supervisor in Chinchula Tea Estate up to February 1960. It is also admitted that in that garden the Head Factory Supervisor up to that time was Shri N. G. Chakravarty, the elder brother of the concerned workman Shri R. C. Chakravarti. It was the expectation of the concerned workman Shri R. C. Chakravarty that on the retirement of his elder brother he would step in as the Head Factory Supervisor on promotion. But to his utter surprise in February 1960 he was transferred from Chinchula Tea Estate to Raimatong Tea Estate to work there as Second Factory Supervisor in place of Shri G. K. Mukherji who was transferred to Chinchula Tea Estate (vide Ext. A/11). Shri G. K. Mukherji was subsequently promoted to the post of Head Factory Supervisor at Chinchula Tea Estate. Admittedly Shri G. K. Mukherji was junior in service to Shri R. C. Chakravarti. The appointment of Shri G. K. Mukherji as Head Factory Supervisor at Chinchula Tea Garden was very much resented by the concerned workman Shri R. C. Chakravarti who forthwith submitted representations to Superintendent of the gardens through the Manager, Chinchula Tet Estate (vide Exts. A/5, A/6, A/8, A/10 and A/15), His earliest representation Ext. A/15 shows he was claiming promotion to the higher post of the Head Factory Supervisor on the ground of his seniority in service. He has stated therein that as he has rendered 29 years' service as Second Factory Supervisor which is the longest period of service, as such he is entitled to promotion. So, the concerned workman has pleaded for promotion on the ground of seniority or length of service alone. But this plea did not find favour with the learned Advocate Shri P. K. Sanyal who argued the case for the Union. He, very frankly admitted that the concerned workman cannot succeed on the ground of seniority alone in the mater of promotion to the higher post. He, however, argued that the concerned workman's claim for promotion was superseded without sufficient reason and justification and according to him the Company arbitrarily deprived him of the promotion which he deserved after rendering so many years' service with fair records. Certainly the Company will have no justification to supersede the claim of the concerned workman if it is found that the concerned workman rendered longest period of services as Second Factory Supervisor without blemish and with good record of service proving his ability to work and run the factory efficiently and handle the labour tactfully to the satisfaction of the supervisor officer. But there are sufficient materials on the evidence to show that his work was found unsatisfactory and he was also found wanting in certain qualifications which are very essential for the smooth running of the factory. He had not the ability to control the labour. It was also reported that he was not possessed of the drive, initiative, and sense of responsibility required for the present-day Head Factory Supervisor. Therefore, according to the Company the next senior man Shri G. K. Mukherji was promoted to the post of Head Factory Supervisor although he was junior to Shri R. C. Chakravarty because of his efficiency and other qualifications required of a Head Factory Supervisor for efficient management and control of the factory and labour.

In paragraph 3 of the Union's written statement it has been stated that "in accordance with the terms and conditions of employment of service prevailing in the said Buxa Dooars Tea Gardens" Shri R. C. Chakravarty should have been promoted to the post of a Factory Supervisor either at Chinchula Tea Estate or at Raimatong Tea Estate. But the Union could not place any evidence regarding the alleged terms and conditions of service and employment. The Company has denied in their written statement existence of any such terms and conditions of employment and service by which seniority in service only is the criterion for promotion to the next higher post. The evidence of the workmen before this Tribunal is that previously no transfer would have taken place from one garden to another for the purpose of promotion. According to him his transfer is the first of its kind with a view to deprive him of the promotion that was due to him. But this is not correct. He had to admit in his evidence transfers of various staffs from one garden to another and from the office of the Superintendent to a garden office. It further transpires from his evidence that there are some senior staffs who did not get promotion, whereas some junior staffs were promoted or given superior post in preference to some senior staffs. He admits that Shri G. N. Mallick who is now working at Raimatong Tea Estate is senior to him in service. But he could not secure any promotion. Then again a junior staff Shri S. B. Ghatak is now working as Head Clerk in the office of the Superintendent of the gardens. His post is superior to that of Head Clerk in the office of any of the gardens. Shri M. L. Kundu who is now the Head Clerk in the Raimatong Tea Estate Office was previously the Head Clerk in the office of the Superintendent of the gardens. But he has since been demoted and Shri Ghatak, a junior member of the staff, has replaced him. Therefore, it is not correct to say that the Company has most unjustly transferred him from Chinchula Tet Estate to Raimatong Tea Estate purposely and in breach of the prevailing practices in the tea gardens. His own admission shows that there is no substance in this allegation. On this point there is further evidence given by D.W. 1, J. G. Day, Superintendent of gardens. He has said that in 1933 one Kali Banerji, Head Clerk of Chinchula garden, was transferred to Kalchini garden as Second Clerk. That was an instance of demotion on ground of inefficiency. Then again, another staff Shri Jiten Sarkar was transferred from Kalchini to Chinchula garden as Head Clerk. Shri S. K. Mukherji was similarly transferred from Chinchula to Kalchini. These facts were not challenged by the Union in the cross-examination. There was no cross-examination at all on this point. Therefore, the allegations against the Company are all baseless. Transfer of staffs from one garden to another was normal and usual whenever occasion or necessity arose.

The workman has stated in his evidence before this Tribunal that on several occasions he officiated as Head Factory Supervisor during the absence on leave of permanent incumbent who was his brother Shri N. G. Chakravarty. While he officiated as Head Factory Supervisor his work was very satisfactory and so much so that the Company awarded him gratification allowance on two occasions. According to him the gratification allowance was given to him in appreciation of his C.T.C. works. The Company do not admit this. The Superintendent of the gardens who is the authority to grant gratification allowance has emphatically denied any such allowance being given to Shri R. C. Chakravarty. It seems to me that there was also some absurdity or improbability in the story itself in view of the fact that the C.T.C. method of manufacture of tea was introduced in 1959 and the peak season for the manufacture of tea is from July to October as has been admitted by the workman himself in his cross-examination. He has also admitted that he never officiated during the said period. His evidence is that he used to officiate for about a month or so during the absence on leave of his brother Shri N. G. Chakravarty who used to take leave in January and February and on an occasion in March, which is the off season. The manufacture of tea under the modern C.T.C. method begins from the middle of March and continues up to the middle of December and the peak season is from July to October. He admits that no manufacture is made in January and February either in the C.T.C. method or under the Orthodox method. Therefore, it is crystal clear that he officiated as Head Factory Supervisor at a time when there was no manufacture at all. So, hardly any importance can be attached to his officiating service. In the circumstances, it is hardly incredible that he was given gratification allowance in appreciation of his manufacture in tea under the most modern C.T.C. method. He does not even know what is meant by C.T.C. method. According to him C.T.C. stands for "Crushing, Thrashing and Carling". But he is in error. C.T.C. really stands for crushing, tearing and carling as deposed by D.W. 1, Mr. Day, the Superintendent of the gardens and also by the Manager Mr. Booker. Undoubtedly, they are correct on this point. I am also satisfied from the two authoritative books on the subject. Quotations therefrom have also been exhibited (Exts. B, B/1). Therefore, the evidence of the workman betrays his ignorance of the modern C.T.C. method of tea manufacture. Therefore, the story of his securing reward does not stand to belief and moreover there is also no evidence to prove it. On the contrary, D.W. 1 Mr. Day, the Superintendent of the gardens, has stated that he is the man who grants the gratification allowance and it is not to his knowledge that any such allowance was at all given to Shri R. G. Chakravarti.

The Company's case is that the concerned workman Shri R. C. Chakravarty in spite of his long period of service as Second Factory Supervisor could not be promoted to the next higher post of Factory Supervisor because he lacked the drive, sense of responsibility and the ability to handle the subordinate employees and labour force and to supervise the factory on C.T.C. manufacture. I have already observed that it is on the evidence that Shri Chakravarty's case was considered along with others at the time when promotion became necessary at the retirement of the Head Factory Supervisor at Chinchula garden. The retiring Head Factory Supervisor was, of course, the elder brother of Shri R. C. Chakravarty. But it is the evidence of the Superintendent that he consulted the opinion of the Managers under whom Shri Chakravarty served as Second Factory Supervisor. But the opinion was very much against his appointment as Head Factory Supervisor. It is the evidence of the Superintendent Mr. Day that he tried to persuade the Manager Mr. Booker to change his opinion about Shri R. C. Chakravarti but Mr. Booker found no justification to change his opinion based on facts. Of course, Mr. Day also had personal knowledge of the works of Shri R. C. Chakravarty who served under him while he was Assistant Manager and subsequently became the Manager at Chinchula Tea Estate before being appointed as Superintendent of the gardens. Mr. Day (D.W. 2) also had occasion to find fault with the work of Shri Chakravarty. He remembers that in 1951 he had to reprimand Shri Chakravarty for faulty withering. According to him Shri R. C. Chakravarty never officiated as Head Factory Supervisor during the manufacturing time. He was allowed to officiate during non-manufacturing period. This fact is already found from the evidence of the concerned workman. Evidence of the Manager P.W. 2 Mr. Booker is that he on several occasions had to bring Shri Chakravarty to book for his lack of control of labour or also for defective work. He was found very late for fermentation of the tea leaves and so the workmen had to be warned. Of course, the Company, according to him, does not maintain records of the petty offences and faults. Records are maintained only when the workman has got to be charge-sheeted for serious misconduct. The Manager also found him inefficient and accordingly he reported against the workman to the Superintendent. Exhibit A/17 is the confidential report about this particular workman given by the Manager to the Superintendent on 24th November 1959. It is clear from his report that Shri Chakravarty was not very tactful in dealing with the subordinates and the labour force employed under him. He had little control over the labour. The Manager found him lacking in qualifications necessary for smooth running of the factory. The Superintendent also similarly expressed his adverse opinion regarding this particular workman in his letter Ext. A/1 addressed to the Assistant Labour Commissiner, Jalpaiguri. He himself has given evidence before this Tribunal and the workman had the opportunity to cross-examine him. But I have already stated that there is nothing in the cross-examination to discredit his evidence given against the workman. The workman Shri R. C. Chakravarti admits that he had nothing to complain against these two superior officers under whom he served for many years. He does not plead unfair labour practice or victimisation against the management on any ground whatsoever. He does not say that he ever had any occasion to come in conflict with the said two officers under whom he served and who found him inefficient and unsuitable for promotion to the next higher post of responsibility. Therefore, there was nothing for these two officers to speak against him unnecessarily and unreasonably. Therefore, there is no reason to suppose that they acted mala fide and not in good faith in assessing his efficiency or otherwise and quality of work entrusted to him. They found him inefficient and unsuitable for the purpose of promotion to the higher post of responsibility of the Head Factory Supervisor and as such promotion was given to a person who was found suitable on account of his merits, efficiency and other qualifications. It is well settled that promotion from one post to a higher post is a management function and it does not depend on length of service only but also on other factors like efficiency and educational qualifications and an Industrial Tribunal should not interfere in promotions unless the power has been improperly exercised (1957 II L.L.J. 559). The Hon'ble Supreme Court has also similarly held in a recent case reported in 1963 I L.L.J. 256. In that case Their Lordships not only supported the aforesaid views but also held that "when the management promoted one employee as against another employee, who was senior in service to the former on the ground that the work of the latter was not satisfactory and where it appears on the evidence that the work of the latter was not satisfactory, the interference by the Industrial Tribunal with the order of the management in regard to such promotion must be held unjustified". Therefore, in the facts and circumstances of the present case, as I have already discussed, I find no justification for interference with the promotion as given by the management.

Before parting with the case mention must be made of another point that was urged on behalf of the Union by Mr. Sanyal. He has relied on the provisions of Article 16 of the Constitution of India and contended that the Company in the matter of promotion to a higher post has disregarded the workman's fundamental right to promotion by making discrimination and showing undue favour to a junior member of the staff without justification. But I have already found that there was no mala fides on the part of the management in the matter of promotion to a higher post given to a junior staff who was found quite fit and suitable because of his efficiency and merits and other essential qualifications. I have already found that there are sufficient materials and evidence to justify the Company's action in the matter of giving promotions of a junior member of the staff to a higher post in preference to a senior member. Apart from all these I must point out that the provisions of Article 16 of the Constitution of India applies to employments under the Estate. It has no application to employment under a private concern. In the instant case the workman concerned is an employee of a private concern and not a State employee. Therefore, it seems very clear that he cannot invoke the aid of the provision of Article 16 of the Constitution of India. Consequently, some decisions based on Article 16 of the Constitution of India, referred to by Mr. Sanyal, are not attracted to this case. It may further be noted that the Union did not raise any such question about invasion of fundamental right guaranteed by Article 16 of the Constitution of India initially in the written statement and no evidence also has been adduced on this point. Therefore, I am of the view that Article 16 of the Constitution of India does not at all help the client of Mr. Sanyal in the facts and circumstances of the present case.

The result of the findings as above is that the concerned workman Shri Ramesh Chandra Chakravarty is not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 753-I.R.|IR|11L-66|62, dated the 3rd March 1962. A Corrigendum No. 1435-I.R.|IR|11L-66|62, dated the 27th April 1962, was subsequently issued whereby the order of reference was amended by adding the names of the proprietors.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri S. S. Varma is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

I shall state and discuss the relevant facts of the case and the respective cases of the parties on disputed points when I shall deal with the merits of the issue. Before that, I will presently take up and dispose of a preliminary legal objection raised by the employers against the maintainability of the present reference and the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to entertain the reference and adjudicate upon it on the ground that the dispute concerned is not an industrial dispute but it is an individual dispute.

The only ground urged in support of the aforesaid preliminary legal objection raised by the employers is that the dispute which is per se an individual dispute concerning one particular workman has not been transformed into an industrial dispute by its being taken up and espoused by the concerned Union, the Calcutta Rubber Karkhana Mazdoor Sabha, which is not a Union exclusively of the workmen of this industry, and the dispute has also not been supported and espoused by the other workmen of the industry either by themselves or through the concerned Union. It is further alleged that the workmen of this industry are not members of the concerned Union. The reply to this objection given on behalf of the Union is that this Union represents the workmen of this industry along with the workmen of other similar industries, it being a general Union of the category of industries to which the present industry belongs, and the workmen of this particular industry are members of the Union and they have expressly supported and espoused the cause of this particular workman and have authorised this Union to take up his case.

The law on the points connected with the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the employers in the present case has now been amply clarified and well settled by judicial decisions. In the recent case of Gobordhandas Jeerambhai vs. The Sixth Industrial Tribunal [1962(5)F.L.R, page 246], the law on the subject has been summarised as follows:

> "When an individual dispute is taken up by a class of workmen, it becomes an industrial struggle and loses its individual character. When a Union unconnected with the employer industry concerned takes up the cause of a dissatisfied workman, the dispute does not automatically transform itself from an individual dispute to an industrial dispute. The real test is whether the stranger Union has the backing, sympathy or collaboration of the majority or a large section of the workmen employed in the particular industry and such workmen feel themselves concerned in the dispute. * * * But if a stranger Union takes up the cause of an individual workman, the onus is on the Union to prove that it has the backing, sympathy or collaboration of a substantial number of workmen employed in the industry."

We have to apply the test laid down in the above decision in the present case. The concerned Union is no doubt not a Union exclusively connected with this particular industry, but it is a Union of the workmen of the inndustry in general. So, the Union must prove by evidence that in taking up this dispute, this Union has the backing, sympathy or collaboration of at least a large section of the workmen employed in this particular industry. The Union has succeeded in proving this position in the present case. Exhibit 7 is a letter from this concerned workman and some other workmen of this industry to the Labour Officer of the Government of West Bengal, dated the 5th October 1961, and in this letter, the other workmen clearly expressed their support for the claims of this particular workman against the employers in connection with the present dispute. I am fully satisfied about the bona fides of this letter and I reject the employers' case that the signatories to the letter were not in employment in the factory on 5th October 1961. Incidentally, the employers have now come forward with the case that the factory was closed in July. O. P. W. 1 Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka, who now claims to be the sole proprietor of the firm, has stated in his evidence that he does not remember if these persons were in employment in July 1961. This shows that he cannot deny straightaway that these persons were the employees of the factory when it was working. He has also admitted in his evidence that the total number of workmen in the factory was 7 or 10. So, if it is found that out of this admitted total number of workmen, six workmen have espoused and supported the cause of this particular workman and have authorised this particular Union to take up his case, it must be held that the dispute has been transformed into an industrial dispute. Six workmen out of a total of 7 or 10 workmen can quite reasonably be held to constitute a large number of workmen of the industry concerned. In this connection, it is to be decided whether they were workmen of this industry when they lent their support to the cause of this workman and authorised this concerned Union to take up the cause of this workman. The letter, Ext. 7, was apparently written when the dispute had already arisen. And it clearly signified that the workmen who signed the letter had already supported and espoused the cause of this particular workman and authorised this particular Union to take up his cause. I am also not satisfied upon the evidence produced before me that this factory ceased functioning sometime in July 1961. There is nothing but the uncorroborated and interested oral testimony of O. P. W. 1 Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka in support of this case put forward by the employers. The employers could have very successfully proved this case by producing papers and documents relating to the working of the factory which are certainly in their possession, but no such paper has been produced and no explanation offered. P. W. 1 Shri S. S. Varma, the concerned workman, has denied that the factory was closed sometime in July. Exhibit 4 is an admitted letter, dated 27th July 1961, written by this workman to the employers stating that he had been working in the factory since his return from leave, but he was not being given any specific job to perform and he was being threatened with retrenchment. This letter was never replied to and it was never denied by the employers that his statements were absolutely false because the factory had already closed down and was not working. It is also an admitted position that this workman sent a letter of demands through his solicitors, Messrs. S. C. Roy Chowdhury & Co., claiming Rs. 4,750 on account of his arrear pay and interest and the arrear pay covered some period after July 1961 (Ext. 5) and this letter was replied to by the employers' solicitors on 30th September 1961 (Ext. A). In this letter, there was no plea to the effect that the factory was closed in July 1961, and so, this workman was not entitled to any pay after the closure, though other pleas were taken in denial of this workman's claims. There is no satisfactory evidence to prove that all the workmen were discharged and the factory was closed sometime in July 1961. After taking into consideration all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I reject the case put forward on behalf of the employers that this factory was absolutely closed sometime in July 1961 and so the workmen of the factory who signed the letter, Ext. 5, had ceased to be workmen of this industry on the date of the letter, Ext. 5 (5th October 1961) and so they were not competent to transform the individual dispute concerning this workman into an industrial dispute by supporting and espousing that dispute. The present case put forward on behalf of the concerned workman is that he worked in the factory up to 30th September 1961, after his return from leave on 18th July 1961, but he was not allowed to resume his duty on 3rd October 1961 after the intervening holidays on 1st October 1961 which was a Sunday and 2nd October 1961 which was a holiday on account of Mahatma Gandhi's birthday. The workman concerned has given his sworn testimony in support of this position. After having regard to the surrounding facts and circumstances and the conduct of the parties, I believe and accept this case of the concerned workman. It was clearly stated in the workman's letter, dated 27th July 1961 (Ext. 4), that he had joined his work in the factory on 18th July 1961, but since then he was not being given any specific jobs. But this letter remained unanswered and the facts stated therein remained undenied. In Ext. A, the letter from the employers' solicitors in reply to the letter from the workman's solicitors (Ext. 5), there was no statement to the effect that the factory had been closed in July 1961 when this workman came back after his leave and on the contrary it was stated in this letter that this workman had been summarily dismissed on certain grounds.,I believe and accept the workman's case in this respect and hold that the factory was functioning on or about 5th October 1961 when the workman's letter, Ext. 4, clearly indicating their support for the cause of this workman in the present dispute and authorising this concerned Union to take up the cause of this workman was written. On the findings recorded above, I hold that the dispute concerning this particular workman has been transformed into an industrial dispute because the cause of this workman in the dispute has been supported and espoused by a large number of workmen of the industry and the concerned Union has been authorised to espouse the cause of this workman by the said workmen. This Union is, therefore, competent to represent these workman and to convert the dispute into an industrial dispute. In the result, I reject the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the employers.

I now come to the merits of the issue.

The undisputed and admitted facts lead us up to the following position. The concerned workman, Shri Varma, was appointed as an expert in manufacturing electrical cables and specialist in the manufacture of rubber goods on a monthly salary of Rs. 450 for one month from 16th November 1959 to 15th December 1959 on an experimental basis and his confirmation was subject to the employers being convinced about his ability to produce the goods manufactured in the factory. This appointment was made by the letter, Ext. 1, dated 14th November 1959. Since then he worked in the factory right up to 28th April 1961, without any break or interruption. On 28th April 1961 he applied for accrued leave due to him and he was granted 30 days' leave with pay with effect from 29th April 1961. Exhibit 3 is the application for leave with the endorsement of Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka granting the aforesaid leave. On 28th April 1961 there was an accounting about the arrear salaries due to him and it was settled that his salaries up to September had been paid in full and after part-payments, the arrears of his salaries for the period from October 1960 to April 1961 amounted to Rs. 2,950. This position was acknowledged by the employers in writing. Exhibit 2 is the written acknowledgement. So, when Shri Varma went on leave, Rs. 2,950 was due to him on account of arrear salaries. Shri Varma did not return from leave after 30 days, but he applied for extension of leave for 15 days by his letter, dated 28th May 1961 (Ext. 6 with admitted English translation). In this letter, he also asked for remittance of some money out of his settled arrear salaries to his home address so that he could come back to work speedily. No reply was sent to this letter by the employers. After these admitted facts, the further case put forward on behalf of this worker is that he returned to work in the factory on 18th July 1961 and from that date, he began to work in the factory as before, but he was not given any specific jobs to perform and was also threatened with retrenchment. He informed the employers about these facts by his letter, dated 27th July 1961 (Ext. 4). This letter remained unanswered and the allegations in it remained undenied. Shri Varma has taken oath in support of the allegations made in the letter. I believe and accept his testimonies in this respect. Then the further case put forward on behalf of Shri Varma is that he went on working in the factory in this manner up to 30th September 1961 and then when after the intervening holidays on 1st October 1961 (Sunday) and 2nd October 1961 (Mahatma Gandhi's birthday), he went to resume his duties in the factory, he was not allowed to enter the factory, and since then he was not allowed to work in the factory but was not served with any letter of termination of service or any letter of retrenchment. The employer's case on this point is that he over-stayed his leave and came back in the latter part of July 1961, when the factory had already been closed and was not working. I have already dealt with the respective cases of the parties as to what was the position of the factory in the latter part of July, particularly on 18th July 1961, and I have held that the factory was working then and the contrary has not been proved. Here also, I hold that Shri Varma really came back from leave on 18th July 1961 and joined the factory and resumed his work, but he was not given specific directions as to his work and in this manner he continued to work up to 30th September 1961 but from 3rd October 1961 he was not allowed to do any work. The fact that Shri Varma continued to work continuously from the date of his appointment, 15th November 1959 up to 28th April 1961 after which he went on sanctioned leave clearly indicates that he was confirmed in his appointment and his work was found satisfactory, though no express letter of confirmation was issued. Of course, it must also be held that Shri Varma overstayed his leave even after the expiry of 15 days for which he prayed for extension of leave by the letter, dated 28th May 1961 (Ext. 6), and the overstay exceeded a period of more than a month. But there is nothing to show that the Company dismissed him for over-staying his leave. The Company has come forward with such a plea in the present case, but it has not been proved. Had he been dismissed for unauthorisedly overstaying his leave, the employers would certainly have issued a letter of dismissal. On the contrary, the evidence clearly proves that after his return from home, he was allowed to work in the factory from 18th July 1961 right up to 30th September 1961. I have rejected the employers' plea that the factory was not working on 18th July 1961. It is significant to note that the employers have not produced any document to show that the factory was not working from sometime in July 1961 and this workman did not also work from 18th July 1961. I have already referred to this fact in connection with my discussion of this point under the preliminary objection raised by the employers. So, there is no escape from the position that Shri Varma became a confirmed workman of this factory after the expiry of the experimental period of one month according to the letter of appointment, Ext. 1, and he worked continuously from 15th November 1959 to 28th April 1961 and then he went home on sanctioned leave for 30 days from 29th April 1961 and thereafter he returned and joined work on 18th July 1961 and worked right up to 30th September 1961 and then he was not allowed to work from 3rd October 1961 after the intervening holidays on 1st October 1961 and 2nd October 1961. There is also no escape from the position that at the time when he went on leave, there was a settlement of account regarding his arrear salaries and a sum of Rs. 2,950 was found due to him and this was acknowledged by the employers. No payment towards this admitted arrear amount has been made. Shri Varma through his solicitors, Messrs. S. C. Roy Chowdhury & Co., sent a letter of demand claiming his arrear salaries putting the amount at Rs. 4,750 (Ext. 5), and in reply to this demand, the employers' solicitors stated in their letter, dated 30th September 1961 (Ext. A), that the acknowledged amount of arrears settled by accounting on 28th April 1961 could not be claimed by Shri Varma, because he had broken the condition of returning to duty immediately after the leave period and had not returned to duty immediately after the expiry of the leave and the further sum claimed by Shri Varma was not payable because of his absence and unsatisfactory work. It was also stated in this reply that he had been summarily dismissed. There is no proof of summary dismissal and this is nothing but a groundless belated plea. There was no condition in the accounting (Ext. 4) that the admitted arrear salaries, found due to this workmen by accounting on 28th April 1961 were not payable if he did not return to duty after the expiry of his leave. In any case, these previous arrear salaries cannot be affected by his subsequent overstaying the leave. Some attempt has been made to make out a case that on account of the bad work done by this workman, the employers suffered some loss and this workman is bound to make good this loss and if this loss is taken into account, hardly anything would be due to this workman. There is no satisfactory evidence in support of this plea and in any case, this plea cannot be considered in course of the adjudication of the present industrial dispute. Upon the facts found above, the real position was that the employment of Shri Varma was illegally and unjustifiably terminated with effect from 3rd October 1961 when he was not allowed to enter the factory and do his work, though no letter of termination of employment was issued. By their conduct, the employers certainly signified termination of his employment and the workman also accepted it to be so. There was absolutely no reasonable ground for termination of his employment in this manner. No doubt he overstayed his leave which expired on or about 28th May 1961 and returned to work thereafter on 18th July 1961. But as already indicated above, his service was not terminated for that reason but on the contrary he was allowed to work from 18th July 1961 up to 30th September 1961. Such termination of the employment of Shri Varma was certainly unjustified and mala fide and a clear instance of unfair labour practice and he is entitled to adequate reliefs.

As to the reliefs, Shri Varma has not claimed reinstatement on the ground that after he raised the present dispute, the factory is not working in its old site and he does not know whether the factory is working at all. When he has given up the claim for reinstatement, it is to be seen what other reliefs would be legally admissible to him. The admitted arrear salaries as settled by accounting on 28th April 1961 and amounting to Rs. 2,950 covering the period up to his going on leave would certainly be recoverable by him. He is also entitled to recover his salary at the rate of Rs. 450 per month from 18th July 1961 to 30th September 1961, the period during which he actually worked and was allowed to work after he returned from home. The total salary for this period would amount to Rs. 1,103. He is also entitled to his leave salary at the rate of Rs. 450 for one month from 29th April 1961 to 28th May 1961. Besides these salaries, he would also be entitled to some compensation for illegal and unjustified termination of his employment. It is clear that the Company acted with gross mala fides and in a very hind-handed manner in terminating his employment by refusing to give him work with effect from 3rd October 1961. The learned Union representative has submitted an account claiming full salary from October 1961 to 31st May 1963, amounting to Rs 9,000, notice pay for one month—Rs. 450 and retrenchment benefit on the assumption that his service continued from November 1959 to May 1963, and the total amount has been calculated as Rs. 900. In my view, this workman should get adequate compensation for unjustified and mala fide termination of employment and the compensation should be his monthly salary for a sufficient period. After having regard to the overall facts and circumstances and the period that has elapsed since the termination of employment was effected and the dispute was raised, I consider it fair and equitable to allow him compensation equivalent to one year's salary. This would amount to Rs. 5,400. In my view, this would be quite sufficient compensation and no other compensation would be admissible to him. In the result, I hold that the concerned workman would not get reinstatement, which he himself does not want, but would get Rs. 9,903 in all, being the total amount of his arrear salaries and compensation as calculated above, from the employers.

On the above findings and for the reasons given above, I award that the employers, Messrs. Vulcan Cables, terminated the employment of this workman with effect from 3rd October 1961 without any sufficient or legal reason or ground and such termination of employment was not justified and was a mala fide action amounting to unfair labour practice and that as he has given up his claim for reinstatement, he should get other monetary reliefs legally admissible to him and the total of the monetary reliefs would be a sum of Rs. 9,903 as per findings recorded above. I further award that the employers shall pay to this workman this total amount of Rs. 9,903 within a month from the publication of the award.

A question has been raised as to who would be liable to pay the monetary reliefs set out above. Certainly the employers, Messrs. Vulcan Cables, would be primarily liable for the payment. But the present position, as shown by evidence, is that this industry is not working at its old site and there is nothing definite to show where it is working now and whether it is working at all in the same name. By the Corrigendum issued after the original order of reference, the names of the alleged proprietors were added after the name of the industry, Messrs. Vulcan Cables. The names of the proprietors were Sarvashri Baldeo Prasad Murarka, Bishnu Prasad Murarka, Mohon Lal Murarka and Purusattam Lal Murarka. Among them, only Shri Baldeo Prasad Murarka has appeared and filed written statement stating that he is the sole proprietor of this industry and the others who are his father, uncle and brother have no concern with this industry. The other alleged proprietors have not appeared and filed any written statement. The oral evidence is oath versus oath. Shri Varma has stated that all the four persons named in the order of reference were and are the proprietors of the industry. As against this, there is the evidence of O. P. W. 1 Shri Baldeoprasad Murarka that he is the sole proprietor. Let us now examine how the documentary evidence on this point stands. The letter of appointment issued to this workman (Ext. 1) was signed by Shri Baldeoprasad Murarka alone. The account of arrear salaries up to April 1961 (Ext. 2) was signed for Vulcan Cables by Shri Baldeoprasad Murarka alone as the proprietor. This account was admitted and accepted by the workman. The letter, dated 27th July 1961, by the workman complaining about his not being given specific jobs to perform after he joined the work in the factory on 18th July 1961 (Ext. 4) was addressed to "The Proprietor" in singular and not to the proprietors in plural. The workman's solicitors letter of demand, dated 13th September 1961 (Ext. 5), was also addressed to Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka only as the proprietor. The workman's letter, dated 25th May 1961 (Ext. 6), written from home when he was on leave was addressed to Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka alone. So, the documentary evidence clearly points to the conclusion that Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka was the sole proprietor of this industry, Messrs. Vulcan Cables and was acknowledged as such by this workman. No doubt the oral evidence is that he was a student when this factory was started in 1958 and after that he passed the B.Sc. examination in 1959. This fact cannot by itself necessarily prove that he was not the sole proprietor and he could not be the sole proprietor. He has said that he started the factory by borrowing money. This was certainly not unusual or impossible. There may be some suspicion that he was set up by his father and uncle to run the business in his name. But, this Tribunal cannot act on suspicion alone. When the admitted documentary evidence produced on behalf of the concerned workman clearly shows that he treated and acknowledged Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka as the proprietor of this concern by accepting payments from him, settling account with him and sending letter of demand to him, he cannot be allowed to contradict this position and to say that there are other proprietors. In the above view of the evidence and circumstances bearing on this question, I hold that Shri Baldeoprosad Murarka was and is the sole proprietor of this concern, Messrs. Vulcan Cables, and he along with the concerned employers, Messrs. Vulcan Cables, shall be liable to pay the amount awarded to the workman as above.

This finishes the award.

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal, Shri Jabbar, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had discharged the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Goovernment;

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Jabbar, c/o Arun Sen, Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union, Q-77 Akra Road, Calcutta-24, against Messrs. Kesoram Cotton Mills, Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, arising out of G. O. No. 5867-I.R., dated 7th October 1961. (Case No. 70/33A/1962.)

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 by Shri Jabbar against the Opposite Party for relief of reinstatement with full back wages, etc., on the following allegations. On account of illness, this Jabbar went home on leave from 30th April 1962 to 29th May 1962. As his illness lingered, he applied for extension of leave for 15 days. But no response was received. After recovery he came back with a medical certificate of fitness and reported for duty on 16th June 1962 but he was not allowed to work. He wrote again to the factory manager on 19th June 1962 for resumption of duty. Ultimately on 27th June 1962 he got the Opposite Party's letter, dated 25th June 1962, informing that he overstayed his leave, lost his job and was being kept in the badli list. The action of the Opposite Party amounted to punishment by dismissal or discharge and was in gross violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. This action of the Company is also illegal, mala fide and unjustified.

The case of the Opposite Party is briefly this. The present application under section 33A is untenable. On 31st May 1962 the Opposite Party received the applicant's application for extension of leave but the Opposite Party by registered letter, dated 6th June 1962, informed him that his prayer had been rejected. On 25th June 1962 the Opposite Party informed the applicant that his name had been placed in the badli list under the provision of the Standing Orders. The application is liable to be rejected for all these reasons.

After completion of all necessary tadbirs by the parties the case was fixed for hearing on 1st May 1963. On that date parties were ready and the case was taken up for hearing. The applicant himself deposed and at the end of his examination-in-chief stated that he did not want back his service and would be glad to receive all his outstanding dues only. In view of this statement of this disclaimer regarding reinstatement there was no cross-examination of the applicant, it being conceded by the Opposite Party that the applicant would be paid the Provident Fund money and outstanding dues as wages, etc., up to 25th June 1962, the date on which the applicant was notified as being put in the badli list.

In view of the above facts and circumstances, the prayer for reinstatement as made in the application stands rejected. He shall, however, be paid by the Opposite Party his Provident Fund dues, as well as all outstanding dues of wages up to 25th June 1962, within 15 days from the date of publication of this decision in the "Calcutta Gazette". Award is passed accordingly.

AWARD

By Order No. 122-I.R./IR/9L-60/59, dated the 10th January 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Khoribari Tea Estate (Darjeeling) and their workmen represented by the Darjeeling Zila Chia Kaman Mazdoor Union, Mahanandapara, Siliguri, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Thrid Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

This reference was received from the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing at the relevant time between Messrs. Khoribari Tea Estate (Darjeeling) (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Darjeeling Zila Chia Kaman Mazdoor Union, Mahanadapara, Siliguri (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

In pursuance of notices issued by this Tribunal the Company entered appearance. The Union sent written statement by registered post. Thereafter the Comopany filed their written statement. The Union did nothing else after sending the written statement by post and did not even appear on the hearing dates. However, before final disposal some attempt was made to give information afresh to the Union and accordingly the notice was sent but the Union remained untraced. Fresh date of hearing was finally fixed on 20th May 1963 when the Company came ready with witnesses but the Union as usual was absent without taking any steps. So the case had to be taken up ex-parte without dragging it any further unnecessarily. The Union systematically remained absent almost from the very beginning and was not diligent in the proper prosecution of the case and did not care to attend on any of the hearing dates including the final date of hearing. So, the proceeding had to be disposed of ex-parte under rule 21 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958.

The Company, however, adduced evidence, both oral and documentary.

The only issue that was formulated in the order of reference for consideration is:

Are the workers entitled to wages for the strike period which commenced on 26th June 1957?

Decision

There is no evidence on the side of the Union. The Company has adduced evidence. D. W. 1 Shri Kshitish Chandra Bal is the Manager of the Khoribari Tea Estate. It transpires from his evidence that Kastu Rautia was a daily-rated worker employed in the garden. He was Secretary of the garden unit of the Union and this Union was an organisation of the Communist Party of India. The said workman was dismissed from service in the year 1955 following a proceeding against him under section 107, Cr. P. C. But he was reinstated in 1956 at the request of the Labour Officer of the Government. After reinstatement he again started, creating trouble. So, he had to be charge-sheeted for major misconduct, and ultimately he was dismissed from service from 16th April 1957. Immediately after his dismissal the Union submitted a charter of demands which was received by the Company on the 20th June 1957. In the charter of demands, Ext. D. the Union held out a threat that unless the demands are conceded within seven days from the 18th June 1957, the workmen would resort to strike from 26th June 1957. According to the Manager, this charter of demands-cum-notice of strike (Ext. D) was received by the Company on the 20th June 1957. So, there was not sufficient time for the management to give proper consideration to the demands of the Union of the workmen. The Manager goes on to say that he asked the workmen not to resort to strike in hot haste but the management should be given reasonable time to consider their demands. But the workmen heeded not and they resorted to strike on the 26th of June 1957 and the strike was actually called off on the 8th of August 1957. As a result of the strike the Company sustained a heavy loss of production, the money value of which was amounting to Rs. 76,941.72 nP. and in support of which the balance-sheet of the year, Ext. E, has been placed before this Tribunal. During the strike period the Company made efforts to carry on the work of manuufacture of the tea with the help of new recruits from Ranchi area but that was not possible because of the interference by the Union. The Company's action in dismissing Kastu Rautia was found justified by the Second Labour Court to whom the dispute was referred for adjudication. Exhibit A is the award of that Court given on 7th December 1960. The Union submitted charter of demands immediately following the order of dismissal of this workman Kastu Rautia but simultaneously a strike threat was held out. There was little attempt on the part of the Union to have the disputes settled amicably or at least to give reasonable time to the management to bestow proper consideration to the demands. It was not a desirable state of things. The workmen's right to strike is no doubt a recognised weapon for ascertaining their bargaining power and for backing up their collectve demands against an unwilling employer, but it is to be used as a last resort when all other avenues of settlement of industrial disputes have proved futile (10 F.J.R. 240). It was further held in that case that justification of the strike depends to a large extent upon whether or not the parties tried all other available means of settlement of the dispute, according to law. In the instant case, the Union took a hasty decision to resort to strike without attempting settlement of the disputes amicably or without giving reasonable time to the management to think over the demands of the workmen along wtih the financial implications involved. Therefore, in that view of the matter the strike was not justified. It has already been found that because of this hasty and irresponsible action of the workmen, the Company had to suffer heavy financial loss in that year. Therefore, the workmen are not entitled to wages for the period of the strike which is found unjustified.

Before I conclude I must point out that the workmen not only resorted to strike but also indulged in violence and unruly conducts. It is in the evidence of the Manager that they assaulted some members of the staff and workers who were willing to resume work, for which there had been some criminal prosecutions against some members of the Union which ended in convictions (vide judgements Exts. B series). Therefore, it was not a peaceful strke. The Union of the workmen took a hasty decision without any desire to avail of any means of settlement with the employer and not only actually resorted to strike without sufficient justification and continued it for a considerable period of time and at the same time indulged in volence and assaults and in creating terror for the loyal workers, as a result of which the Company had to suffer heavy financial loss to the extent of Rs. 77,000. Therefore, the workmen participating in the unjustified strike which commenced on 26th June 1957 in the garden are not entitled to wages for the strike period.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. made to this Court by the West Bengal Government in their Labour Department under Order No. 4580I.R.|IR|10L-83|59, dated the 22nd September 1959.

Some time after service of usual notices parties filed their respective written statements. Thereafter the Company filed a petition for finalising talk of compromise between the parties. 31st October 1962 was fixed for the result of talk of compromise by my predecessor in office. But on that date neither party appeared and as such my learned predecessor took it as failure of compromise talk and fixed the 20th December 1962 for hearing. In the meantime my predecessor in office was transferred elsewhere and the court was lying vacant for some time. After my joining this court I fixed 22nd April 1963 for hearing and the matter was notified in the Notice Board to that effect. But none on behalf of either side appeared on that date and no step was taken by either of the parties. However again 15th May 1963 was fixed for hearing and registered notices were issued on both the parties with acknowledgment due for hearing on that day. It appears from the record that the notice on the Union was duly received by the Secretary of the Union on 4th May 1963 and by the Company on 1st May 1963. Today the Company's representative is present but none appears for the Union nor any steps taken for it in spite of the said notice. Apparently then no dispute exists between the parties. Therefore I pass this no dispute award and dispose of the case accordingly.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, relates to a number of disputes between Messrs. H. V. Low & Co. Pvt. Ltd. of 3 Synagogue Street, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by H. V. Low & Co. Pvt. Ltd. Employees' Union of 23A Netaji Subhas Roard, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter referred to as the Union). During the pendency of the case another Union, namely, the H. V. Low & Co. Pvt. Ltd. Workers' Association (hereinafter referred to as the Association) joined as a party to the proceedings representing a number of workmen of the Company. The case of the Union is as follows:

The Company is a reputed and flourishing concern employing a number of clerical and subordinate staff. There are no service rules, no security of service, no grades and scales of pay, no dearness allowance and no retiring benefits for the employees of the Company. The employees formed a Union sometime in 1958 and informed the Company about its formation. This Union submitted a charter of demands in July|August 1959. Having failed to have their grievances redressed, the employees, through the Union, approached the Labour Commissioner and the latter issued notices to the Union and the Company to have the disputes settled by conciliation. But the Company retrenched six workmen mentioned in the order of reference with effect from 1st January 1960. These six workmen were active members of the Union and two of them were members of the Executive Committee. This retrenchment, according to the Union, is a case of victimisation, as the Company failed to observe the rule of "last come first go".

Workman Sambhu Misir is a permanent employee of the Company. He was informed by a letter from Messrs. S. N. Mukherjee & Co., Solicitors, that the Company had decided to suspend him from work with effect from 15th May 1959 on the allegation that the workman had assaulted another employee named Ram Suk Pandey. This workman wrote to the Company denying the allegation against him but since 15th May 1959 he was never permitted to come to the office and do any work. The Company never replied to the letter of this workman and never held any enquiry against him. Shri Misir is still under suspension. It is the case of the Union that the suspension of Shri Misir is unjustified and the Union prays that the Company should be directed to permit him to resume his work and to pay him all his wages due to him from 15th May 1959 till the date of his reinstatement. The Union also prays that the retrenchment of six workmen whose names are mentioned in the order of reference be set aside and they may be reinstated in service and that their services must be continuous from the date of their retrenchment. The Union further prays that these workmen may be paid their arrears of salaries from the date of their retrenchment till the date of reinstatement. The Union also prays that there being no service rules, grades of pay, dearness allowance, retiral benefits, etc., an award should be passed fixing scales of pay for different categories of workers and for dareness allowance, for fixation of working hours and an award for payment of retiring benefits.

The case of the Association is that the disputes in respect of the retrenchment of the workmen whose names are mentioned in the order of reference and the suspension of Shri Sambhu Misir were not raised by this Association. The demands of the Association are in respect of claim for leave, working hours, grades and scales of pay, dearness allowance, retiral benefits, etc.

Both the Union and the Association allege that the Company is a reputed, flourishing and a highly profitable concern. It is the common case of both the Union and the Association that there are no service rules, or grades of pay, or dearness allowance or retiral benefits, etc., for the employees of the Company.

The Company filed a written statement. The Company's case is as follows:

The Company is a managing agency concern and as most of the managed Companies are running at a heavy loss, the "Company practically has no income." The Company gave up managing agency of two Coal Companies in 1959 and three Coal Companies in 1960, and at the present moment it holds managing agency for five Coal Companies only. As a result of loss of business and profit, the Company was compelled to retrench six employees whose names are mentioned in the order of reference.

Regarding the case of Shri Sambhu Misir, it is said that this workman assaulted another employee of the Company named Ram Suk Pandey in the office of the Company and the Company therefore suspended him with effect from 15th May 1959. An enquiry was held and Shri Misir being found guilty was dismissed from service. The Company submits that the issue No. 2 has been wrongly framed as Shri Misir was not under suspension, but that he was dismissed from service after he was charge-sheeted and after an enquiry was held in which he was found guilty of misconduct.

Regarding the other points raised by the Union and the Association, the Company submits that it is covered under the Shops and Establishments Act and it grants leave to employees according to provisions of this Act. The hours of work for employees are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with half-an-hour's recess. The Company admits that there are no grades of service or scales of pay in view of weak financial position of the Company and that the wages or salaries paid to the employees are inclusive of dearness allowance. According to the Company, the employees are paid consolidated wages. The Company further submits that as no overtime work is done, the question of payment of overtime wages does not arise. Regarding retiral benefit, it is stated by the Company that since the introduction of the Provident Fund Scheme by the Government, the Company is making contributions to the Provident Fund Scheme in respect of all the employees.

It is contended on behalf of the Company that this reference was originally made to the First Labour Court and that the First Labour Court being abolished sometime in 1960, no further reference could be made by the Government to this Tribunal for adjudication of the disputes. The Company submits that the present reference is not maintainable.

Decision

Issue No. 1: This issue ralates to retrenchment of six workmen of the Company who are members of the clerical staff. It is submitted at the outset that Shri Sachindra Goswami (serial No. 1), a workman under reference in respect of issue No. 1, withdrew from the dispute and having taken all his dues from the Company he has no case at the present moment. The Union also admits that Shri Goswami has withdrawn from the dispute and the issue No. 1 after his withdrawal should be taken in respect of the retrenchment of five workmen—serial Nos. 2 to 6.

It is admittedly a fact that the Company retrenched the six workmen under rreference with effect from 1st January 1960 on the ground that the Company was suffering from loss of business and profit. It is in evidence that the Company acted as managing agents for 10 Coal Companies but sometime in 1959 it gave up the managing agency in respect of two Coal Companies. It is said that on account of giving up the managing agency of these two Coal Companies, the income of the Company was considerably reduced and so was the profit. It is also in evidence that after the retrenchment of six workmen, the Company again gave up managing agency in respect of three other Coal Companies out of the remaining eight sometime in 1960. This may go to prove that the Company having given up the managing agency of two Companies in 1959, the reduction in the number of employees was justified. Be that as it may, there is no proof on the side of the Company to show that in retrenching these six workmen it followed the principles of "last come first go." It is alleged by the Union that employees junior to the six employees under reference in respect of issue No. 1 were retained in service, whereas these six workmen being senior to the juniormost members of the staff were retrenched as these persons had been active members of the Union. The onus is upon the Company to prove that in effecting retrenchment, the Company observed the principle of "last come first go." But there is absolutely no proof on the side of the Company to show that this principle was observed. Unless it is definitely proved that the six workmen under reference in respect of issue No. 1 were the juniormost members of the staff, their retrenchment cannot be justified. The Comapny having failed to discharge its onus, I have no other alternative than to hold that the retrenchment of workmen, serial Nos. 2 to 6 of issue No. 1, is unjustified. These five workmen are therefore entitled to claim reinstatement with effect from 1st January 1960.

Issue No. 2: It is alleged by the Union that Shri Sambhu Misir is being kept under suspension from 15th May 1959 on the allegation that he had assaulted another employee of the Company. Exhibit 1 is the letter of suspension given to Sambhu Misir. The letter is dated 15th May 1959. It was from this date that Shri Sambhu Misir was kept under suspension. Exhibit 2 is the reply given by Shri Misir in which he denied the allegation made in Ext. 1. This letter is dated 20th May 1959. It is the case of the Company that Shri Misir having assaulted another employee of the Company named Ram Suk Pandey on 15th May 1959 he was placed under suspension from that date, that he was charge-sheeted and an enquiry was held against him. Shri Sambhu Misir (P.W. 1) denied that there was any enquiry held against him. O.P.W. 1 Ram Suk Pandey gave evidence on behalf of the Company. He says that he was assaulted by Shri Misir on 15th May 1959, but regarding what had happened after the assault he says: "after the assault had taken place the Company or its solicitors never enquired into the matter and I was never called to attend any enquiry, or meetings." The Company has not filed any record of proceedings. There is nothing on the side of the Company to prove that any enquiry was held against Shri Misir regarding the alleged occurrence of 15th May 1959. So, the Company's case that Shri Misir was charge-sheeted, that an enquiry was held and that he was dismissed from service after an enquiry, has not been proved. This being the case, I hold that the suspension of Shri Misir since 15th May 1969 is unjustified. This workman under reference is therefore entitled to resume his work and he will be considered to be in service and on duty continuously from 16th May 1959 and in continuation of his previous service.

Issues Nos. 3 to 9: Both the Union and the Association state in their written statements that the Company has no system of granting leave to workmen, that there is no fixed working hours, that there are no grades and scales of pay, or dearness allowance or overtime allowance, that the subordinate staff are not supplied with liveries and that the workers are not entitled to any retiral benefits. It is in evidence that the Company had managing agency in respect of 10 Coal Companies and that in course of a year in 1959-60 the Company gave up managing agency in respect of five of the Coal Companies. The Company now has managing agency in respect of only five Coal Companies since 1960. This being the case, there must have been considerable reduction of work in the office of the Company. The Company's Office Manager deposed that there has been loss of business and also of profit of the Company, although the Company failed to produce any documents to support the statement of the Manager. The fact is that the Company is now managing only five Coal Companies out of 10 and it cannot but therefore be held that there has been a considerable reduction of work in the office of the Company. I am therefore of opinion that the workmen of the Company including the workmen under reference in respect of issues Nos. 1 and 2 excepting Shri Sachindra Goswami should continue to work under the terms and conditions as are now prevailing in the office. It is in evidence that the workmen are made to work from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with a break for half-an-hour for lunch, that dearness allowance is included within the consolidated pay, that there is no overtime work done by the workmen and that the Company is contributing to the Employees' Provident Fund Scheme for the benefit of its workers.

Two agreements have been filed—one between the Company and the Association, and another between the Company and majority of employees of the Company. The Company made a prayer that the Association of the workers of the Company being representatives of almost all the workers, this Tribunal should pass an award in terms of the agreement filed. In the written statement filed by the Association, it was stated that the issues No. 1 and 2 were not raised by the Association at all. It threfore follows that the disputes in respect of issues Nos. 1 and 2 not being raised by the Association, it could not enter into any agreement with the Company for and on behalf of the persons under reference in respect of these two issues who are, in fact, represented by the Union. Disputes were originally raised by the Union for retrenchment of the six workmen under reference in respect of issue No. 1, for suspension of Sambhu Misir, the workman under reference in respect of issue No. 2, and also for general demands as set out in issues Nos. 3 to 9. The issues Nos. 3 to 9 are, as a matter of fact, for the entire body of the workmen of the Company. Any agreement in respect of the first two issues can only be arrived at between the Company and the Union. The Association having no connection with the disputes in respect of the first two issues has no authority to enter into any agreement with the Company upholding the orders of retrenchment and suspension of the workman under reference in respect of these two issues. I am, therefore, unable to dispose of the entire matter under issues Nos. 1 to 9 on the basis of the agreement between the Company and the Association. In respect of the two agreements between the Company and the Association and between the Company and the majority of workers in respect of issues Nos. 3 to 9, the Union is competent to agitate the disputes in respect of all the issues independently, as the issues were all raised by the Union. The Company's prayer for passing an award only on the basis of the agreement is rejected.

The claim of the Union in respect of issues Nos. 3 to 9 has not been satisfactorily supported by any substantial evidence. The Company is a small concern. Even then, the Company gave two increments in the salaries and wages of its workmen in spite of reduction of work in its office. The workmen are paid consolidated wages which include dearness allowance. The salaries and wages as paid to the workmen of the Company appear to be reasonable. In my opinion, no further dearness allowance can be granted to the workmen of the Company as consolidated wages including dearness allowance are paid to them. The Manager of the Company deposed that the Company being covered under the Shops and Establishments Act and Employees' Provident Fund Act, it is granting leave, holidays, etc., according to the provisions of the first Act, and the Company is contributing to the Provident Fund under the provisions of the Employees' Provident Fund Act for each of the workmen. The Manager says that the wokmen work from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with half-an-hour's recess on all days excepting on Saturdays when they work from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and the workmen are never made to do any overtime work. The Union has nothing to prove that the facts are otherwise. I have already said that the Company having given up Managing Agency of 5 out of 10 Coal Companies, the work in office must have considerably reduced.

Considering the facts and circumstances, I hold that the system of granting leave, of working hours, of pay and dearness allowance should remain as it is. There is no overtime work for any workmen and I therefore cannot fix any allowance for a practice which is not in existence. Regarding uniform for sub-staff, the Manager says that these are being supplied. So, no order need be passed for issue No. 8. As the Company is paying contributions to the Employees' Provident Fund in respect of all the employees, they are therefore being given retiral benefits. In view of the above observations and findings, these issues, i.e., issues Nos. 3 to 9 are answered in favour of the Company. The terms of the agreements filed in respect of disputes under issues Nos. 3 to 9 are virtually the same as my findings of these issues.

That being the case, the two agreements, or any of the two agreements filed, need not be made a part of the award.

The agreements may be kept with the record.

I will now take up the contention of the Company regarding the maintainability of the present reference.

It is true that the reference was originally made to the First Labour Court. That Court was abolished sometime in April 1960 and was replaced by this Tribunal. The Government made a fresh reference to this Tribunal for the adjudication of the disputes. The learned lawyer for the Company submits that with the abolition of the First Labour Court the reference became ineffective and the Government had no power to make a fresh reference to a Tribunal. I do not accept this contention as sound. The First Labour Court being abolished, the disputes pending for adjudication before that Court could not be considered to have ceased to exist along with the abolition of the Court The disputes between the Company and its workmen remained and as the disputes existed for adjudication the Government was competent to make a fresh reference to a Tribunal. I overrule the contention of the Company and hold that the reference is maintainable and the Tribunal is competent to adjudicate upon the disputes.

In view of the findings given above, I pass the following award:

The Company is directed to reinstate workmen Nos. 2 to 6 of issue No. 1 and pay them ⅔ (two-third) of the wages due to them from the date of retrenchment till their reinstatement. The Company is directed to reinstate them and to pay them compensation within a month from the date of publication of the award in the official gazette. The services of the workmen Nos. 2 to 6 of issue No. 1 would be continuous. The Company is further directed to permit Shri Sambhu Misir, the workman in respect of issue No. 2, to resume duties and pay him compensation equivalent to ⅔ (two-third) of his wages from the date of the order of suspension till he is permitted to resume his duty within a month from the date of the publication of this award in the official gazette. Regarding the disputes in respect of issues Nos. 3 to 9, the issues being answered in favour of the Company, it is directed to follow the system as is now prevailing in its office.

This is my award.

Final Forecast of Mesta Crop of West Bengal for 1960-61

[Note.—The figures of acreage of Mesta Crop for both this year and last year as shown in this forecast are based on the results of sample survey carried out by the State Statistical Bureau, West Bengal, and the figures of yield rate per acre of the crop for both this year and last year are based on the reports received from the staff of the Directorate of Agriculture, West Bengal. The yield rates are eye-estimates.]

Season.—The weather condition in the early part of the season was not favourable; drought prevailed almost everywhere for over a month and a half from late March to early part of May. In the second week of May, a fairly widespread rainfall occurred in many places and this enabled cultivators to resume the sowing of the crop. The subsequent weather was, on the whole, favourable for the growth of the crop.

Area and Yield.—178,200 acres were under Mesta crop this year as against 214,400 acres of last year.

Shrinkage in acreage may be attributed to unfavourable weather at the sowing time.

The total outturn of the crop for the State as a whole has been estimated at 395,100 bales this year as against 408,200 bales of last year.

The average yield per acre of the crop has been estimated at 2.22 bales this year as against 1.90 bales of last year.

(Note.—The figures of acreage of Mesta crop for both this year and last year as shown in this forecast are based on the results of Sample Survey carried out by State Statistical Bureau, West Bengal, and the figures of yield rate per acre of Mesta crop for both this year and last year are based on the reports received from the staff of the Directorate of Agriculture. The estimates of yield rates are eye-estimates.)

Season.—The weather conditions were generally favourable at the time of sowing in the districts except Jalpaiguri, West Dinajpur and Islampur sub-division. In Nadia district, floods and insect pests affected the growth of the crop.

Area and Yield.—214,400 acres were under Mesta this year as against 362,100 acres last year. The decrease in area may be due to the fall of market price of mesta fibre. The total production has been estimated at 408,200 bales this year as against 861,100 bales of last year.

The average yield per acre has been estimated at 1.90 bales this year as against 2.38 bales of last year.

Final Forecast of Jute Crop of West Bengal for 1960-61

(Note.—The estimates of acreage and production of jute for this year and last year shown in this forecast are based on the results of random sample surveys and crop-cutting experiments conducted by the State Statistical Bureau, West Bengal.)

Season.—As has been stated in the preliminary forecast, the weather conditions at the earlier part of the season were not favourable. Severe drought prevailed almost everywhere for over a month and a half from late March to early part of May. During this period, sowing was suspended in many places. The early varieties of jute which had already been sown suffered a great deal. In the second week of May a fairly widespread rainfall occurred in many places and this enabled cultivators to resume jute sowing. The subsequent weather was, on the whole, favourable for the growth of the crop.

Area and Yield.—720,300 acres are estimated to have been under jute this year as against 823,600 acres of last year. Shrinkage in acreage may be attributed to unfavourable weather and want of seed at the sowing time. The total production of jute fibres is estimated at 1,986,600 bales this year as against 2,169,600 bales of last year.

The average yield of jute fibres obtained per acre is estimated at 2.76 bales this year as against 2.63 bales of last year.

Preliminary forecast of Autumn Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1960-61

(Note.—The figures of acreages for this year and last year as shown in this forecast are the preliminary estimates of the State Statistical Bureau, West Bengal, based on half sample "A", i.e., 50 per cent. of the materials of random sample surveys.)

In the second week of May, fairly widespread rains occurred in many places and this enabled the cultivators to resume sowing of aus. Since then the weather conditions have been favourable in most of the districts. Reports of attack of rice Hispa were received from some districts.

Area sown.—1,551,300 acres are estimated to have been sown with Autumn Rice Crop this year as against 1,502,000 acres and 1,476,800 acres reported respectively in the corresponding and in the final forecast of last year.

The final estimate of acreage as also the estimate of yield based on crop cutting experiments by random sempling method will be shown in the final forecast.

Final forecast of Autumn Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1960-61

(Note.—The estimate of acreages and yield rate of Autumn Rice both for last year and this year shown in this forecast are based on the results of random sample survey and crop-cutting experiments conducted by the State Statistical Bureau, West Bengal.)

Season.—Except for a spell of drought from late March to early part of May the weather conditions were generally favourable for the cultivation and growth of the crop. Reports of attack of rice bug and pest were received from some districts.

Area and yield.—1,571,100 acres were under Autumn Rice this year as against 1,476,800 acres of last year. The total outturn of the crop for the State as a whole in terms of cleaned rice is estimated at 508,700 tons this year as against 459,900 tons of last year.

The average outturn of cleaned rice per acre for the State as a whole is estimated at 8.81 maunds this year as against 8.48 maunds of last year.

The increase in acreage and yield may be attributed to the favourable weather.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT AND PANCHAYATS DEPARTMENT

RESOLUTION

No. 3559 MIM-41/63.—19th June 1963. — The administration of the Burdwan Municipality in the district of Burdwan has been engaging the attention of Government for sometime past. The Municipality was inspected by the Inspector of Local Bodies, Burdwan Division, in August 1962 and again by the Additional District Magistrate, Burdwan, in May 1963 and the reports reveal an extremely unsatisfactory position in the administration of the Municipality. The following are some of the instances of incompetency and default shown by the Municipal commissioners in the performance of their duties:—

(1) Sarkar ledgers were not properly kept under rules 66 and 67 of the Municipal Account Rules since April 1962.

(2) The demands as per "Abstract of Demands" and as per "Demand and Collection Register" were not quarterly verified during 1961-62 as required under rule 56 of the Municipal Account Rules. The Municipal commissioners were also found not to issue demand notices properly and in one instance only 400 demand notices were issued as against a total number of ratepayers of about 18,500. Such improper issue of demand notices shows lack of seriousness on the part of the Municipal commissioners in the matter of collection of rates and taxes.

(3) No security was obtained from some of the employees of the Municipality though it was necessary under the Municipal rules.

(4) The Municipality had a closing balance of Rs 2,94,228 against outstanding liabilities of Rs. 1,36,950 at the end of the year 1961-62. Even though there was sufficient closing balance, outstanding bills were not duly paid. Even bills of the year 1956 have not been paid and the reason for withholding such payment is not mentioned.

(5) The percentages of total collection during the years 1959-60, 1960-61 and 1961-62 were 68, 60 and 60 respectively which was very unsatisfactory. The outstanding balance of rates and taxes during 1960-61 and 1961-62 were Rs. 4,80,206 and Rs. 5,29,470 respectively. Against such huge outstanding balances the Municipal commissioners issued 65 and 221 distress warrants involving only Rs. 8,902 and Rs. 3,640 respectively. Issue of such small number of distress warrants is far too inadequate to meet the requirements of the situation and shows lack of interest on the part of the Municipal commissioners to improve collection.

(6) Recently two sets of meetings were held on the same subject on the same day, one at 4 p.m. and the other at 5 p.m. and were attended by different groups of commissioners. This shows serious and acute party faction among the Municipal commissioners which is detrimental to the proper administration of the Municipality.

(7) Attendance registers were not properly maintained. Overtime wages were irregularly paid to 2 employees on 2nd August 1961 and 3rd August 1961 and also to another employee for 4 days on 2nd August 1962, 3rd August 1962, 22nd August 1962 and 23rd August 1962.

(8) License was issued to one Shri Durga Oil Mills for dangerous trade without obtaining Health Officer's report as to whether such license could appropriately be given.

(9) Even though there was an encroachment on the bank of triangular Municipal park, no action was taken by the Municipal commissioners for a long time in this regard.

2. After a very careful consideration, Government have come to the conclusion that the commissioners of the Burdwan Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform and have persistently made default in the performance of duties imposed on them under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932, and the rules framed thereunder relating to the administration of the said Municipality and that the present state of affairs cannot be allowed to continue without serious detriment to the interests of the inhabitants of the Municipality.

3. In exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (1) of section 553 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is, therefore, pleased to declare the commissioners of the Burdwan Municipality to be incompetent and in default and to supersede them for the period from 20th June 1963 to the 31st December 1964.

Ordered that this resolution be published in the "Calcutta Gazette".

By order of the Governor,
A. K. DATTA,
Jt. Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

NOTIFICATION

No. 3560/MIM-41/63.—19th June 1963. — In exercise of the power conferred by clause (bb) of sub-section (1) of section 554 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), hereinafter referred to as the said Act, the Governor is pleased to direct that all the powers and duties which may, under the provisions of the said Act or any other Act or any Ordinance or any Regulation or any rule, by-law, order, notification, or subsidiary legislation made under the provisions of the said Act or such other Act or such Ordinance or such Regulation, be exercised and performed by the Chairman and the commissioners, whether at a meeting or otherwise, of the Burdwan Municipality who have been superseded by resolution No. 3559/MIM-41/63, dated the 19th June 1963, shall be exercised and performed by Shri S. K. Mukherjee, Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector, with effect from 20th June 1963 until further orders.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM.

Under clause 3 of the West Bengal Estates Acquisition (Amendment) Bill, 1963, provisions have been proposed to be made in the Estates Acquisition Act for payment of compensation for embankments, the proper maintenance of which Government may decide to take over in the public interest. The Government have not yet taken any decision in this respect. It is not possible to say at this stage what area of embankments will be taken over, and, therefore, what amount of compensation will be payable therefor.

2. Under clause 6 of the Bill, provisions have been proposed to be made in the Act for payment of annuity for a mixed trust for that portion of the income of the interest which is devoted exclusively for charitable or religious purposes. Taking such income of mixed trusts at 1 per cent. of the total net income of the vested estates, the additional liability of Government on this account is estimated at Rs. 4 lakhs per annum in perpetuity. The West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control (Temporary Provisions) (Second Amendment) Bill, 1963.

(Clauses 4, 5.)

Insertion of new section 5A.

4. After section 5 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"Landlord to maintain supplies and services and make necessary repairs in requisitioned premises.

5A. (1) The landlord of any premises requisitioned under this Act shall be bound at his own expenses to maintain therein such supplies and services as were provided by him for the premises immediately before the date of requisition and to make in the premises such repairs, not being petty repairs, as the Collector may consider necessary for the proper use and occupation thereof.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section, "petty repairs" means repairs which do not cost more than ten rupees on any one account in a period of twelve calendar months.

(2) If, in respect of any premises, the Collector is satisfied that it is necessary to take any measures for the maintenance of any supply or service or for the making of any repairs which the landlord is, under sub-section (1), bound to maintain or make, the Collector may, by order served in the prescribed manner, require the landlord to take such measures within such time as may be specified in the order for maintaining the supply or service or for making the repairs, as the case may be.

(3) If the landlord fails to comply with an order made by the Collector under sub-section (2), the Collector may, with the previous sanction of the State Government, cause the measures specified in the order to be taken and the cost thereof may, without prejudice to any other mode of recovery, be deducted from the compensation payable to the landlord:

Provided that the amount which may be so deducted in any year shall not exceed thirty-three and one-third per cent. of the total compensation payable to the landlord in respect of the premises for that year.".

Amendment of section 11.

5. For clause (e) of sub-section (1) of section 11 of the said Act, the following clause shall be substituted, namely:—

"(e) the Arbitrator shall, in determining the amount of compensation to be awarded to the landlord, have regard to the matters referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of section 12:

Provided that—

(1) in the case of premises constructed after the commencement of the West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control (Temporary Provisions) (Second Amendment) Act, 1963, the amount payable annually shall not exceed 6¾ per cent. of the sum total of the cost of construction of the premises and the market price of the land on the date of commencement of construction, together with one-half of the total amount of municipal rates and taxes payable annually in respect of the premises;

(2) in other cases, the amount payable shall not exceed—

(i) where the premises were let out on rent immediately before being requisitioned, such rent by more than ten per cent., or

(ii) where the premises were not so let out, the rent payable for similar or nearly similar premises in respect of the condition of the premises, the amenities provided therein and the situation thereof.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The life of the West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1947 (West Bengal Act V of 1947), is due to expire after the 31st March, 1964. In view of the acute scarcity of accommodation for public purpose in the State and the present state of emergency in the country, it is necessary to retain the powers obtained under the Act for a further period beyond that date.

2. Difficulties are also being experienced in the working of the Act in the absence of suitable provisions for (a) requisitioning premises for residential accommodation of the employees of the State Government, (b) maintenance of supplies and services and making of repairs in the requisitioned premises, and (c) determination of rent compensation.

3. It is accordingly proposed to amend the Act to extend its life for a further period of two years up to the 31st March, 1966 and to remove the aforesaid difficulties.

4. The Bill has been framed with the above objects in view.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM.

Under clause 2 of the Bill, the life of the West Bengal Premises Requisition and Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1947 (West Bengal Act V of 1947), is sought to be extended for a further period of two years beyond the 31st March, 1964. The Act by itself does not entail any financial liability to the State Government although the initial responsibility for payment of compensation to the landlords for premises requisitioned under the Act rests on the State Government. The entire cost is ultimately recoverable from the Government employees, Government Departments and Offices and private institutions for whose purposes the premises are requisitioned.

2. Under clause 4 of the Bill, essential supplies and services will be maintained and necessary repairs, not being petty repairs costing more than Rs.10 on any one account in a period of twelve calendar months, will be made in the requisitioned premises by the landlords at their own cost. If any of them fails to do so, the works will be done by the State Government and the cost therefor will be recovered from him. The State Government will not thus have to bear any part of this cost also. The cost of petty repairs, if so made by the allottees of requisitioned premises, will not be borne by the State Government but by the allottees themselves.

Member-in-charge.

The report reveals the following instances of incompetency, default and abuse of powers shown by the said Anchal Panchayat in the performance of its dutes:—

(i) (a) A sum of Rs. 275.24 was spent for repairs to the office building of the Anchal Panchayat during 1961-62, though there was a budget provision for Rs. 235.31 only. Thus an expenditure of Rs. 39.93 was incurred by the Anchal Panchayat in excess of the provision in the budget without any approval of the authority concerned.

(b) A sum of Rs. 254.68 was spent for repairs to the enclosures of the building of the said Anchal Panchayat during 1961-62 without any budget provision for the same. No supplementary budget was also placed for the same by the above Anchal Panchayat. This was done in contravention of the provisions of section 60 of the West Bengal Panchayat Act, 1957, and amounted to an abuse of power.

(ii) The salary of one chowkidar for September 1962 was not paid till 20th December 1962 but the payment of the same was shown to have been made on 29th November 1962 in the cash book. This is highly irregular and tantamounts to misappropriation of public fund.

(iii) Amounts of Rs. 606.50 and Rs. 682.26 were spent by the Anchal Panchayat for the sinking of tubewells at Balitana and Karicha, respectively, during the year 1961-62, including the cost of construction of platforms and surface drains at the rate of Rs. 58 in each case. But during an enquiry held on 20th December 1962 it was found that the platform of the Karicha tubewell was not constructed at all though payment of Rs. 58.00 had already been made on 31st March 1962 by the Pradhan against a fictitious voucher. It was also found on the said enquiry the platform of the tubewell at Balitana was actually constructed on 13th December 1962, though the payment of the expenditure in this respect had been made as far back as 30th January 1962, against another fictitious voucher, and that too without any completion certificte.

AWARD

After service of usual notices on the parties both the parties entered appearances and filed their respective written statements. It may be mentioned that the Union representing the workmen has filed a very long written statement. The workmen's case in short is this: It is submitted by the workmen that the opposite party Company by its order, dated 21st June 1958, suddenly and arbitrarily retrenched the 16 workmen as mentioned in the order of reference. It is alleged that the Company is a highly prosperous concern and is under the Managing Agency of Messrs. B N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd. Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd. is the head of about a dozen Companies popularly known as B.N.E. concerns, and the Head Offices of all these Companies are in the same premises at 1 & 2 Old Court House Corner, Calcutta-1. In fact, all these different Companies are known as different departments of B.N.E. Company. The employees appointed in the said Companies are often transferred from one concern to another without having the continuity and conditions of their service affected in any way. The workmen of all the Companies have common interest and common service conditions, and they are represented by a single Trade Union of their own. Messrs. Oriental Electric & Engineering Company carry on business in imported goods and local products as also their own products manufactured by them. The imported goods, however, form only a fraction of the total volume of business carried on by this concern. So, despite the import restrictions imposed by the Central Government recently, the business of the present concern has not in any way suffered. It is urged that in view of the import restrictions, the volume of business of the Company has rather increased, and so there was no reason for re-organisation of this business or curtailing expenses thereof. But in spite of these circumstances, the Company retrenched 16 workmen for no justifiable reason. After this retrenchment also, this concern has employed some new workmen including clerks without allowing any opportunity of re-employment to these retrenched workmen. It is also contended that the rule of "last come first go" was not observed in effecting the said retrenchment. It is also alleged that the plea of economy is bogus. The Union submits that the aggrieved workmen have been retrenched by way of victimisation alone on account of their Union activities.

As against this, the case of the Company may be briefly stated as follows: The written statement on behalf of the Company mentioned in the order of reference has been filed by B. N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd., proprietor of the business carried on under the name and style of Messrs. Oriental Electric & Engineering Co. It is urged at the very outset that workman No. 4 Sarjug Shah has, in fact, never been retrenched and he is still in the employ of the Company, and so the question of justifying his retrenchment does not arise at all. It is further urged that all other persons mentioned in the order of reference have accepted their salary in lieu of notice, retrenchment compensation and salary in lieu of leave earned but not enjoyed, and have granted receipts in respect of abovementioned amounts in full and final settlement of all their claims against the Company. Except Shri B. K. Basak, all the retrenched persons who were members of Provident Fund have applied to the Provident Fund Trustees for payment of their Provident Fund money, and actually received payment of the same. Hence, it is urged that the workmen cannot any longer re-agitate the matter of retrenchment. It is also added that serial No 2. Nazir Ahmed and serial No. 3 Sukeswar Das have already accepted permanent employment in another Company, and so they cannot have any grievance against the present concern. Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd. asserts that its business consists of acting as Managing Agents of certain limited Companies and also carrying on certain proprietory business. This Company and its managed concerns have their Head Offices at 1 & 2 Old Court House Corner, Calcutta-1, but the Head Office buildings belong to Messrs. National Tobacco Co. of India Ltd. and so these Companies have to pay rent for the portion of premises occupied by them to the owner Company. Each of the managed Companies of Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co. has its own employees in its head office and factory if any to do its own work, while Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd. also engages and employs its own employees in its own work relating to its proprietory business or work connected with its Managing Agency of different Companies. It is also urged that each of the proprietory concerns has its own separate business and is independent of other units, and so each of the proprietory concerns is a separate industrial establishment within the meaning of law. The business now carried under the name and style of Messrs. Oriental Electric & Engineering Co. formerly belonged to Mr. I. R. Jacob who transferred his interest to this Company a few years back. It is denied that the employees of these different concerns are freely and regularly transferred from one concern to another. It is submitted that only in order to avoid retrenchment and recruitment from outside, it has been an implied term or condition of employment of the employees of this Company and its managed Companies that in case the services of any particular employee be not required, an attempt will first be made to offer him employment in any other Company, provided such employment is available there. In the case of such alternative employment, the employee concerned will be treated for all purposes as having been employed by his new employer on the date he was originally employed by his former employer. It is submitted that after the import restrictions were imposed by the Government, the business of Oriental Electric & Engineering Co. has greatly diminished, and as a result a large number of employees of this concern became surplus. This compelled the concern to retrench 16 persons in June 1958 and so the action of the Company was bona fide. The retrenched persons were given full retrenchment compensation in accordance with law. The notice of such retrenchment was also given to the Government of West Bengal. The rule of "last come first go" was duly observed while effecting this retrenchment.

On 27th February 1963 the Union files an additional written statement alleging that the Company has not only violated the provisions of section 25F(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act, but also contravened the provisions of section 25H of the Act by recruiting about 30 new hands after the date of retrenchment, without giving any intimation whatsoever to the retrenched employees concerned or giving them any opportunity for re-employment. It is also alleged that the Company has started a fullfledged factory at Agarpara shortly after the disputed retrenchment.

The Company also has filed an additional written statement in reply to the additional written statement filed by the Union. The Company denies that it has violated the provisions of law as mentioned in the Union's written statement. The Company, however, submits that it has a factory at Agarpara, and it was registered as a factory in 1960 only

Other facts will appear from the body of award that follows:

Decisions

Before I consider the issue on merit, I may mention that at the time of hearing the Union concedes that Shri Sarjug Shah is in the employ of the Company even now and that he was not retrenched. So, it goes without saying that there is no industrial dispute in respect of retrenchment of Shri Sarjig Shah, and accordingly his case goes out of the picture.

But there is no dispute that the other 15 persons of the order of reference were actually retrenched by the Company on 21st June 1958. In the notice of retrenchment the Company's case was that as a result of the import policy of the Government, the Company found it necessary to reorganise its business and curtail expenses. So, this Tribunal is to see how far the retrenchment of these 15 persons was justified. The contention on behalf of the workmen is that the Company in fact did not make any economy of expenses by effecting the said retrenchment and that its business did not shrink as alleged. I may simply observe that this is a question of fact and must be looked into in the light of the evidence on record. As to principle of retrenchment I may refer to the decision in the case of Royal Calcutta Golf Club (1960 I L.L.J. 464), which ruls as follows:

> "Under common law of master and servant, the master could terminate the employment of the servant without assigning any reason, the only limitation being that it was necessary to give reasonable notice of termination. The Industrial Disputes Act has, however, introduced considerable restriction on such rights. It is not possible to dismiss the workmen at will. Complicated rules have been laid down for regulating dismissals, retrenchments, lockout, etc. The employer could terminate the services of an employee as a result of the reorganisation of its business. A person has the right to reorganise his business in any fashion he likes for the purpose of economy and convenience, and nobody has right to tell him how he should conduct his business. The only limitation is that he should do it bona fide and not for the purpose of victimising his employees and to get rid of their services, which it would otherwise not be permissible. Provided, however, he acts within these limits, it is not for the Tribunal to tell him how he should conduct his business."

Following the dictum laid down in the case of D. Macropollo & Co. (P.) Ltd. (1958 II L.L.J. 492), it may be further observed that the Tribunal should not attach any importance to the consequences of reorganisation, for in such cases the resulting discharge and retrenchment would have to be considered as inevitable, though unfortunate consequences. In accordance with the principle laid down in the case of India Tyre & Rubber Co. (India) Ltd. reported in 1957 II L.L.J. at page 506, it may also be observed that it cannot be contended that there will be mala fides prima facie unless the Company is losing or making no profits. The deadweight of uneconomic surplus referred to in Supreme Court's case (1957 I L.L.J. 227) can operate at any level of profits. Keeping all these principles in view, this Tribunal is to consider whether the retrenchment effected in this particular case has really been mala fide as contended on behalf of the workmen. From the evidences adduced on behalf of the Company, it is more than clear that there has been considerable shrinkage in the matter on account of the import policy of the Central Government. This contention of the Company is not seriously challenged on behalf of the workmen. Here I may refer to the statement marked Ext. H in this connection. From this statement it will be clear that from January 1956 the volume of import business of the Company was dwindling from year to year. The volume of business on this account in the first half of 1956 was about Rs. 3½ lakhs, but it came down to Rs 37,000 only in the second half of the year 1958. So, it is difficult for me to doubt the bona fides of the Company when it states that due to the import policy of the Government, it was compelled to effect economy in expenses and reorganise its business. Exhibit H shows that the Company's business of local purchase and sales has also shrinked considerably by 1958. None of these witnesses on the side of the workmen has really any competence to speak on this point. So, there is little or no rebuttal evidence on record in this connection. Therefore, I think, the Company had sufficient reason to make an attempt at reorganising its business and effecting economy, if possible. It is urged on behalf of the Union that the Company's local business has rather improved though its import business may have gone down to some extent. But there is no material on my record to substantiate this allegation of the workmen. It is also urged that in fact the Company has not made any economy by retrenching the persons mentioned in the order of reference. But I may say that I find no substance in this contention also. Admittedly, there were about eight employees on the staff of this Company, and the present strength after retrenchment is only three. It is also admitted that about 10 employees have been retrenched from the Godown establishment of this concern. So, it is idle to say that there has been no economy of expenses by retrenchment of all these employees. Thus, considering all the facts and circumstances, I may find without any hesitation that the Company had reasons to reorganise its business and retrench some of its employees for the purpose of economy and convenience. The business shrinkage due to import restriction has been established beyond any doubt. So, without further discussion, I find that there was justification for some retrenchment.

The only point that remains to be considered is whether in effecting the retrenchment the Company has actually violated any statutory provision. According to the law, as it stands now, the Company is bound to observe the provisions laid down in sections 25G and 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 25G runs as follows:

> "Where any workmen in an industrial establishment who is a citizen of India is to be retrenched and he belongs to a particular category of workmen in that establishment, in the absence of any agreement between the employer and the workmen in this behalf, the employer shall ordinarily retrench the workman who was the last person to be employed in that category, unless for reasons to be recorded the employer retrenches any other workman."

Here I may mention that it is not the case of the Management that the present workmen have been retrenched without following the dictum of "last come first go" for some special reasons recorded in writing. In fact, there is no record to show that any particular workman was retrenched for any special reason. So, the ordinary rule of "last come first go" must be followed by the Management in this particular case Before entering into the question whether this principle has actually been observed, I may mention certain other facts and circumstances which have bearing on the question. In the written statements of the parties, it has been mentioned that Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd. own or manage several industrial concerns. From the list of such concerns given by the workmen themselves, it will be clear that this Private Limited Company is the Managing Agent of several Public Limited Companies. It is also clear that this Private Limited Company has certain proprietary concerns as well, and the Head Offices of most of these concerns are situate or housed in the same premises or contiguous premises. The contention of the workmen is that all these different concerns are really different departments of B. N. Elias group of business. In fact the Company also in its written statement concedes more or less that these different businesses are popularly known as departments of B. N. Elias group of business. But the positive contention of the Company is that all these different concerns are really independent industrial establishments for all legal purposes. I have carefully considered the facts and circumstances on record in this connection, and it is difficult for me to hold that the different Public Limited Companies managed by this Private Limited Company are really different departments of one single industrial establishment. It may also be mentioned that the business concern (Oriental Electric & Engineering Co.) with which we are at present concerned formerly belonged to one J. R. Jacob, and B. N. Elias (P.) Ltd. acquired the interests of J. R. Jacob a few years back by way of purchases. There are very little competent evidences on the side of workmen in this connection. On the other hand, from the deposition of O.P.W. 3, Shri Tapan Kumar Biswas, Chief Accountant of National Tobacco Co., Ltd., read with paragraphs 3A to 3H of the Company's written statement, it is clear that each of these business interests —whether proprietary or limited concern- -is wholly a separate and independent concern, and as such they must be treated as separate industrial establishments within the meaning of sections 25G and 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act. The expression "industrial establishment" occuring in section 25G of the Act has not been defined in the Act. The expression, however, has been explained and elucidated in various decisions of different Courts. This question has been elaborately examined in a case between Tulsidas Khimji & Jeejeebhoy (1961 I L.L.J. 42). It has been observed by their lordships in this case that for deciding such question various tests could be applied, such as, geographical proximity, unity of ownership, management and control, unity of employment and conditions of service, functional integrality, general unity of purpose, etc. It would be impossible to lay down any one of these tests mentioned above as absolute and invariable tests in all cases. Each of these several tests should be considered important and material in determining this question in any particular case, and each case should be considered in the light of its own circumstances. From the evidence on record in this particular case, it appears that the different business concerns managed or owned by B. N. Elias (P.) Limited Co. are treated as separate units for the purpose of management, and the employees are also appointed and recorded unit-wise. I have also pointed out that these different concerns are not of the same kind, nor do they carry on similar business. It is also clear that these different concerns are not situate in one place, though their Head Offices might be contiguous, or housed in the same premises. It is contended that the employees of these different concerns are freely transferable from one concern to another and their service conditions are more or less similar. But I may mention here that I find no sufficient reason to believe that the employees are freely transferred from one concern to another. It is conceded by the Company that a particular officer of a particular concern is sought to be transferred and employed in a different concern only when such officer is likely to be retrenched by his original employer. This contention of the Company is supported by one of the aggrieved workman also in his deposition. P.W. 2 Shri Uday Chandra Banerjee admits that nobody is transferred from one Company to another unless the Company feels the necessity for retrenching such person from the concern he was already serving. So, it appears that the so-called transfer, if any, from one concern to another is not a regular feature as alleged on behalf of the workmen. The employees are not transferable as a rule from one concern to another, but such transfer is only made under certain circumstances in the interest of the workmen themselves. It is also clear from the evidence of the Company's witnesses that such transfer is done with the consent of the workmen concerned. In the circumstances, it is difficult for me to believe that transfer of employees from one concern to another is a regular feature of the Company, and that such inter-Company transfers, if any, are made on rare occasions in the interest of the workmen themselves and with their consent. So all these circumstances do not go to show that all these different business units really constitute one single industrial establishment. P.W.1 Shri Nirendra Nath Dutta, Joint Secretary of the Union, is an employee of Messrs. Empire Bone Mills which is one of the business of B. N. Elias Group and Shri Dutta states in his deposition that all these different Companies are treated as different branches of a bigger unit for administrative purposes. He adds that the provident fund scheme, service conditions, pay scales and the Central Cash Department of the different concerns are one and the same. But I may observe that simply because there is similar provident fund scheme in all the different concerns, and that the employees of these concerns enjoy similar scales of pay and service conditions, it cannot be held that all these different concerns belong to one industrial esablishment within the meaning of the Act. Even assuming that payment is made from one Central Cash Office, it cannot be held that this alone is sufficient enough to disprove the separate entities of the different concerns and thus reduce them to one single establishment. As the Managing Agents of the different Companies are the same for convenience and economy, the Cash Department may be centralised. But that does not mean that there is functional integrality in all these different business concerns. The unity of employment is not certainly there, as each of these concerns has its own register of employees for the purpose of administration. The unity of ownership also is certainly not there. There is no evidence that the accounts of these different business concerns are kept in one place and amalgamated at any stage. Employments are made unit-wise and therefore retrenchment if any also must be made unit-wise. These circumstances are sufficient to show that each one of these units is a separate industrial establishment. It goes without saying that all these different concerns do not carry on the same business or industry. There is no geographical proximity also in all cases. So, without further discussion, I find that the different concerns mentioned in the written statement of the workmen cannot be treated as one single industrial establishment. Accordingly, I hold that Messrs. Oriental Electric & Engineering Co. also must be treated as a separate industrial establishment within the meaning of section 25G of the Act.

The next point to be considered in this connection is whether the principle of "last come first go" has been observed in respect of the retrenched workmen in the present case. It may be at once mentioned that the Company has not recorded any reason for violating this principle in any particular case. So, it is to be seen if any person of the same category to which the retrenched workmen belong was employed after their appointment and yet has been retained in service. I have already mentioned that out of the 15 workmen aggrieved by the retrenchment and of the Management, 10 were godown staff, and admittedly they belong to a separate category. The four other workmen mentioned in Ext. 2 belong to the office staff of the Company. The Union's contention is that these four persons were not the juniormost employees of the category, and as such the Management has violated the principle of "last come first go" in their case. The first contention of the workmen in this connection is that all these four persons, viz., Sarbashri U. C. Banerjee, P. B. Mukherjee, Madan Gopal Dhar and B. K. Basak belong to the same category, and that four other employees, viz., Sarbashri Sunil Mukherjee, N. N. Addy, A. Das Gupta and Bagala Ranjan Chatterjee who are junior to them have still been retained in service. The Company's contention is that Shri Sunil Mukherjee and Shri N. N. Addy do not actually belong to the category of the said four workmen. According to the Management Shri Addy is one of the managerial staff—he being an officer of the Company from before the date of retrenchment. From the evidence of Shri Addy and the Manager it appears that Shri Addy was originally employed as an ordinary workman or clerk, but subsequently he was promoted to the category of an officer long before the date of retrenchment. So, I can at once observe that the four aggrieved workmen cannot have any grievance against Shri Addy's retention in service.

As to Shri Sunil Mukherjee, the positive evidence of the Manager and other witnesses of the Company is that he was a stenographer from before the date of retrenchment. It is nobody's case that any one of the aggrieved workmen was a stenographer on the eve of retrenchment. Two of them were at most typists. The question is whether a stenographer can be placed on the same category with a typist or a clerk. In the case of Digbijay Woollen Mills Ltd. Vyas (G.S.) & Others (1956 II L.L.J. 253), it has no doubt been held by the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India that prima facie all employees doing ordinary clerical work in any establishment should be taken to fall within the same category of clerical workers, unless by reason of some fundamental difference in the nature of work required to be performed in different departments and the skill requisite for the same, such worker can be properly divided into different categories. This principle laid down by the Hon'ble Tribunal has not been differed from by any other Court in the meantime. One can at once see that a stenographer is required to have a special skill in taking notes in shorthand, and to attain such skill he has to undergo some special training. So, the duty of a stenographer cannot be classed with the ordinary clerical work. A stenographer also may have to type, but that does not mean that a typist can be equated with a stenographer or placed in the same category. So, I think, Shri Sunil Mukherjee, who is a stenographer, cannot be placed in the same category with any one of the four aggrieved workmen. Of course, it has been contended on behalf of the workmen that Shri Mukherjee was not originally appointed as a stenographer and that he was not a stenographer at all at the time of retrenchment also. But it appears that the witnesses examined on behalf of the workmen are not competent to speak on the point, because they have no personal knowledge in the matter. On the contrary, there is sufficient evidence on the side of the Management to show that Shri Mukherjee has long been working as a stenographer. So, there is no reason to hold that Shri Mukherjee is not a stenographer as alleged by the workmen. The Union's case in this connection will be apparent from Ext. 2 which is a statement filed by the Union on behalf of the workmen. In this statement, it was alleged that Shri U. C. Banerjee was senior to Shri Sunil Mukherjee and Shri N. N. Addy. But I have already shown that neither Shri Addy nor Shri Mukherjee belongs to the category of Shri Banerjee. Similarly, it is alleged that the typist Shri Madan Gopal Dhar is also senior to Shri Sunil Mukherjee. But Shri Mukherjee being a stenographer as found above, cannot be placed in the same category with Shri Dhar also. So, there is no escape from the conclusion that the principle of "last come first go" has not been violated at least in respect of Shri U. C. Banerjee and Shri Madan Gopal Dhar.

It is next contended that Shri B. K. Basak is senior to Shri Bagala Ranjan Chatterjee. Shri Basak was employed as a sales-tax accounts clerk. According to the Manager Shri Gharda (O.P.W. 1), Shri Chatterjee was a senior accounts clerk, who used to prepare balance-sheets of the Company and is now looking after ledgers also. Assuming for argument sake that Shri Basak and Shri Chatterjee belong to the same category on account of their doing accounts work, I may point out that there is no positive evidence on the side of the workmen to show that Shri Basak is senior to Shri Chatterjee. On the contrary, the Manager himself swears that Shri Chatterjee is a senior accounts clerk and thereby implies that Shri Chatterjee is senior to Shri Basak. In this view of the matter, I think the Union has failed to establish that the Management has violated the principle of "last come first go" in respect of Shri Basak. Of course, it is urged on behalf of the Management that the duties carried on by Shri Chatterjee fall within the "skilful" category and that Shri Basak was not competent to take up the job of Shri Chatterjee. There is considerable force in the argument that Shri Chatterjee, by virtue of his expert knowledge in accountancy, could prepare balance-sheets, etc., but this cannot be expected of an ordinary accounts clerk like Shri Basak. Be that as it may, in the absence of positive evidence to prove Shri Basak's seniority to Shri Chatterjee, the question of retrenching Shri Chatterjee instead of Shri Basak does not arise.

The next contention of the Union is that Shri P. B. Mukherjee, a stock and accounts clerk, is senior to Shri A. Das Gupta. It is nobody's case before me that Shri Das Gupta is senior to Shri P. B. Mukherjee. According to Company's witness, Shri Das Gupta was working as an assistant store-keeper and supervisor of venetian blinds. Of course, Shri P. B. Mukherjee was working more or less as an accounts clerk on the eve of his retrenchment. The question, therefore, arises whether these two employees can be placed in the same category. Following the principles laid down in the case of Digbijay Woollen Mills Ltd. mentioned above, it may be observed that all clerks doing ordinary clerical work should be classed in the same category, unless there be some fundamental difference in the nature of their work, and special skill or training is required in discharging their job. To me it appears that there is no fundamental difference between the job of a store-keeper and that of an accounts clerk, because no special training or skill is required for doing either of the two jobs, and any intelligent clerk may soon take up the job of one or the other. In this view of the matter, I think, Shri Das Gupta and Shri Mukherjee should be placed in the same category within the meaning of section 25G of the Act. I have already mentioned that Shri Das Gupta is otherwise junior to Shri Mukherjee. In this view of the matter, the Management has certainly violated the principle of "last come first go" as ennunciated in section 25G of the Act in retrenching Shri P. B. Mukherjee instead of Shri Das Gupta.

There is no evidence, however, to prove that any other workman concerned in this dispute was actually retrenched in violation of the principle of "last come first go." None of the 10 godown employees retrenched has actually appeared before this Tribunal, and there is not an iota of evidence before me to show that the principle of last come first go was violated in respect of any one of these 10 workmen.

So, my considered opinion is that except in the case of Shri P. B. Mukherjee, the principle of "last come first go" has not been violated by the Management in the case of any other workmen retrenched and mentioned in the present order of reference.

The next contention of the Union is that the Company took several employees after the date of the disputed retrenchment, and none of the aggrieved workmen was given opportunity to offer themselves for re-employment. But I may point out that there is no evidence whatsoever to show that the present concern, Oriental Electric & Engineering Company Ltd., has actually employed any new men after the date of the disputed retrenchment. New employment, if any, has been made in other business concerns, which are really independent establishment for all legal purposes as found above. The Company started a factory at Agarpara in 1960 or so. According to workmen's additional written statement it is of Agarpara Co. Ltd. There is no evidence that this Agarpara factory is a part and parcel of the present establishment. Some appointments have been made in other concerns belonging to B. N. Elias & Co. (P.) Ltd. or managed by it. But these concerns also are independent establishments. In the circumstances, it cannot be held that the Management of Oriental Electric & Engineering Co. has actually violated the provisions of section 25H of the Act. It appears that at least two of the retrenched godown employees were offered chances in some other establishments, but they refused the offer as they were permanently employed elsewhere. The Union has annexed a chart to their additional written statement showing the names of employees appointed after the date of the disputed retrenchment. But I may point out that even a cursory glance at this chart will show that no new apointment was actually made in the present concern (Oriental Electric & Engineering Co.) after the disputed retrenchment. The Union's evidence is that one Shri Subhramonian has been appointed after this retrenchment. But the fact is Shri Subhramoniam was appointed as a stenographer in a different concern and I have already pointed out that no stenographer was actually retrenched in this case. It is further alleged on behalf of the Union that Shri R. P. Sen was appointed after the date of retrenchment, but the fact is that he was appointed as an officer only in the head office. So, there is no evidence worth the name to show that in the present case the Company violated the provisions of section 25H of the Act.

Lastly, it is contended on behalf of the Management that none of the workmen concerned is actually entitled to any relief in the present proceedings, as all of them have actually received retrenchment compensation, etc., in full and final settlement of all their claims against the Company. In fact, the Company has filed several receipts (marked Ext. J-series) to show that all the workmen concerned have actually granted receipts showing acceptance of their dues from the Company in full and final settlement of their claims against it. But it is contended on behalf of the workmen that they accepted the payments as mentioned in the receipts under protest, and that they were compelled under the circumstances to receive payment like that The evidence of Shri B. K. Basak (P.W. 2) in this connection is that they accepted payment of compensation, etc., after submitting protest letters. In fact, some protest letters have been proved and marked Ext. 4 series. Though the protest letters were couched in a milder language, it is definitely clear therefrom and the oral evidence that the workmen did not receive the payment voluntarily and willingly. Shri Basak adds that they did not accept the payment of compensation in full and final settlement of their claims, although they required receipts wherein it was already mentioned that the payment was in full and final settlement of their claims. They wanted to have that portion of the statement scored out, but the Company told them that they would not be paid at all in case that portion of the statement was struck off. So, they decided to accept payment in spite of that statement. It is also in evidence that these workmen, who were already retrenched without any notice whatsoever, were badly in need of money at that point of time. The fact is that they were not given the retrenchment compensation before their retrenchment, though payment of such compensation is a condition precedent to retrenchment according to law. Subsequently, a notice was issued to them for taking payment of retrenchment compensation, etc. The workmen were evidently out of employment by the time they were asked by the Management to receive payment. One can easily see that starvation was staring at their face at that point of time they being already out of employment, and the Company utilised this position in compelling them to accept the payment on a receipt couched in its favour. In this connection, I may refer to the decision in the case of Digbijay Woollen Mills Ltd. referred to above wherein the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal has observed as follows:

> "However, it does not follow that in all cases where such a receipt is produced, Industrial Tribunals are precluded in law from investigating any other claim like one for reinstatement made by the employee, however, justified such a claim may be in the circumstances, or that if such a claim is gone into and decided by the Industrial Tribunal on the merits, the Appeal Court should as a matter of law reverse such a decision merely because a poor employee who would on termination of service be naturally in great need of money has had no other alternative but to pass such a receipt in order to get without further delay monies strictly due to him in law by his employer and which money the employer refused to pay him unless such a receipt is passed in his favour as has apparently happened in the present case."

So, in the present case also, where the employees concerned signed such receipts in favour of the Management under protest and were thus compelled to accept money on account of their dire need thereof at a time when they were already thrown out of employment, it cannot be said that they accepted the payment in full and final settlement of all their claims against the Company. So, I find that in such circumstances, where receipt was taken in an improper manner, if any such workman is otherwise found entitled to reinstatement, he should not be deprived of that privilege, although he was compelled to accept the payment under certain peculiar circumstances.

I have already found that the retrenchment of Shri P. B. Mukherjee was bad on account of violation of the provisions of section 25G of the Act, and as such he is entitled to reinstatement irrespective of other considerations. I have also found that the provisions of sections 25G and 25H were not violated in respect of the other workmen concerned. It is also a fact that all these retrenched persons accepted the retrenchment compensation and other dues on a date more than a month after the date of their actual retrenchment. But under the provisions of section 25F(b) of the Act payment of retrenchment compensation is a condition precedent to such retrenchment Evidently, the Company had no right to retrench these persons on 21st June 1958 without making payment of retrenchment compensation to them. In this view of the matter, the retrenchment was illegal or irregular. Retrenchment compensation has actually been paid to the retrenched employees more than a month after the date of their actual retrenchment. So, the question arises if all these workmen are entitled to reinstatement in view of this violation of the provisions of section 25F(b) of the Act. But I have already found that the Company had sufficient reason to effect retrenchment on the ground of economy and convenience. So, I think, reinstatement of all these workmen on this ground alone is not the proper remedy in this case, because most or all of them were found uneconomic surplus in the business. It is also urged that the Company had not complied with the provisions of section 25F(c) of the Act also. The evidence is that the Management had actually given notice in respect of this retrenchment to the Labour Commissioner of the Local Government. The contention of the learned representative for the workmen is that notice, if any, should have been served on the appropriate Government -meaning thereby the Secretary to the concerned Department. Of course, the provisions of law is that a notice is to be served on the appropriate Government. But it is not in evidence before this Tribunal as to who is the appropriate or authorised officer to receive such notice on behalf of the Government concerned. There is nothing before me to hold that the Labour Commissioner had no authority to receive such notice. So, without further discussion, I find that, there has been no serious violation of section 25F(c) of the Act, and I need not attach much importance to this argument advanced on behalf of the workmen.

So, I am finally to consider what relief the retrenched persons mentioned in the order of reference should be granted. The question of granting any relief to Shri Sarjug Shah does not arise, as he was not retrenched at all. As to Shri P. B. Mukherjee, I have found that the Company had no reason or justification to retrench him. The sword of retrenchment should have fallen on the head of somebody else, and not on Shri Mukherjee. So, I think, Shri Mukherjee is entitled to reinstatement in his original position. So far the period of forced unemployment of Shri Mukherjee is concerned, I may simply point out that Shri Mukherjee had no reason to remain idle altogether during the entire period of his forced unemployment. In this view of the matter, I think, he should not be allowed full wages for the entire period of his non-employment by this Compapny. No evidence has been adduced on behalf of Shri Mukherjee to show that he tried for an alternative appointment in the meantime and still he could not find any employment. Considering all these circumstances, I direct that Shri Mukherjee should get 50 per cent. of his ordinary wages for the period of his forced unemployment. His services should be deemed to have continued without break till reinstatement. The retrenchment compensation and other amounts not normally due to him under ordinary circumstances but already paid may be set off by the Management against dues of Shri Mukherjee as per present award. As to other retrenched workmen mentioned in the order of reference, I have already pointed out that the Company had sufficient reasons to retrench them, though there has been an irregularity or illegality in translating this into action. Payment of retrenchment compensation in full was a condition precedent to such retrenchment. But in fact, in this case retrenchment compensation was actually paid a little over a month later. Retrenchment was given effect to from 21st June 1958 whereas compensation was actually paid in the last part of July 1958. Under the circumstances, the Management had no right to retrench the workmen concerned before the date of actual payment of retrenchment compensation to them. Even if I assume that the retrenchment should be deemed to have been effected on the date of actual payment of retrenchment compensation, the retrenched employees are entitled to some more wages by way of compensation. I have already pointed out that their reinstatement in service will not be a proper relief in this case in view of the then condition of the Company's business. Accordingly, I direct that the Company shall pay another two months' wages to each one of these retrenched employees other than Shri P. B. Mukherjee. The award must be given effect to within one month of its publication.

This is my award.

Jamgram, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Refractories Mazdoor Union (hereinafter called the Union), Bengal Hotel, Asansol, district Burdwan, arises out of Government Order No. 70431.R.|IR|11L-397|61, dated the 21st November 1961, and Addendum No. 75421.R.|IR|11L-397|61, dated the 5th December 1961, for adjudication of the following issues:

3. Is the dismissal of Shri Sayed Ahmed justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

After due notice the parties appeared and submitted their written statements.

In short, the case of the Union is that the Company got annoyed at the activities of the Union and in order to crush it the Company started following unfair labour practice. As a result thereof, the Company dismissed several workers including those named in the issue No. 1 above, and placed several workers including those named in the issue No. 2 to work under their contractor without terminating their services. There was agitation and at the instance of the Conciliation Officer, Asansol, a tripartite settlement was effected in which the Company agreed to reinstate all the dismissed employees. The Company did not act according to the settlement and further agitation of the workers started. Shri Sayed Ahmed, a workman of the Company, went home on leave but he fell ill and could not join his duties immediately after the expiry of leave. During the leave he applied for extension of leave along with a medical certificate. After obtaining a fit certificate he came to attend the factory but he was refused work, and informed that he had been dismissed. Shri Ahmed is one of the leaders of the Union. The dismissal of the workmen and the placing of certain workmen under the contractors were illegal and mala fide, and that these are the instances of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The Union, in the circumstances, prays that the dismissed workmen should be reinstated by the Company in its own employment, that the persons who were placed under the contractors should be employed in the service of the Company and that Shri Ahmed should be reinstated in former post.

Briefly speaking, the case of the Company is that the persons named in the issue No. 1 were guilty of misconduct and that they were dismissed after due enquiry. Ultimately there was a tripartite agreement and according to the agreement, they were given jobs by the Company under its contractor, but those persons after serving for sometime left their jobs and did not come back. The persons named in the issue No. 2 were never in the employment of the Company. Some of them were contractors and some were working under the contractors. They were doing contractual jobs and they were paid at a specific rate for each of those jobs. They had nothing to do with other workmen of the factory and they were never treated as "workmen" of the factory because the agreement did not impose any control over their attendance or working hours or the method and manner of their doing jobs. Shri Ahmed was a workman of the Company and, on his prayer, due leave was granted to him. The management granted him leave for 18 days, but Shri Ahmed was not satisfied with it. He threatened and gave out that he knew how to extend his leave. From his village home Shri Ahmed sent one medical certificate. The management immediately informed Shri Ahmed that the medical certificate was not acceptable and that if he was really ill, he should furnish a certificate from a Civil Surgeon or a hospital doctor. Shri Ahmed was further informed that if he failed to furnish a medical certificate immediately, he must join his duties within seven days, otherwise he would be treated as having left the services of the Company of his own accord. Shri Ahmed in spite of the fact did not join his duties. Nor did he furnish any medical certificate as directed. The Comany, therefore, struck off his name from the Attendance Register. When Shri Ahmed came back, he was informed that his services had been terminated because of his failure to comply with the directions. The story of bad faith or victimisation has been denied.

At the very outset Shri Moitra, appearing on behalf of the Company, urged some legal points to show that the reference made by the Government is illegal and without jurisdiction. The first point is that the workmen could not agitate the question of non-implementation of the agreement regarding the reinstatement before terminating the agreement arrived at by the parties. The argument is that in the written statement of the workmen it has been stated that the Company did not keep the promise made in the agreement and, therefore, the remedy of the workmen was to take steps for implementation of the terms of agreement. Moreover, before raising any dispute regarding reinstatement, the workmen should have given a notice to terminate the settlement as required under section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. In this case, the Government acted without jurisdiction as contended by Shri Moitra in referring to issue No. 1 to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Government has, in fact, referred this issue to this Tribunal by an order of reference. The Company in its written statement has clearly stated that as per terms of agreement arrived at by the parties the management gave jobs to the persons named in issue No. 1 in the factory under the Company's conractors and that those persons gave up the jobs after serving for some time. The evidence adduced on behalf of the Company through O.P.W. 1 clearly shows that on the basis of the agreement those persons were given work under the contractors. It has also been agreed by Shri Moitra that following the terms of settlement the persons in question were reinstated under the contractors of the Company. At the time of hearing the workmen accepted the position that the workmen were reinstated as per terms of the settlement but not under the contractor. Those workmen might have been directed to work under the contractors but, in fact, they were reinstated in the service of the Company. The written statement filed on behalf of the Company may not be very happy. But that does not mean that I should reject the fact of reinstatement by the Company or, rather, the implementation of the terms of settlement. I shall later on see whether the reinstatement was under the contractors or under the Company. In these circumstances, there is no question of resiling from the terms of settlement relied upon by both the parties. This is not the case of the workmen that they want implementation of the terms of settlement but their grievance is that they have been dismissed subsequently to the reinstatement unlawfully and that they demand reinstatement again. I, therefore, do not find any substance in the argument advanced on behalf of the Company that the reference regarding issue No. 1 is without jurisdiction. There is no necessity to terminate the settlement. No notice is required therefore for the workmen to terminate the tripartite settlement under section 19(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act.

I shall now consider the issue No. 1 on merits.

Admittedly, the persons named in issue No. 1 were previously dismissed by the Company and there was agitation by the workmen. During the conciliation proceedings a tripartite settlement was arrived at. There is no dispute about that. The terms of settlement are exhibited by both the sides. They are Ext. 2 and Ext. A. The first term of settlement is relevant for the purpose of the present dispute. The terms run as follows:

> "On the assurance being given by the representative of the management that the latter will reinstate the workmen if the matter is left in their hands, the Union does not proceed with the matter. The management will reinstate the workmen."

It is clear from the terms that the management of the Company agreed to reinstate the dismissed workmen named in issue No. 1. There is no ambiguity in the language. The Company in its written statement has stated in paragraph 16 that in terms of the aforesaid agreement, dated 20th February 1961, the management gave jobs to those persons in the factory under the Company's contractors, but unfortunately those persons after serving for sometime left their jobs and did not come back thereafter. O.P.W. 1., the only witness of the Company, has stated "on the basis of the agreement these persons were given work under a contractor, Mahadev Manjhi. They worked under him. For about two weeks they worked and thereafter they left their work and went away." It is clear from the written statement of the Company as well as from the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that the dismissed workmen were reinstated in their services in the Company. It has been argued from the side of the Company that those persons were reinstated no doubt, but not in the services of the Company, they were reinstated under a contractor of the Company and, therefore, the reinstated persons were not in the service of the Company. In the written statement of the Company there is no clear language to show that the dismissed persons were not reinstated in the services of the Company, or that they were employed in the service of an outsider person. Reading the evidence of O.P.W. 1. and the written statement of the Company, I hold that the workmen in question were reinstated in the services of the Company. In this connection the evidence of O.P.W. 1. is to be noted. O.P.W. 1. has stated that in the agreement Ext. 2 and Ext. A, there is no stipulation that the dismissed persons would be placed under the contractor and that under the orders of the Company these persons were given work by the contractor. The word "reinstate" means, according to the Oxford Dictionary, "re-establish in former position." According to the Chembers' Dictionary the word "reinstate" menas "to restore to or re-establish in a former station or condition." Reinstatement therefore means placing one in one's former post, position or condition. It cannot mean the placing of a person in a different situation, under different condition of service, quite afresh. The evidence of the witness examined on behalf of the Company clearly shows that the dismissed workmen were reinstated in their former position in the services of the Company and they worked accordingly. O.P.W. 1. has affirmed that on the basis of the agreement the dismissed workmen were given work and that under the orders of the Company these men were given work. It has been, therefore, proved that under the authority of the Company and under its order the dismissed persons were reinstated in the services of the Company. It may be that after reinstatement the dismissed persons were to dig earth in the factory, and it may be that they worked under the contractor. Of course, I should say in this connection that there is no evidence in this case worth the name to prove that in fact any contractor had any authority to interfere with the service conditions of these persons. Witnesses examined on behalf of the Union do not admit that they worked under the contractor. O.P.W. 1. has stated that these persons were given work under a contractor named Mahadev Manjhi and that they worked under him. It is curious that Shri Manjhi has not been examined on behalf of the Company and that no papers have been proved in this case to show that these persons worked under Shri Manjhi or any other contractor, not connected with the service of the Company. No explanation has been given by the Company for non-examination of Shri Manjhi, an important witness, and naturally presumption will go against the Company. In view of my discussion above, I find that the persons named in issue No. 1 were reinstated in the service of the Company and they were not in the employ of any contractor.

The next question with regard to issue No. 1 is whether the workmen in question voluntarily left their work and went away. I have already remarked about non-examination of any contractor and non-production of any paper showing that the workmen worked under a contractor. The papers of the contractor or the Company and also the contractor or any other competent persons could have been produced before me to prove that, in fact, the workmen left their jobs voluntarily. There is no reliable evidence before me to accept the contention that the workmen voluntarily gave up the service. P.W. 1, the General Secretary of the Union, has stated that the workmen were allowed to work for six weeks and subsequently they were not given any work. He has further stated that no charge-sheet was issued to any of the workers of the Company. P.W. 3 Shri Netai Dhibar, one of the workmen named in issue No. 1, has stated that he was given work for cutting earth, that he did the work for about three weeks, that the work was stopped and that he was not given any work to do. His evidence is that he was not given any charge-sheet for termination of his service. P.W. 4, another worker named in issue No. 1, has been examined in support of the case. Her evidence is that she worked for about three weeks under the Company, that the Company thereafter gave out that there was no work and that she was not given any work. She has denied the suggestion that she gave up the service. Another workman named in issue No. 1 is P.W. 5. She has also given evidence on the same line. There was a suggestion from the side of the Company that after giving up the service the workman worked elsewhere, but the suggestion has been denied. Some letters have been proved to show that some of the workmen are working elsewhere. Mere production of letters are not sufficient to prove the fact. The writers of the letters have not been examined before me. I place no value to the letters. There is no reliable evidence to prove that any workmen worked in any other concern. From the facts and circumstances of the case, I therefore hold that the workmen named in issue No. 1 were all reinstated in the services of the Company and that they did not give up their services after reinstatement voluntarily. It has been proved that no work was given to them by the Company and, as such, they became unemployed. Admittedly, in this case no charge-sheet was framed against any of the workmen. There is no case of misconduct or retrenchment or any other ground of discharge. The contention of the Company was that there was no relationship of employer and employees between the Company and these workmen, but that contention is unacceptable. In view of my findings above, I direct that the workmen named in issue No. 1 shall be reistated by the Company in their former posts or to some other positions having the same benefits and privileges. These workmen shall also be entitled to a lump sum amount of Rs. 150 each towards back wages up to the date of reinstatement. The period of forced unemployment of these workmen shall be treated as in continuity of service.

I shall now deal with issue No. 2 as to whether the persons named in issue No. 2 who were in the employ of the Company but were subsequently placed under the contractors without terminating their services under the Company should be taken back on the rolls of the Company. Regarding this issue Shri Moitra's contention is that the Government acted beyond jurisdiction to refer this issue to this Tribunal for adjudication. The argument is that in this case the Government was of the opinion that the workmen named in issue No. 2 were not in the employ of the Company and therefore this issue should not have been referred to this Tribunal. In this connection my attention has been drawn to two letters, Exts. B and B(1). Exhibit B is the letter, dated 25th May 1960, written by the Assistant Secretary, Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, to the Secretary of the Union relating to the dispute between the Company and their workmen over the termination of services of some moulders. My attention has been drawn to paragraph 1, which runs as follows:

> "I am directed to say that an enquiry has been held into the above dispute and it transpires that the twenty-eight moulders whose termination of services has given rise to the dispute were the Company's contractors or the men engaged by those contractors. There is thus no employer-employee relation between these moulders and the Company and, as such, their cases do not come within the purview of the Industrial Disputes Act".

In this letter the Assistant Secretary, Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, wanted to say after an enquiry that there was no employer-employee relation between these moulders and the Company. Exhibit (1) is a letter from the Assistant Secretary of the Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, to the Secretary of the Union, dated 28th December 1962, regarding the discharge of Falguni Das and six other moulders. In the first portion of the letter it has been stated "I am directed to say that an enquiry has been made into the above dispute and it transpires that the workmen concerned were working under contractors at the time of their discharge." On the basis of this statement it has been argued that when the Government held the view that there was no relationship of employer and employee, between the Company and the moulders, the issue No. 2 should not have been referred to this Tribunal. It has been seriously argued that the Government acted illegally in referring the issue for decision under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act provides for reference of disputes to Boards, Courts or Tribunals only when the appropriate Government is of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended. The order of reference in question is dated 21st November 1961. Before this reference it may be that the Government found, according to an enquiry, that there was no employer and employee relation between the moulders and the Company, but this fact does not mean that the Government cannot in any case for proper decision make any reference to a Tribunal. According to section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, a reference may be made when the Government is of opinion that any industrial dispute exists or is apprehended. The Government after an enquiry may find that the contention of the workmen may not be acceptable, but if it finds that there is any existence of bona fide dispute, and even if there is apprehension of any such dispute, the Government is certainly entitled to refer the dispute to the Tribunal for settlement according to the Industrial Disputes Act in order to maintain peace in the industrial field of the society. Any department of the Government cannot, according to its own finding, settle an industrial dispute. For such settlement the dispute has got to be referred to a Board or a Court or a Tribunal as enjoined by section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In the instant case, there was the consistent cry of the workmen for settlement of the dispute, and the Government found that it was a fit case for settlement according to the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act for the satisfaction of the workmen and the Company as well as for maintaining peace in the industry. In the case before me, I, therefore, hold that the Government did not exceed its jurisdiction in referring this dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication. Exhibit B is the letter written subsequent to the date of reference. However, I do not think that Exts. B and B(1) will be of any help to the Company.

Regarding the issue No. 2 the contention of the Company is that the workmen named were moulders. Some of them were contractors of the Company, and the remaining were the persons working under the contractor and, therefore, these moulders were not in the service of the Company. The Union, on the other hand, contends that the moulders are in the employ of the Company, and they are workmen. They are not contractors under the Company and none of them worked under any contractor. The claim of the Union is that their names should be placed on the rolls of the Company and treated as workmen under the Company.

P.W. 1, the Secretary of the Union, has stated that the persons named in issue No. 2 were moulders as direct employees. In April 1961 those persons were placed under the disposal of some contractors. As a result of this, and as the service conditions of the moulders were changed, the Union referred this matter to the Assistant Labour Commissioner. P.W. 6 is Ananda Roy, whose name has been mentioned in issue No. 2. He says in his evidence that out of the 25 persons named in issue No. 2, his name and the names of two others would appear in the vouchers of the Company and the remaining persons have been placed at the disposal of the contractors. Previously all the persons used to get wages by the Company's pay-sheets, and the Company used to deduct money from their wages towards Provident Fund. Before Baisakh last year, all the persons used to get wages by the Company's pay-sheets. These persons are all moulders. A mistry shows the work of moulders, and there is a person placed in charge of supervision. From the evidence of P.W. 6, I further get that the moulders work on piece rates and they get wages on that basis. The hazira of the moulders is recorded in the factory. All other workmen of the factory except moulders get fixed wages. It is clear also that moulders are the only persons who are the piece-rated workers. P.W. 7 is another moulder concerned in issue No. 2. He says that as moulder he used to get remuneration on the basis of piece rates. In case of any defect in the work, moulders are to be charge-sheeted by the Manager of the Company. Their names will appear in the Muster Roll of the Company and deductions were made from their remuneration towards Provident Fund. I further get from P.W. 7 that the Manager, the mistry and the person-in-charge used to supervise the work of moulders. In no other department of the Company work is done on piece rates. About one and half years ago the Company stopped deductions towards Provident Fund. Subsequently the Company did not give him any work to do. P.W. 7 has further stated that he did not get any remuneration for the day when he did not work in the factory, and similarly the workmen of other departments of the Company did not get any wage for the days in which they absented themselves or did not work. As against this evidence of the Union, O.P.W. 1 has stated that the persons named in issue No. 2 were piece-rated contractors of the Company. At first, his statement was that those persons never worked under any other contractors and that they were contractors under the Company itself. Thereafter he added that some of them were workers under the contractors. At the same time he has stated that he cannot say under which contractor they worked. This witness admits that there is an Attendance Register showing the attendance of these persons. His assertion is that these moulders were never direct employees of the Company. This witness cannot say if Provident Fund money is deducted out of the remuneration of the moulders. The contractors, according to O.P.W. 1, work under the Moulder-in-charge, who was under the Works Manager of the Company. Moulder-in-charge used to supervise and check the works of the contractors. Towards the end of cross-examination O.P.W. 1 states as follows:

> "The Company possesses papers to show the status of the workmen mentioned in issues Nos. 1 and 2 of the order of reference. There is a list of the contractors. There are bills in possession of the Company showing payment of the contractors and in those bills there is also mention as to the capacity in which the payments were received."

No paper has been filed by the Company to show the status of the workmen, no list of the contractors has been filed, and no bill showing payment of the contractors has been produced before this Tribunal. They were important and relevant documents. The circumstances show that they have been withheld by the Company as they might go against its own interest. From the evidence of the witnesses discussed above, it is clear that the moulders were originally the employees of the Company though they used to receive remuneration on the basis of piece rates. Their works were controlled and supervised by the Company and in case of misconduct the moulders were charge-sheeted by the Company. On the whole, it has been made clear that the moulders were the workmen employed in the services of the Company. This fact will be supported by some documents exhibited in this case on behalf of the workmen. Exhibit 1 is an award of this Tribunal published at page 2670(22) of the Extraordinary Calcutta Gazette, dated 14th October 1960. This award was made on the basis of an amicable settlement between this Company and their workmen. The terms of settlement will appear in Annexure 'A' to the award. From the reading of Annexure 'A', it will be clear that there were two types of workmen of the Company. There was workers drawing fixed wages, and there were others again who were piece rated workers. Issue No. 3 involved in that award indicated that there were workers—monthly paid and piece rated. There was a question as to whether piece rated workers were entitled to get bonus. In paragraph 6 of Annexure 'A' to the award, Ext. 1, it has been stated "that all the workers, whether daily rated, monthly rated or piece rated and male or female putting in work for 240 days in a year will be entitled to annual bouns at 14 days' basic wages except in the year of loss." From the oral evidence adduced from the side of the Union before me, it is clear that except moulders who were piece rated workers, all other workers of different departments got fixed wages—daily or monthly. The witness examined on behalf of the Company has not contradicted this fact. It is, therefore, clear that in paragraph 6 of Annexure 'A', the moulders who were the only piece rated workers of the Company were referred to and that they were entitled to get bonus. This settlement was signed on behalf of the Company accepting the statement as true. In course of argument the learned lawyer for the Union relied upon this document, Ext. 1. I have particularly noted that Shri Moitra, appearing for the Company, did not explain either during the argument or in reply the statements made in Annexure 'A'. I find that there can be no reply to the Annexure 'A' in Ext.1. Exhibit 6 is a certificate given by the Works Manager of the Company to Sahadev Mondal named in issue No. 2. In this certificate it has been clearly stated that he worked in the Company as a moulder and polisher from 1953 to July 1962. In this certificate Shri Mondal has not been described as a contractor or a man under the contractor. Exhibit 7 is the charge-sheet issued by the Works Manager of the Company to Shri Mondal. This shows that the Company treated Shri Mondal as its employee, and not as a contractor or an employee of a contractor. The documentary evidence in this case which is very reliable goes to support the oral evidence adduced on the side of the Union to say that the moulders named in issue No. 2 of the order of reference were workmen in the employ of the Company. The case of the Company that the moulders are either contractors or men of the contractors is unacceptable. The case of the Company does not appear to me a bona fide one. On consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case, I hold that Kabi Roy and others named in issue No. 2 of the order of reference were in the employ of the Company, that their services under the Company had not been terminated according to law, and that they should be taken back on the rolls of the Company as its employees.

With regard to the issue No. 3, I get the evidence of P.W. 2 Syed Ahmed, and O.P.W. 1, the Fire-clay Inspector of the Company. P.W. 2 has stated that on getting leave he went to his village on 22nd May 1961. In his village he fell ill, and he applied for extension of leave. Along with the application he sent a certificate of the doctor who treated him. He has proved the registration receipt and the acknowledgment receipt. They are exhibits 4 and 4(a). On 27th June 1961 he came to Jamgram and reported for duty on 28th June 1961. That day he was not given any work by the Company. He did not receive any letter of dismissal. He was informed orally that his service had been terminated. No charge-sheet was given by the Company. The witness has denied the suggestion that he did not send any application for extension of leave along with the medical certificate. He has also denied the suggestion that he was informed by the Company to produce any medical certificate from any Civil Surgeon or hospital doctor. During the cross-examination P.W. 2 has stated that he alone used to collect subscription from the workers. The witness has stated that on 28th June 1961 he brought with him a medical certificate showing his fitness. That has been marked Ext. 5. O.P.W. 1 has stated that Shri Ahmed wanted leave for a month, but the Company allowed leave for 18 days due to him. Shri Ahmed threatened that he knew how to obtain such leave for a month. On 12th June 1961 the leave expired, and Shri Ahmed submitted a medical certificate without any formal application. In reply the Company sent a letter under certificate of posting asking Shri Ahmed to produce a medical certificate from the Civil Surgeon or any hospital doctor. In the letter, Ext. O, Shri Ahmed was further informed as follows:

> "You should note that if you fail to produce such Medical Certificate as mentioned in this letter or if you fail to join your duty within seven days from the date of receipt of this letter the Company shall treat you as having left the service of the Company of your own accord and accordingly will remove your name from the Attendance Register without any further reference to you."

O.P.W. 1, has further stated that on 26th June 1961 or any other day Shri Ahmed did not come to the factory with any fit certificate to report for duty. There is no corroborative evidence to support the case of the Company that Shri Ahmed gave out any threat or stated that he knew how to obtain the leave he wanted. Moreover, there is no evidence that this fact of threatening was reported after the occurrence to any higher authority. The Company again did not take any step against Shri Ahmed for such threats. If really Shri Ahmed gave out such threats, it is expected that there should have been some records either in the way of complaint or otherwise. The story of threats alleged to have been held out by Shri Ahmed cannot be accepted. The Company wants to say that no formal application was forwarded by Shri Ahmed for extension of leave. This story is hardly believeable. When Shri Ahmed sent a medical certificate, his intention was to extend his leave. Shri Ahmed has affirmed that he sent an application. Moreover, the Company when it received the medical certificate, it understood that Shri Ahmed wanted extension of leave. The question of formal application does not, therefore, appear to be important. Admittedly, the case of the Company is that the service of Shri Ahmed was terminated by virtue of the letter, Ext. O. This is not a case of dismissal or discharge or retrenchment. It has been argued from the side of the Company that the name of Shri Ahmed was struck off in terms of the letter. Ext. O. wherein it has been stated that if Shri Ahmed fails to produce medical certificate or to join his duties within seven days from the receipt of this letter, the Company would treat him as having left the service of the Company of his own accord. Virtually speaking, according to the Company, this is a case of voluntary resignation. The evidence shows that Shri Ahmed never at any point of time was willing to resign, rather he was keen to join his duties and, in fact, he came to the factory after recovery from illness.

Exhibit O, therefore, does not prove voluntary resignation of Shri Ahmed. Even if it is accepted that the Company was entitled to dismiss Shri Ahmed for not attending his duty voluntarily or for commission of misconduct, in that case, it was the duty of the Company to give an opportunity to Shri Ahmed to show cause why he should not be dismissed from service or his service should not be terminated for non-compliance of the directions of the Company. The Company should have held an enquiry to ascertain whether Shri Ahmed deliberately absented himself from duty, and wanted to extend his leave, or whether Shri Ahmed gave out threates or committed any misconduct. In this case, the Company did not take any step to hold any enquiry to ascertain the real fact. The circumstances show that the conduct of the Company towards Shri Ahmed was not bona fide and it was most unreasonable, illegal and unjustified. The evidence shows that Shri Ahmed acted for the Union, and the circumstances show that the Company wanted to get rid of Shri Ahmed and, therefore, did not allow Shri Ahmed to join his duties. The Company without any justification struck off the name of Shri Ahmed from the Attendance Register. Practically speaking, the Company dismissed Shri Ahmed from service illegally. On merits, there is no justification for such dismissal. In the circumstances Shri Ahmed should be reinstated in his former post. Shri Ahmed is further entitled, in the circumstances of the case, to a sum of Rs 300 in lump towards the arrears in wages for the period of non-employment. The period of non-employment shall be included in record of his service.

This award shall be implemented within a month from its publication in the "Calcutta Gagette."

AWARD

By Order No. 353-I.R.|IR|10L-182(A)|62, dated the 24th January 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Hume Pipe Co. Ltd, P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Barakar Hume Pipe Workers' Union, P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R.|IR|3A-2|57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the suspension of Shri S. K. Basu without wages for more than a month from 20th February 1962 was justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

This reference was received from the Government of West Bengal for the purpose of adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Indian Hume Pipe Co. Ltd., P.O. Barakar, district Burdwan (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by the Barakar Hume Pipe Workers' Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were given to the parties for appearance. They appeared before this Tribunal and there was a talk of settling up the dispute amicably. Accordingly parties took time to finalise the settlement. I am happy to record that they became successful in settling their own disputes to the satisfaction of all concerned. They have filed before this Tribunal a joint petition on 23rd May 1963 for recording the terms of settlement embodied in the memorandum of settlement which has been annexed to the joint petition and prayed for an award accordingly. I have gone through the terms of settlement contained in the memorandum which was signed by the representatives of both parties on 26th February 1963. The first part of the agreement does not relate to the dispute under reference. So, I leave it out of consideration. The second part of the agreement relates to the dispute under reference. It was in connection with the suspension of Shri S. K. Basu without wages for more than a month from 20th February 1962. The Company agreed to pay to Shri S. K. Basu the wages for the period of suspension amounting to Rs. 148.25 nP. On that agreement by the Company the Union was satisfied and agreed not to proceed with the dispute any further. The aforesaid terms of settlement appear to me fair and reasonable. So, I accept them and give an award on compromise in terms thereof. The memorandum of settlement, dated 26th February 1963 and the joint petition of the parties, dated 23rd May 1963, do form parts of the compromise award as annexures 'A' and 'B' thereto.

This is my award.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Majid Manjhi is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

AWARD

After service of notices of the reference upon the parties, they appeared and filed their written statements. After preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 24th May 1963. On that date the parties filed a joint petition of compromise setting out the terms upon which the dispute had been amicably settled between them and praying for a compromise award according to the terms of the joint petition.

I have considered the terms of settlement. These appear to be quite fair and reasonable. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties in terms of the joint petition. Accordingly I would make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties on 24th May 1963, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an annexure.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. The Calcutta Bullion Association, 68 Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh, 90 Lower Chitpur Road, Calcutta-7. (Case No. 168 of 1962.)

Present for the Association: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4383-I.R.|IR|11L-137|62, dated the 27th September 1962, for adjudication on the issue named below.

Issue

Whether the non-employment of the following retrenched employees is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

1. Shri Sachhidanand Pandey.
2. Shri Keshari Dubey.
3. Shri Jagannath Dubey.
4. Shri Lakshman Mondal.
5. Shri Ganesh Ram.
6. Shri Somenath Ram.
7. Shri Somaru Ram.
8. Shri Shew Govind Ram.
9. Shri Rampalat Ram.

The Union's case as made out in its written statement is this: The Calcutta Bullion Association had in all 14 employees under it, whose period of services varied from 10 to 32 years. For ameliorating the conditions of service they formed the Union named Barabazar Jamadar Sangh. In September 1958 there was a reference to the Second Labour Court of Calcutta for determination of four issues including the issue whether the then proposed retrenchment of the 14 employees was justified. The Association moved the Hon'ble Calcutta High Court under Article 226 of the Indian Constitution, and a Rule was issued in September 1959. During the pendency of that Rule, the Association came to an amicable settlement on the 7th June 1960, it having agreed amongst other things that the issue about the proposed retrenchment would not be pressed. Accordingly the said proceedings came to an end. It was understood that the Association would give suitable increments of wages to its employees. As the Association did not keep its promise in spite of repeated requests, the Union placed a charter of demands on the 26th September 1961, and requested the Labour Commissioner for intervention. Conciliation proceedings were started and 7th October 1961 was fixed for a joint conference. But on the 30th September 1961 the Association issued notices to 11 employees out of a total of 12 employees to discharge them with effect from the 1st of November 1961 on ground of financial difficulties and reorganisation. The Union challenged the bona fides and legality of the said notice, dated 28th September 1961. The matter was brought to the notice of the Labour Commissioner. While conciliation proceedings remained pending, the Association terminated the services of the workmen without taking permission from the Conciliation Officer. Being aggrieved, the Union moved the Hon'ble High Court of Calcutta and obtained a Rule under Article 226 of the Constitution of India, and a stay order was issued for not giving effect to the notice of 28th September 1961. The workmen continued to work by virtue of the stay order, and the Association ran smoothly, all its employees being occupied in their respective jobs till 3rd April 1962. But the Association did not pay wages to the concerned workmen from 1st November 1961 to 3rd April 1962 including payment for two days' extra wages on the eve of Dewali Festival. The said Rule was discharged in the 1st week of April 1962 with the observation that the Conciliation Officer should make report on the conciliation proceedings, and then the State Government would decide whether to make a reference or not. The Conciliation Officer held conferences and tried to settle dispute, but all its attempts failed due to the employer's adamant attitude. The employer declared about the time that in view of the discharge of the Rule the employees concerned should not come to the office and work there any more. On 12th April 1962, the Association issued a notice to the concerned workmen stating inter alia that the workmen would not get retrenchment compensations which, however, were offered later on. The Union challenged the notice, dated 12th April 1962, before the Conciliation Officer. In the meantime the Association was never closed. The management recruited new hands and has been running the office in gross violation of the Statutory provision. This was also brought to the notice of the Labour Minister. On 12th February 1962 a joint conference was held before the Deputy Secretary of the Labour Department where the normal workings of the Association had been admitted by the Association's representative, and there was no closure. Retrenchment compensations were received in June 1962 under protest and without prejudice. Last of all, the Association re-employed five of the retrenched employees including three covered by the present issue in violation of the Statutory provision. One Debi Prosad Jhun Jhunwala was retaken in preference to Sachhidanand Pandey (serial 1) who had put in more years of service than the former. There had occurred similar other incidents as well. Keshari Dubey (serial 2 in the issue) has been taken in service very recently and Somaru Ram, alias Somani Ram, and Shew Govind Ram (serials 7 and 8 in the issue) have been retaken in the month of November 1962. The action of the Association in non-employing the retrenched employees mentioned in the order of reference is wholly illegal and mala fide, and is an instance of unfair labour practice, being actuated by an ulterior motive of obliterating the Union. In effecting the retrenchment the provisions of section 25F have not been followed. The second notice, dated 12th April 1962, is an after-thought and cannot validate the first notice, dated 28th September 1961. The normal work of the Association is being carried on from day to day with the help of some new and some old staff. There was no justifiable ground for retrenching the concerned workmen. The management has shown discrimination in giving employment to a few retrenched workmen out of a total of 11 persons. On these allegations the Union has prayed for reinstatement of the concerned employees with full back wages and allowances for the period of forced unemployment from 1st November 1961 till the date of actual reinstatement, along with other dues.

Briefly speaking, the case of the Association as per its written statement is this: The reference is bad in law as the Association has the fundamental right to employ any workman of its choice on restarting the Association after closure. Most of the averments in the Union's written statement are irrelevant altogether. For difficulties in ragard to finance, etc., the Association proposed to retrench all the 14 employees in its employment about the relevant time, but the Union got a reference to stop that retrenchment for the purpose of harassment of the Association. That dispute was amicably settled. The allegation of assurance for giving increments of wages is untrue. While the Association was contemplating to close its business and terminate the services of all its workmen, the Union placed a fantastic demand chart in a mala fide manner. The story that 11 employees out of a total of 12 were served with notice is equally untrue. All the 12 workmen in the employment of the Association at the relevant time were served with one month's terminating notice amounting to colsure of the Association. That notice was quite valid, legal and bona fide, and was further clarified by the subsequent notice, dated 12th April 1962. It is true that the Union had in the meantime obtained a Rule and Stay Order from the Hon'ble High Court of Calcutta. The employees being misguided by the Union were forcibly attending the Association even after 31st October 1961, against the wishes of the management. Necessarily the Association was not liable to pay any wages for the period of such forceful attendance in the office. After the discharge of the Rule by the Hon'ble High Court, the Association served notice on 12th April 1962 as per section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act to all its employees on account of closure. In regard to the dispute in the matter of payment of benefits, the employees were paid all the benefits in full and final satisfaction for claims payable for closure. It is absolutely false that the Association was never closed. In fact this closure was accepted and acted upon by the employees concerned. The services of all the employees were terminated on account of closure under section 25FFF, and it was not retrenchment. Hence the principles of section 25F, 25G and 25H did not apply in this case. While restarting its works the Association engaged employees mostly out of those who had previously worked, though it had no obligation like that. Some of the persons covered by the present reference are working now in the Association after the restart of works. For all these reasons, the concerned workmen are not entitled to any benefit by way of reinstatement or compensation or otherwise.

Decision

The issue for determination is "whether the non-employment of the following retrenched employees is justified." These retrenched employees are nine in number as specifically named in the order of reference.

In the written statment of the Union, and at the time of hearing of the case and argument on behalf of it, questions have been raised as respects the validity and propriety of the retrenchment. The case of the Association all through is that the retrenchment has been an accepted fact and cannot be challenged now in the present case, and also that in reality there was closure of the Association's business for which there was termination of services of these workmen. The Union denies and challenges the story of closure as spoken of by the Association.

The undisputed fact is that previously the Association refused to grant some relief demanded by the Union and threatened or proposed to retrench its employees. Next, a reference was made to the Second Labour Court for adjudication upon the then issues including the question of justification or otherwise of the proposed retrenchment. At the instance of the Association the Hon'ble High Court issued a Rule in September 1959. During the pendency of that matter, the parties came to a settlement, it being agreed by the Association that the issue relating to then proposed retrenchment would not be pressed. Next, another charter of demands was placed by the Union before the Association and the latter by a notice, dated 28th September 1961, stated that on financial grounds the services of the employees would be terminated with effect from 1st November 1961. That was only two days after the submission of the last charter of demands. On getting that notice the Union got a stay order from the Hon'ble High Court by moving a petition under Article 226 of the Indian Constitution. That stay order, however, was vacated and the Rule discharged in the first week of April 1962. Then conciliation proceedings began, but failed on 10th April 1962, and there were two reports—one on that date and the other on 30th April 1962. Meanwhile, on 12th April 1962 the Association issued second notice ratifying the earlier notice, dated 28th September 1961, terminating the employees' services on account of closure, and the employees were asked to collect their dues and compensations for their services up to 31st October 1961.

In the earlier notice, dated 28th September 1961 (Ext. 18), there was no mention of closure. By that notice the Association gave the employees one month's time after 31st October 1961 on the ground that the Association's work was being conducted in deficits and the conditions deteriorated to such a state that the Association was not in a position to work further, and it was necessary for making reorganisation and, if possible, to make arrangement to run the work according to its finances. So the notice did not make out any case of closure as such. Though the second notice of 12th April 1962 referred to the earlier notice and stated that the earlier notice was given for termination of services amounting to closure, it cannot be considered to be a confirmatory or ratifying notice making out a case of closure by virtue of earlier notice with effect from 1st November 1961. Besides, while the Association's contention now is that the retrenchment is an accepted fact, the Association cannot turn back and make one a case of closure on the strength of notice of 28th September 1961, though there might have been closure, whole or partial, subsequent to the second notice of 12th April 1962, and not by that particular notice. This matter would further be considered later on in due course. The Union tries to deny or challenge the Association's case that the retrenchment was an accepted fact. I do not think the Union can succeed in regard to this particular contention. The issue itself suggests the acceptance of the retrenchment as a fact by the Union. The issue is not for justifiability of the retrenchment itself, but for justifiability or non-employment of the retrenched employees. According to the Union, as argued before me, the word "retrenched" occurring before the word "employees" in the issue, is only descriptive and "non-employment" of the specified person in non-employment by way of retrenchment which, according to the Union, is illegal and void being in violation of the provision of section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. In view of the very framing of the issue itself, I do not think that the Union can be allowed to raise any question against the validity or justification of the retrenchment. On 15th February 1963 while passing orders on the Union's petition for production of certain documents, I observed on hearing both parties' argument on the subject of production of documents thus:

> "The issue is whether the non-employment of retrenched employees named therein is justified. Thus the retrenchment is an accepted fact, and there is no question as to validity of retrenchment. The question of employment of retrenched employees arises after retrenchment is effected. Thus the only point is as to applicability of section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act....."

Even at present I do not find anything to differ from what I already expressed in my order No. 11, dated 15th February 1963. I cannot consider the question of propriety or otherwise of the question of retrenchment as this point was not referred to me for adjudication. Under section 10(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, I am to confine my adjudication to the point specified in the issue, and matters incidental thereto. The specific point of dispute for adjudication as per issue itself is the question of justifiability of non-employment of the retrenched men. Here the question of justifiability of the retrenchment itself is not a mere incidental matter, and is an accepted fact. In some of the Union's correspondences it appears to have been urged that on account of employment of some old and new hands, the Association violated the provision of the Industrial Disputes Act, viz., section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act. Instances of such violation have been given in the Union's written statement and correspondences, particularly the letter Ext. 7, dated 25th April 1962. From all these things it is quite clear that the real bone of contention is not the justifiability and validity of the retrenchment, but non-employment of the retrenched employees. The Union's contention that the non-employment was by way of retrenchment is far from acceptable.

Regarding the alleged closure, as the case of the Association is, the facts and circumstances disclosed do not dispose me to believe the story of closure, up to 12th April 1962 at least. According to the Union there could not be any closure as compensations were offered by the Association. According to the Association, however, the closure was effected and compensations offered and paid under section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act. This section would have application in case of total or full closure. O.P.W. 1, Seth Bhagwandas Jhun Jhunwala, Honorary Secretary of the Association, stated in his evidence that the works of the Association were closed for about four months, and were restarted in December last. If that be so, then the closure would not have occurred before August 1962. This witness of the Association has proved a notice dated 15th January 1963 (Ext. D) whereby the Association declared complete closure in corformity with the ban imposed by the Central Government. There was, according to this witness, no notice of closure prior to Ext. C. In the circumstances, therefore, if there was any closure at any time, it could not have been real or valid closure before the giving of this notice, dated 15th January 1963 (Ext. C). This witness, and the Manager named Shri Suryanath Misra (O.P.W. 2) are still in service of the Association. That being so, there could not be complete closure. So section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act would not be applicable, and compensations paid for termination of services were for retrenchment within the meaning of section 25F of the Act. It might be that the compensations were paid in beween April and June 1962 (vide receipts, Ext. A series), i.e., long after the termination of services, i.e., retrenchment, and that proper notice does not appear to have been given to the appropriate Government under section 25F(c) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Still I am unable to enter into the question of validity or otherwise of the retrenchment for reasons already stated.

From what has been discussed and found above, the question now to be considered is whether there was non-employment of the concerned workmen in violation of the provision of the Industrial Disputes Act, viz., section 25H. In paragraphs 28 and 29 of the Union's written statement, it is stated that five retrenched employees (including three concerned workmen) were retaken by the Association, but the sequence of seniority has not been observed and this is in violation of section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act. From these averments it would appear that Kesori Dubey, Somaru Ram and Shew Govind Ram (serials 2, 7 and 8) were retaken. From evidence also it appears that the Association's witnesses were retaken or retained. Though P.W. 1 Sachhidanand Pandey (serial 1) and Debi Prosad Jhun Jhunwala are clerks, the latter draws Rs. 205 per month, whereas the former drew only Rs. 170 per month, and is senior by seven years. It is obvious that the status of Jhun Jhunwala must be somewhat higher than that of Pandey. Besides, in the matter of re-employment after retrenchment, the maintenance of the order of seniority may not be compulsory. It is in evidence even on the side of the Association that some new hands were employed. Explanation has been offered that they were temporarily appointed, one or two as Durwan, and one as a water carrier. Whatever that may be, offer should have been given to the retrenched employees before absolutely new hands were employed. In spite of this drawback on the part of the Association, and even if it be at all taken that the claim of Shri Pandey has been unjustly ignored, still as circumstances now stand, there is no scope for reinstatement of the concerned employees other than serials 2, 7 and 8 (who have been retaken) inasmuch as there has been complete closure of the business of the Association on account of ban imposed by the Government of India, although the office is said to have been kept open.

It is also the case of the Union that on account of the Stay Order passed by the Hon'ble High Court on the Union's petition subsequent to the Association's notice, dated 28th September 1961, the concerned workmen continued to work as usual till the Rule was discharged and the Stay Order vacated in the first week of April 1962. The Union has claimed back wages for this working period for the sake of these concerned workmen. The Association has in its written statement and in argument advanced on its behalf, tried to make out imcompatible or contradictory cases. In paragraph 9 of the written statement of the Association it is stated that the employees being misguided by the Union forcibly attended the Association after 31st October 1961 against the wishes of the management which, accordingly, was not liable to pay wages to them for the period of their forceful attendance. The Association has put in receipts to show payments of retrenchment compensations and some other payments. The contention for the Association is that the dues for the aforesaid period, if any, were all paid up by these receipts. These receipts (Ext. A series) show payments of compensation under section 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act, in full and final satisfaction of all claims including wages for employment up to 31st October 1961. This is one type of receipts. The other type is to the effect that monies were paid as gratuitious payments in consideration of occasional services rendered in full and final satisfaction of all claims, there being a statement in the receipts of this kind that the recipients would have no claim for employment and compensation in any manner. Even if these receipts are accepted wholly, they do not show convincingly that the concerned workmen were paid wages for their works done since the Stay Order till it was vacated. The gratuitious payments, if any were certainly not for duties or works actually done by the concerned workmen during that particular period. In paragraph 12(a) of the Association's written statement, it was clearly stated that at the intervention of the Labour Directorate all the employees received benefits as per sections 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act, read with section 25F, and the employees voluntarily executed 2 types of receipts. So it goes without saying that these receipts do not prove payment of wages for works done during the aforesaid period. Nor can the receipts of the second type be taken as agreement of disclaimer. Consequently the concerned workmen are entitled to get these wages for this particular period. In view of the above findings I come to the conclusion and hold that the claim for reinstatement of the concerned employees does not hold good and is hereby rejected, but that they shall get wages for works done by them for the period from 1st November 1961 to 3rd April 1962. The Association is directed to make this payment within 15 days from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

Award is passed accordingly.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. National Company Limited, Sankrail, Howrah, and their workmen represented by (1) Rajgange Chatkal Mazdoor Union, P.O. BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. PAL, Judge.

Appearances:

For the Company: Shri Harisingani, Labour Officer.

For the Unions: None.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, of 1947 by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1456-I.R.|IR|7L-14|63, dated 6th April 1963, for adjudication upon the issue, namely,—

Is the strike of the workers justified?

Presumably the present dispute has been raised at the instance of the Company named Messrs. National Company Ltd., against their workmen represented by two Unions namely, (1) Rajgange Chatkal Mazdoor Union and (2) National Union of Jute Workers. Along with the reference Government also sent an order under section 10(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, prohibiting the continuance of any strike or lock-out in connection with the dispute which might be in existence on the date of reference.

On receipt of the present reference regular notices were issued to the Company and the two Unions, fixing 4th May 1963 for appearances and for filing written statements. On that date the Company was present, not the Unions. Notice issued to the National Union of Jute Workers was duly served. The postal acknowledgment of the notice issued to the other union was not received in due time. On 22nd May 1963, a petition of compromise reached between the parties was filed by the Company whose representative was present and heard. The terms of compromise were perused. Representatives of all the parties concerned duly signed in the compromise petition. It appears to be a genuine compromise, the terms whereof are accepted as being fair and reasonable. The strike in question is said to have ended in the afternoon of 8th April 1963 and normal works were resumed since then. So there is nothing left to be adjudicated upon, in view of the stipulations contained in the petition of compromise. Accordingly, I pass a compromise award as prayed for. The petition of compromise shall be made an annexure to this award.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. C. PAL, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Union: Shri N. N. Gupta, Counsel.

Present for the Employer: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 7025-I.R.|IR|11L-429|62, dated the 14th December 1962, referred this dispute to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947 for adjudication on the issue, viz.—

Is the termination of service of Shri Kanan Chandra Jana justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The Union's case is this: The workman concerned, Shri Kanan Jana, was working under the employer Messrs. Shilpayanee Ltd. (Amtala Talkies) for about five years on a very poor pay. He prayed for a wage increase in May 1961. The employer, instead of granting the prayer of this poor and deserving operator, terminated his services with effect from the month of July 1961 without showing any reason for such a drastic and unfair measure. The employer posed that Shri Jana's services were not necessary, though from the standpoint of Cinematograph Rules and Shop and Establishment Act, an employer could not run shows without keeping at least four operators in its employment. After dispensing with Shri Jana's services the employer illegally gave employment to one Ranjit Roychoudhuri in the vacancy caused by their wrongful action in terminating Shri Jana's services. By its own action the Company proved the falsity and illegality of the stand taken by it. The facts revealed that it unjustly and illegally victimised the old employee on false plea. At one stage the Company agreed to take him back, and the conciliation officer also clearly advised the employer to reinstate Shri Jana. The Union, therefore, prays for reinstatement of the concerned workman (operator) with full back wages, due increments and other benefits.

The employer's written statement is to the following effect: The reference is bad as the present dispute has not been raised against the Amtala Talkies which is the industry concerned. The allegations contained in the written statement of the Union are incorrect and baseless. Shri Jana was not a worker but he was merely a learner. He approached the management for learning operating works so as to be able to secure a license from the Government. Accordingly he was allowed to get training as a learner for securing necessary license, without any remuneration and allowance. After some time he prayed on 26th March 1955 by a petition for some allowance by way of help. Though not entitled to such allowance, the management was generous enough to give him a pocket allowance of Rs 10 per month on and from 1st April 1955, which amount was subsequently raised to Rs 15 at his request.. On a further prayer for increase of allowance, the management had, out of pity, increased the allowance by Rs 10 per month. On 3rd April 1961 he submitted a petition informing the management that after the necessary training as a learner he had secured a license, and prayed for increase of allowance. His purpose and object of staying in the Company having come to an end he should have left the Company of his own accord. Under the Government orders an employer is to employ three licensed operators. The management has already got three licensed operators and does not require any more licensed operator. So in reply to Shri Jana's letter, dated 3rd April 1961, he was informed in writing on 1st May 1961 that he was no longer required by the management. Regarding employment of Ranjit Roychoudhuri, it is said, he has been appointed as a helper to the operators as before and never does he belong to the category of a learner or a licensed operator. So his appointment has no concern whatsoever with the termination of Shri Jana's training. The management acted bona fide and justifiably in terminating the learner-apprenticeship of Shri Jana after he had obtained an operator's license for which purpose he joined the employer's service as a learner. During the conciliation proceedings the management made a bona fide jesture that in case of vacancy in the posts of licensed operators, Shri Jana's case for employment would be considered.

First of all I take up the question of legal objection raised on behalf of the employer. The present dispute has been raised against Messrs. Silpayanee Ltd., Amtala. The objection taken on behalf of the employer is that "Amtala Talkies" is the industry concerned. But as the dispute has not been raised against this particular industry, the present reference of dispute against Silpayanee Ltd. is untenable and bad in law. On 22nd June 1962, Kanan Jana wrote to the Labour Officer by raising the present dispute in regard to the Amtala Talkies (vide Ext. 2). Exhibit 5 is the Union Secretary's letter, dated 16th October 1962, to the Labour Officer in regard to the dispute against Amtala Talkies. Exhibit 6, dated 23rd November 1961, is a similar letter of the Union Secretary to the Labour Commissioner. From all these things, and with reference to Annexures A, B and C to the Union's written statement, Shri Das Gupta has advanced his argument that the dispute is in reality against the Amtala Talkies, the industry concerned. Shri Gupta, for the Union, contends that the Amtala Talkies is a more good-will name, a name of the business carried on by the owner, viz., Silpayanee Ltd. Company. According to him, the Amtala Talkies has no legal standing whereas the limited Company itself is responsible, having all the rights and obligations. The employer's license (Ext. E) shows that the license has been granted to Messrs. Silpayanee Ltd., and would remain in force so long as the said Messrs. Silpayanee Ltd. own, lease or manage the said Amtala Talkies. Thus the license stands in the name of the limited Company for works and management in the name of Amtala Talkies. The employer's Chief Operator (P.W. 1) says that Silpayanee Ltd., is the owner of the cinema show business styled as Amtala Talkies. O.P.W. 1 Krishna Chandra Jana, the Managing Director of the Silpayanee Ltd. has admitted that the Amtala Talkies is the name of the business under the Silpayanee Ltd. and that this limited Company is the owner of this particular business. That being so, the dispute against the owner is quite proper and valid and the objection on behalf of the employer is quite unsubstantial. Accordingly, this preliminary objection fails, and is hereby rejected.

Regarding the merits of the case, however, I do not think the Union has been able to establish any substantial case in its favour. There are a few letters of Kanan Jana to the Managing Director which disclose that he had been working as a learner-apprentice operator under the Company and ultimately obtained a license of an operator. In the Company's letter, dated 1st May 1961, referring to Shri Jana's application, dated 3rd April 1961, for increment of wages, he was informed that he came to learn cinema operating in the Company, and that it was reported that he had obtained a cinema operating license, that there were three licensed operators in the Company, and that Shri Jana should seek job elsewhere. That letter also stated that Shri Jana's service as an apprentice-operator was no more required from 1st July 1961. The oral evidence on the side of the Union as given by Shri Jana, and the Chief Operator is that the former worked for 3|4 months as an operator after getting his operating license. The Company means to deny Shri Jana's work in the capacity of an operator as such. Even if it be taken at all that Shri Jana worked for a few months after securing his license, the question is whether there is anything to show that the Company is bound to retain or employ him as an extra or the fourth operator. Shri Gupta's contention on behalf of the Union is that the Company was under the law bound to keep 4 operators, not less. Even if this contention be at all correct, still the point is whether the Company is in any way obliged to keep or employ Shri Jana as the fourth licensed operator, it having already 3 licensed operators in its employ. There is no contract or agreement to compel the Company in this respect. Clause 45 of the Company's license (Ext. W) stipulates that not less than two nor more than three operators, duly certified and holding certificates valid for the time being, shall be permitted in the operating room at any time for the purpose of operating the cinematograph machines, and no other persons shall be within 10 feet of the machine during the exhibition. This clause also enumerates the specific duties to be performed by the operators. According to this clause the Company is to maintain not less than two and not more than three licensed operators. Shri Gupta in his turn referred me to the new Rule 45 of the West Bengal Cinemas (Regulation of Public Exhibitions) Rules, 1956, as modified up to 1st August 1962. This Rule also mentions maintenance of three operators for doing their specific duties mentioned in the Rule during the show hours, and stipulates that in appropriate exceptional case, there may be only two operators, but not less than two in the operating room for the purpose of operating cinematograph machine at any time. This Rule does not require that the Cinema Company has got to employ more than three operators. The Company may, as in the present case, employ a helper or assistant just as Shri Jana was a helper or assistant trainee before he obtained his license. Even if he was retained for 3|4 months after he had got license of an operator, that must have been to give him facility to gather experience by actual practice. There do not appear to be any compelling circumstances whereby the Company can be made bound to employ Shri Jana as the fourth licensed operator. The Union has raised a plea of unfair labour practice on the part of the Company in this that it has employed a new helper by terminating the services of Shri Jana. From what I have discussedd and found above, this contention does not hold good at all.

In view of the above findings, the Union's case fails and is hereby rejected.

Award is passed accordingly.

(2) Particulars and certificates required.—Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:—

(3) Fee.— Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5 in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER OF POLICE, CALCUTTA

NOTIFICATION

No. 23(PRC/Ch.111).—14th June 1963.—In exercise of the powers conferred on me by section 3 of the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act II of 1866), and section 9 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act IV of 1866), I, S. M. Ghosh, Commissioner of Police, Calcutta, hereby frame the following police regulations, with the approval of the State Government:—

Supervision of cases by Deputy Commissioners and others

1. (a) A Deputy Commissioner shall supervise the investigation of important special report cases, cases in which the conduct of Police officers working under him appears unsatisfactory and cases in which communal feelings have been or/are likely to be aroused.

(b) An Assistant Commissioner shall supervise every important case within his subdivision and he shall visit the place of occurrence and test the evidence in every such case. Similarly, important traffic cases are to be supervised by the Assistant Commissioner, Traffic Police, in charge of investigation.

Duty of Deputy Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners in prosecution of cases

2. Deputy Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners shall take keen and active interest in the prosecution of cases of all kinds and shall carefully discuss important cases, particularly, cases triable by courts of session, with the investigating officers and may obtain the opinion of the Public Prosecutor or Police Prosecutor.

Important cases

3. The expression 'Important Case' in these rules includes any case relating to an alleged offence—

(i) which is a special report case (vide regulation 6);

(ii) which is likely to lead to a breach of the peace or to other offences, e.g., a riot, not in itself important, but likely to provoke reprisals;

(iii) in which persons of importance are involved;

(iv) which is of an unusual or striking nature either in itself or because of its modus operandi; or

(v) in which a Police officer is involved; and any case of a class which has been declared in writing by a superior officer to be important.

Duties of departmental and subdivisional Assistant Commissioners

4. An Assistant Commissioner is, subject to the control of the Deputy Commissioner, responsible for the supervision, control and general efficiency of the work and functions, both executive and administrative, entrusted to his charge. He is responsible for all matters relating to the discipline and efficiency of the force directly under him and is expected to be in close touch with the condition of work within his charge and be accessible to the members of the public at all times. With the written permission of the Commissioner an Assistant Commissioner may, under the control of the Deputy Commissioner and subject to any written order recorded by him which does not conflict with any law or rule in force, perform any of the duties of the Deputy Commissioner under the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866, or under any rule or order made or approved by the State Government under those Acts. The object for which Assistant Commissioners are appointed is to give the Deputy Commissioner as much relief as possible. They should not be employed only for routine work in the Deputy Commissioner's office; they should, in addition, be used freely, under the Deputy Commissioner's direction, for the performance of any of the duties of the Deputy Commissioner which the Deputy Commissioner thinks necessary. The Deputy Commissioner shall define clearly in a divisional or departmental order duly approved by the Commissioner the duties which the Assistant Commissioners shall perform and the sphere of action, if any, allotted to them.

(f) The Deputy Commissioners, Special Branch, Detective Department, Security Control and Enforcement Branch, shall inspect their offices and respective Reserve Offices once a year. No hard and fast rule can be laid down for these organisations. Here also the Deputy Commissioners shall inspect Reserve Office with a view to satisfy themselves that there is no waste of manpower and that officers and men are being properly deployed and utilised for the performance of duties for which they are meant.

(g) The Deputy Commissioners in charge of Armed Police Battalions, shall inspect their Reserve Offices as well as each of the Companies once a year.
